THE KITSON SHOP BY THE DEMOCRATS JUMPED THREE STORIES

Cheerful Signs of Improvement There

Business has so improved with the Kitson Machine company that it switched from a four to a five days a week schedule. The change was made this week, the shop having been running but four days a week for the last three months. Asked if the change would be permanent, one in authority at the shop said: "We hope that it will, but there's nothing certain about it. We are rushed just at this time because there are a number of orders on hand that must be gotten out at once. We are optimistic, however, and hope that we will be able to continue at five days a week until the time comes when we will run the full week schedule."

LIQUOR CASES

Many Disposed of in Police Court

TWO FINES OF $150 EACH

Whiskey Profits Will go to the County

Nearly the entire session of the police court today was devoted to the hearing of cases of illegal keeping and selling of liquor and some heavy fines were imposed.

John Hanna, Michael Assell and James Petros were charged with both keeping and selling, and being found guilty were fined $150 each.

Daniel J. Donahue appeared for Petros and the two other defendants were represented by Dennis J. Murphy.

Inspector Atkinson of the liquor squad was the first witness called for the government. He said he knew James Petros and that the latter keeps a pool room at 24 Adams street. On the night of July 24, about 11.15 o'clock, inspectors Atkinson and Dwyer and Patrolmen John J. Donovan and O'Sullivan met in Rock street.

O'Sullivan was searched and then went over to Petros' store. He entered the store and later witness, Inspector Dwyer and Patrolman Donovan went in after him. Witness stopped Patrolman O'Sullivan, and searching him found a half pint bottle of whiskey in one of his pockets. O'Sullivan said he had purchased the liquor from Hanna and Hanna acknowledged he had made the sale.

Patrolman Donovan went behind the cigar counter and opening a drawer, found a half-pint bottle of whiskey which Petros said belonged to him, he having purchased it for his own use. Inspector Atkinson then went upstairs to a three room tenement and in one of the rooms found 16 half pint bottles of whiskey under a bed. Witness asked Petros who owned the liquor and the latter said he did not know the first thing about it.

Cross-examined by Lawyer Donahue, Inspector Atkinson testified that he passed the store in question on an average of three or four times a week and never heard of any liquor being sold there, neither had he ever seen any liquor sold nor seen any intoxicated person about the premises. Witness visited the place on June 23, but saw no signs of keeping or sale of liquor on that date.

Inspector Philip Dwyer was called, but he did not testify as counsel for the defense agreed that his testimony would be practically the same as that offered by Inspector Atkinson.

Patrolman O'Sullivan testified that he went to Petros' store on Sunday, June 23, and entering the store asked Petros if he had any whiskey. Petros said, "that man (pointing to Assell) will get it for you."

Witness then followed Assell through a rear door and was given half a pint of whiskey for which he paid 25 cents. Witness also testified that on the night of May 30th, about 3.30 o'clock, he went to Petros' store and purchased a half pint of whiskey from Hanna.

Lawyer Donahue started to cross-examine witness in a very rigid manner as to how he remembered the dates on which he called at Petros' store. When asked what kind of a day May 30th was, witness said it was a pleasant day, but later acknowledged that it was a stormy day.

Witness said that on none of the occasions when he called at the store, did Petros sell him any liquor. He acknowledged that on the night of July 24, when he called and asked Petros for whiskey, that the latter made no answer to the question, but simply walked out of the store into the street.

Patrolman John J. Donovan, who patrols the beat in the vicinity of Petros' store, was called. He said that Hanna has been hanging around the premises for five or six weeks and Assell for two or three weeks.

The government rested its case at this point.

Michael Assell, one of the defendants, was called and said he resided at 21 Suffolk street. He never saw either Patrolman Donovan, or O'Sullivan and never sold any liquor to the latter.

James Petros, another of the defendants, testified he never sold any liquor, neither did he ever keep any liquor on his premises. He said the half pint of whiskey the officers found in the drawer in the store was for his own personal use as he expected to work all night.

Hanna, the third defendant, was not placed on the stand to testify.

After summing up the evidence in the case all three defendants were found guilty of illegal sale and fined $50. They were also found guilty of illegal keeping and fined $100 each. They appeared and each was held under $500 bonds for the superior court.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Thomas Carroll, an old offender, was charged with being drunk. He entered a plea of not guilty, but after the arresting officer testified the court found him guilty. The officer said Carroll was intoxicated and lying on the grass on the North common. He informed the officer that he had no home and the officer placed him under arrest. It was Carroll's fourth offense and he was also under a suspended sentence of four months in jail. The suspension was revoked and Carroll was committed to jail.

SENT TO REFORMATORY.

Alphonse Lantime was charged with the larceny of $3 in money the property of Frederick Nichols. He was found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

James Andrew was charged with drunkenness. Patrolman Bigelow said that the prisoner was very disorderly and troublesome when intoxicated. Andrew was fined $9 for being drunk and placed under $50 bonds to keep the peace for six months.

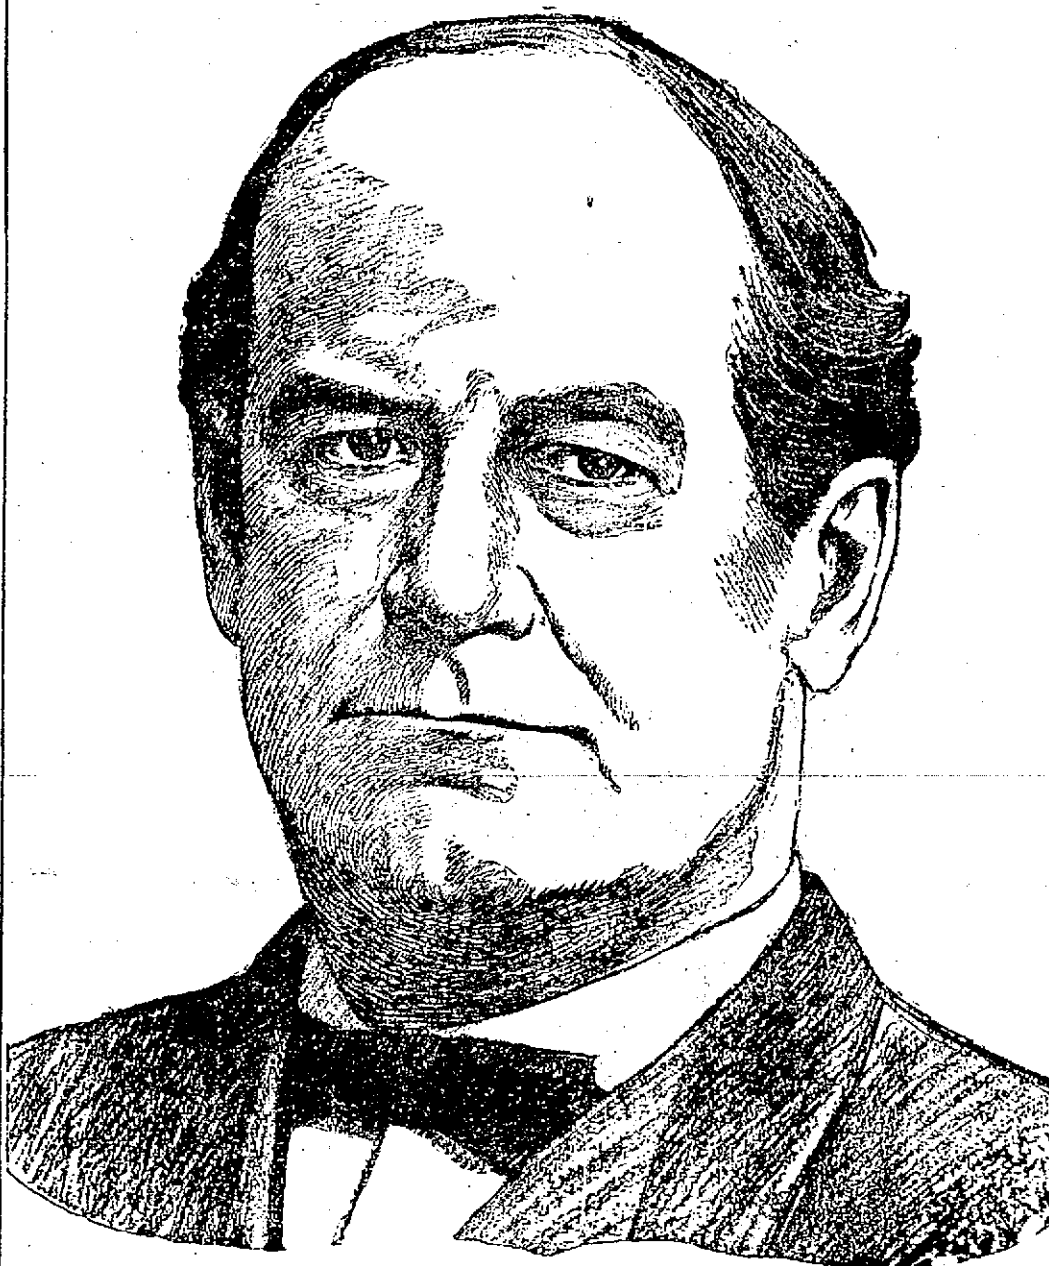

Michael Burton, a second offender, was fined $5.

There was one drunk and two simple offenders were released.

HON. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The Nebraskan Received 892 1-2 Votes on the First and Only Ballot

DENVER, Colo., July 10.—William Jennings Bryan, nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the democratic national convention at 3.40 a. m. this morning amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all-night session which was kept in a constant state of turmoil up to the culminating moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention as the democratic standard bearer.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing:

William J. Bryan, 892 1-2; Gov. Johnson, 46; Judge Gray, 59 1-2.

The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equalling in turbulence if not in duration the record-breaking display which on Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Mr. Bryan's name in the convention. The scene within the convention hall at the moment of the nomination was made up of one of stirring animation. From pit to dome the vast building was packed with ten thousand people lined out in the remotest galleries after hours of waiting and intense discomfort of a hot night. It was a spectacle of grand proportions, for on tier and gallery on gallery of excited forms, the women in white, the delegates dressed in black, many of them wearing a myriad of fans fluttering to combat the stifling heat and close atmosphere of the long, pent-up, exuberant multitude, ever ready to spring into feverish outbreaks of enthusiasm and everywhere the blaze of flags and hunting and patriotic devices and the enveloping folds of Old Glory. Twice before the throng had been moved into a mad ecstasy, first by his speech playing the name of Bryan in nomination and again when that of Gov. Johnson of Minnesota was presented, but these manifestations paled before the culminating outbursts of emotion.

BEDLAM OF SOUND.

As the announcement of the Nebraska leader's nomination was made the whole assembly rose en masse waving flags, handkerchiefs, newspapers, hats and coats, anything and everything which hands could lay upon to wave aloft or hurl into the air while a bedlam of sound poured out from the ten thousand throats in exultant yells, cat calls, Comanche war whoops with the added din of shrieking horns, the roar of megaphones and the strains of the band playing an exultant anthem.

When for a moment order could be secured out of this tempestuous chaos of demonstration, state after state which had at first recorded its vote for Johnson or Gray fell into line with the overwhelming edict and the nomination was made unanimous and by acclamation.

NEW YORK FOR BRYAN.

The taking of the vote had been followed by breathless interest as state after state swelled the Bryan strength. When New York was reached in the call of states the announcement of Chief Murphy's seventy-eight votes for Bryan brought out a wild outburst of enthusiasm which for a time completely suspended the roll call. A further delay was caused by a demonstration for a post of the New York delegation.

On this point many of the New York delegates including Judge Alton Parker, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the entire 78 votes of the delegation were cast for Bryan under the unit rule. Pennsylvania was similarly called after sharp disagreement within the delegation and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast was divided.

The convention adjourned at 3.50 o'clock this morning until 1 p. m., after having been in session continuously for more than 15 hours. As the delegates and spectators left the hall the echoes of enthusiasm continued to roar through the building while those outside took up the shout and here it along the silent streets awakening the city just as the first pale rays of dawn were breaking in the east with the resounding chorus of "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan."

It remains now only to nominate the candidate for vice-president and the work of the convention is concluded. This nomination will be made this afternoon.

Along with the intense interest of the night the delegates had little time to devote to the vice-presidential subject and the final canvass of the available names is being hurriedly made this morning. Most of the delegates were utterly weary after the long, nerve-racking sessions of the night and it was late today before the men of action began again to stir up the threads of discussion over the still rather chaotic situation.

Prior to the nomination scene in the hall when the nomination of Bryan was made, the assembly had listened for hours to the oratory of nominating speeches which moved them frequently to outbreaks of fresh enthusiasm. It had been expected that this platform would be ready for selection at 1 o'clock in the evening when the night session began. But at that hour the committee on resolutions was still struggling with plans relating to the currency, the tariff, the Mexican question and other important subjects. A continued to page three.

Insane Man Does a Remarkable Stunt

Landed on Concrete Walk and Than Ran Quarter of a Mile—Well Known Young Man Sent Away Today

Jean Madraso, aged 34 years, living in Dows' block, Back Central street, did a stunt last night shortly before midnight that would kill a man ordinarily.

Madraso is insane and his hallucination last night was that someone was trying to kill him. To escape from his imagined enemy, the unfortunate fellow jumped out of a three story window, landing on a concrete walk in the rear of the building.

Officer Hersey, who was nearby, heard the noise of his contact with the walk and ran over to the yard expecting to find the man unconscious if not dead. His surprise knew no bounds when upon entering the yard Madraso jumped up and rushed by him and up Central street, running like mad. Officer Hersey is considered one of the fast runners of the police department, but he had reached Hosford square before he captured the insane man. On the way to the police station Madraso, who speaks no English, held his spine and appeared in great distress.

This morning Officer Noye was called and conversed with him in Portuguese and Madraso claimed that his back was injured and that he was going to die. City Physician Smith was summoned and after examining Madraso said that no bones appeared to be broken though his back was probably badly injured and suggested his removal to the City hospital.

But through the workings of some new rule under which the hospital cannot accept a patient unless under a written order from the city physician the unfortunate man was allowed to lie suffering intensely in the detention room all morning.

Madraso spent the morning kneeling at the bed with his face buried in the bed clothing and both hands holding his back.

SENT TO DANVERS.

A particularly sad case of insanity which it is hoped is but temporary took the attention of Drs. Benner, Laughran and Carroll when a well known and popular young man was committed to Danvers by Judge Hadley on application of his wife, who has two small children to provide for. Having recently lost a considerable amount of money in the stock company, as the result of the removal of his firm from this city, the young man worried himself into a state of mental collapse and becoming violent last evening was taken to the police station and kept in the detention room. After the session of police court the young man was taken before the court and formally committed.

PARKS PARCHED HIS WILL FILED

Louise Lovering Gets Blackington Estate

Mayor Farnham rode about the city with Supt. Whitte of the park commission this forenoon and on his return to city hall the mayor said that if he was a real fervent, conscientious and consistent prayer he would ask for 15 hours of warm and steady rain. "The parks throughout the city," he said, "are as dry as a covered bridge and present that brown appearance that reminds one of a side of leather. Sun baths may agree with the Mazdazans, but too much sun and nothing to drink makes dry pastures and brown parks."

By the will of Daniel Blackington of Lowell, died at East Cambridge yesterday, Louise T. Lovering of Lowell is made the principal beneficiary. The condition imposed by testator was "that she shall take good care of me during the remainder of my life, giving her personal attention to my comfort as I may need it, whether in sickness or health. If she fails to do this, this legacy to become void."

The will gives to Arthur Bliss of Andover $500; to the three children of A. B. Bliss, Arthur, Nellie and Wilsey, $500, to be divided equally. The residue of the estate is given to Sarah W. Flagg of Arlington, to testator's sister, Eliza Blackington of North Cambridge, and to John B. Black of Arlington, to be divided equally.

Charles H. Conant and Louise T. Lovering are named as executors, and the will is dated April 20, 1908. The estate is valued at about $14,000.

MARRIED WOMEN

To be Barred From Teaching School

NEW YORK, July 10.—The board of education at its meeting yesterday decided to send a recommendation to the charter revision commission that married women teachers be barred from the public schools.

A part of the recommendation was that no married woman be engaged as teacher unless her husband was physically or mentally crippled; the other part was that if any woman teacher or principal becomes married she thereby loses her job in the school.

"The reasons for this are obvious," the report declared.

The committee in charge of revising salaries submitted its report, which was adopted. The increased pay means $2,000, $99 more a year. A woman teacher will start on $50 a year instead of $40. She will get an annual increase of $15 in total of $10. The salary of the men teachers was not increased.

Miss Mary Williams, the head cook of the public school culinary department, is to get $250 a year. One of the members of the board thought that she ought to get $300, which was the salary for "Doves."

was the salary fixed for the directors of music, physical culture and other branches. A vote was taken on it and the cook teacher was left at $250.

Another petition was received from East Side residents asking for the transfer of Miss Julia Richman, district superintendent, from districts 2 and 3 to some other part of the city.

A special committee on trade schools reported in favor of starting vacation schools or workshops in Manhattan and Brooklyn. It was recommended that public school 15 in Brooklyn be used as a workshop for girls and that public school 14 in Manhattan be converted into a workshop for boys. The report suggested that all boys more than 12 years old be required to make the workshop a part of their study.

One of the members asked if it was intended to compel a boy to take a course in the workshop whether he wanted to or not and without reference to the desires of the parents.

"That's just it," responded Mr. Condit for the committee. "The course is compulsory, because it is a good thing for the boy whether his father is a semi-millionaire or a mechanic. There is a public sentiment in favor of this industrial training and if you don't move with it, it will move without you."

The report was adopted. Henry W. Jameson was elected district superintendent for six years, at $500 a year.

An effort was made to have District Superintendent John L. Hunt succeed himself, but it didn't go. The election was adjourned to October.

Not a nine days' wonder, but a continuous success. "Doves" (parrots) and to get $250 a year. One of the members of the board thought that she ought to get $300, which was the salary for "Doves."

BAND CONCERT

On No. Common Drew Large Crowd

The municipal concert on the North Common by the Lowell Cadet band, John J. Giblin, leader, last evening was a big success, some 300 people enjoying the music and the cool evening. Every number was well received and in some cases encores were demanded. When the assignment of band concerts was made, every other band but the Cadet received two concerts while the Cadet got only one. The members declined to accept one if they couldn't have two and made a protest to Councilman George B. McKelvey, who interviewed Mayor Farnham in relation to the matter. The latter was afraid that there would not be money enough for another concert, but Councilman McKelvey suggested that as $3 was saved on the Fourth of July sales that amount could be transferred to the incidental fund, thus making a sufficient amount in the incidental fund to provide for the concert. This was done and the Cadet band will give two concerts, the first being that of last evening. Last night's program was started at 8 o'clock and lasted two hours. The next concert will be Sunday, July 12 at Vernon park, on Centralville hill. Last night's program was as follows:

March, Auditorium Laney Grand Selection from Lombardi Verdi Medley, Remick's Hits Lampe Concert Waltz, Loveland Holman Tone Poem, Apple Blossoms Roberts Preliminary, Harrison Cellan Selection from "The Red Mill" Herbert Popular Hits, The Ruler Whitcomb Selection, Irish Melodies Meyer Finale, Star Spangled Banner Key

JUDGE HADLEY

FINDS IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT.

Judge Hadley has found for the defendant in the case of Ann Ray against Della E. McKinnon, a suit to recover wages claimed to be due for services.

We needed the money and spot cash did the trick. This is to certify that J. E. Burdick of the Boughton Millinery store, 115 Merrimack street, has purchased from M. Steiger & Sons of New York 100 dozen of new summer, tan-colored hats at about one-fourth the regular wholesale price, and will put them on sale Thursday morning at the ridiculously low price of 25c, 35c, 45c. This is by far the best bargain ever offered by any millinery store in New England.

FALL RIVER MILLS CURTAIL

to Act

FALL RIVER, July 10.—There will be a large curtailment next week on account of the light call for goods. A number of the large corporations will shut down, and if present conditions a longer or shorter period.

continue, the number of mills stopped for the entire week will be large.

There are few orders in brokers' hands, but without exception they are at prices below recent quotations, and agents refuse to even consider them. The sales will be very small and the mills are accumulating stocks, and this will force curtailment from week to week.

Informal conferences have been held recently, when curtailment plans have been discussed, but it will not be possible to get any concerted agreement; each treasurer will follow his own ideas as to running, but it is probable that during the coming six weeks every mill in the city will be stopped for the entire week.

CRIPPLED BY DEAFNESS

Deafness is a serious disease for it always is a menace to life. Many a man has lost his life by railroad or other accident because of failure to hear warning signals.

In business life, the man or woman who is deaf labors under a severe handicap in the race of life. No employer wants a deaf employee for he is fearful of accidents, losses, etc., because of the possible misunderstanding of orders by the deaf man. The deaf man is as truly a cripple as though he lost his right hand.

If you are filling a minor position solely because you are deaf, come in to us. Let our expert specialists examine you. Let us help you to a restoration of your hearing and thus to a promotion in your business.

If you are risking your life every day because you are unable to hear signals let us cure you and make you as other people, able to take care of yourself and not depend on good luck for your life.

If you are denied the pleasure of church, theatre, or social intercourse, and as a result have become morose or surly, embittered or suspicious that people are talking about you, let us remove these unfortunate feelings, and restore to you once more your hearing and your happiness.

Mr. Rose's Testimony.

Mr. J. Rose, 103 Robinson St., Providence, R. I.
"I have no words strong enough to tell of the great skill shown by the specialists of Boston Clinic in my case, but I feel that it is my duty to let the public know about their skill. Those great doctors cured me of a frightful disease in which my sufferings were intense after all other doctors either gave me up as incurable or tried and did nothing for me.
"I am afraid to tell how many doctors I have been to for people might not believe me. Neither do I care to tell how many hundreds of dollars I have spent uselessly. All I care to say now, is that today I am thoroughly cured and I owe my health and strength to the great specialists of Boston Clinic."

BRYAN IS NOMINATED

committee, appointed by the convention to learn how soon the platform would be ready, reported that it would be ready before the document was ready for the consideration of the convention. Thereupon on motion of Congressman James of Kentucky the regular order of procedure was suspended and the convention proceeded to call the roll of states for nominations for the presidency with the understanding that the nominating and seconding speeches would be made without the final vote until the platform had been adopted.

At 9 o'clock the nominating speeches began and delegates and spectators were stirred with eager expectancy as the supreme and long deferred work of nominating the presidential candidate was begun. Alabama, the first state on the roll call, yielded to Nebraska, whose spokesman, the youthful Senator Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, advanced to the platform. He spoke in good voice, with great earnestness and to a sympathetic audience who greeted each utterance with tribute to the Nebraska leader with demonstrative evidence of approval. His concluding passage was a fervid tribute to the commoner as the irrepressible leader who had borne aloft the battle, carried the flag of democracy through the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 with the devotion and faith of the Crusaders of old. "America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William J. Bryan." This was the signal for a long continued uproar rivaling in intensity and duration the demonstration of Wednesday, which lasted one hour and twenty minutes. Again the whole assembly was hushed into a fury of excitement. The delegates seized the state standards and gathered them on the platform and then, while all the galleries broke into clamor, the demonstration lasted upwards of 45 minutes. At times it assumed such proportions of madness as he excited throngs rushed through the aisles toward the platform that there was serious danger of panic. One woman fainted and was carried from the hall. The nomination of Gov. Johnson precipitated another whirlwind of excitement if not so long sustained hardly less enthusiastic than for Bryan.

MINNESOTA MEN.

The delegation from Minnesota, standing on their chairs and waving flags, hats and everything that could be waved, were the storm center of the demonstration while groups of scattered delegates here and there lent their energy to those of Minnesota. The galleries, too, seemed to contain an ample supply of Johnson enthusiasm and on every hand the waves of the Johnson demonstration swept back and forth from end to end through the great building. When it had lasted considerable time the convention officers sought to restore order. The seat-at-arms was ordered to seat the delegates and every effort was made to bring the convention back to a state of subjection but in vain. The demonstration went on with unabated fury until it had spent itself after more than a quarter of an hour of vociferous tumult. The Gray nomination also received its full share of enthusiasm although the nominating speech of Irving Handy of Delaware was frequently interrupted by the impatient crowd and finally by the arrival of the committee on resolutions bearing the completed platform. It was after midnight when the nominating speeches were temporarily suspended to receive the report of the committee. Haskell of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, made the report, announced that the entire membership of the committee, the entire membership of the platform flanking Gov. Haskell as a witness of their united attitude. The reading of party principles was received with close attention and with frequent demonstrations of assent. The revision concerning injunctions was punctuated with applause from the delegates and spectators.

The platform was adopted by a rousing unanimous vote. The speeches seconding the nomination of candidates were then resumed with a limit of five minutes for each speech. The seconding speeches for Bryan included those of Gov. Glenn, Gov. Swanson, Rep. Hedin, Augustus Thomas, Jerry Sullivan of Iowa, O. W. Powers and ex-Senator Gearin of Oregon and John J. Lynch of Ohio. The seconding speech for Gov. Johnson was by Attorney General Straus of Maryland; that for Judge Gray by P. J. O'Boyle of Pennsylvania.

Most of these had been scheduled in advance, but owing to the widespread Bryan sentiment and the desire of various states to record their preference for him many impromptu speeches were made and nearly every state voted its approval of his candidacy. For nearly thirty hours the committee on resolutions was practically in continuous session at work upon the platform.

Whole planks were referred back to the committee for redrafting and even drafts were in the hands of the press associations to be telegraphed to the newspapers from Cape Cod to the Golden Gate, changes of phraseology were made, sentences were turned about for more forcible expression; word by word, and plank by plank the platform was minutely scrutinized in the effort for clearness and perfection of expression. When Chairman Haskell, finally, took his arm and jumped into an automobile for his flying trip to the waiting multitude in the convention hall the document that he bore was the unanimous expression of the committee; there was no smallest suggestion of a minority report.

THE TRUST QUESTION.

The plank on the trust question was the last to be adopted by the committee and had been the subject of a long debate. Judge Parker of New York, ex-Senator Smith of Nevada had been united in opposition to any expression on the subject. Senator Smith provoked a long debate by an amendment to the tariff plank, suggesting the necessity of recognizing the cost of labor in revising the tariff schedules but it was strongly opposed by his colleagues and was finally withdrawn as it was said upon receipt of a request by telegram from Mr. Bryan himself.

Ex-Senator Dubois of Idaho proposed an anti-polymorphic plank which was finally defeated by a vote of 20 to 23. In this connection a telegram from Mr. Bryan to his brother here in response to an inquiry on the subject was read as follows: "I have not taken any part or expressed any opinion on the subject referred to in your telegram. There are several states especially interested in that subject and I think they should all be permitted to present their views and that the committee on resolutions should then decide the question according to its judgment. It will not be influenced one way or the other by me."

It always will be a question whether Bryan was nominated officially on Friday. According to the big clock in the convention hall it was still a few minutes before midnight on Thursday, the 9th of July. When the hands of the clock in the auditorium last night pointed close to the hour of twelve a superstitious sergeant-at-arms climbed to the top of the railing opposite the speaker's platform and stopped time in its flight. The cheering which followed indicated that the assembly and visitors did not want to see important business transacted on Friday.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER THERE.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan-Leavitt remained during the entire session. Not until the votes had been cast and her father nominated did she leave her seat in her box at the south end of the auditorium and join the crowd hurrying homeward. When enthusiasm at the mention of the great leader's name broke loose all eyes were turned toward Mrs. Leavitt who was smiling and happy. Many of the delegates did not go to bed at all after the close of the session but coming out of the convention hall into what soon became broad daylight walked the streets till breakfast time or took early trolley rides through the empty streets to suburbs.

Several prospective candidates for the vice presidency were removed from the canvass yesterday in one way or another. Most conspicuous of these withdrawals was that of David Francis of Missouri. It was made more emphatic than ever that Judge Gray's name could not be used even though it was well understood that had he consented to the use of his name he would have been perhaps the most likely of all to receive the nomination. The Massachusetts people made it clear that ex-Gov. Douglas of that state would not be available.

In the early hours of the morning, Rep. Francis B. Harrison of New York announced that he would be a candidate only in the event of his endorsement by the New York delegation. Inasmuch as New York has taken the position that it would have no candidate for either office this seemingly removes Harrison from the field.

Those remaining are numerous and in the early hours of the day it was hard to say which was in the lead. Many of the delegates took but a small part in the morning's discussions of the matter in the belief that Mr. Bryan's preferences should be considered and with some degree of expectation that by the time the afternoon session began a decisive indication from that quarter would be at hand. Attention focused rather eagerly upon an early morning rumor in favor of the nomination of Gov. Folk of Missouri.

Ex-Senator Kern of Indiana, Clark Howell of Atlanta, Ga., and Charles A. Towne of New York all figured in the early morning gossip.

The conditions this morning were similar to those of yesterday. Indications pointed to another sweltering afternoon before the vice presidential nomination can be completed and the convention pass to its place in history.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

CONVENTION HALL, Denver, July 10.—The hall had not cooled out from the afternoon session when the crowds began to gather last night and ending the protracted sitting.

Rumors of the platform committee filled the air as the delegates assembled, and they prepared for another probable session of convention oratory before the important business of the session could be reached.

At 7.15 the galleries were completely filled, and the majority of the delegates were in their seats. The hall was so crowded as to be almost dangerous. At 7.30 o'clock the committee on resolutions had finished its work and would, in a short time, be prepared to present its report to the convention. It was just 7.50 o'clock when Chairman Clayton began to rap for order, which he secured within the minute. Mr. Clayton recognized the selection of James Kerr as member of the national committee from that state in place of Col. Gurney, who was selected before the Pennsylvania contests were settled.

Ollie James, of Kentucky, moved that a committee of three be appointed again to await upon the platform committee and ascertain when it would be ready to report. The motion prevailed and Mr. James J. Thomas of Illinois of Alabama, and F. E. Lynch of Minnesota were named.

Lynch's appointment was the first recognition the adherents of Gov. Johnson had received in the choice of convention committees. "In November next," said Chairman Clayton, addressing the convention, "we will witness in New York the Tammany tiger drowning the republican elephant." When he called upon Senator Grady to make a speech, he was given a most enthusiastic welcome as he appeared on the rostrum. When he declared that the convention could nominate no candidate and adopt a platform that would not receive the united and enthusiastic support of the New York democracy he was given still greater applause, and he returned to his seat amid cries of "Grady."

JUDGE WADE SPEAKS. Following Senator Grady, Chairman Clayton introduced Judge N. J. Wade of Iowa, a representative of the great corn state.

"I am sure the convention will be glad to concur in the request of Missouri to hear from Old Champ Clark of that state, one of the knightliest democrats who ever drew a glittering blade in defense of the party."

In these words Chairman Clayton introduced the next speaker, whose appearance on the platform was a signal for great cheering.

Mr. Clark predicted that the democrats would sweep the country from sea to sea.

"The republican party," Mr. Clark said, "is presenting to the country the effect of a dissolving view. At Chicago Roosevelt forced on the convention a candidate for president that it did not want, and the convention forced on him a candidate for vice president that he did not want."

"During the Russian-Japanese war," a telegram came from the front, saying "Kuroptakin is in statu quo," the boys in the village did not know what that meant, so they took the message to the wise man of the town, and he did not know what it meant, but he took a chance and he said:

"Kuroptakin is in a hell of a fix. That's what's the matter with the republican party."

The convention was convulsed. Mr. Clark concluded with a tribute to Mr. Bryan as "the greatest living American."

The galleries, with an utter ignorance of the matter in which they should be governed, shouted cries of "Vote, vote."

When quiet was restored, the chair recognized Rep. Ollie James of Kentucky, of the committee sent to ascertain the probability of an early report from the committee on resolutions. Mr. James reported that the committee would not be ready to report before midnight. He then made a motion that the rules be suspended and that the nominating speeches for presidential candidates be made with the understanding, however, that no ballots should be taken until after the report of the committee had been received. The motion was adopted and the rules were declared by the chair to be suspended and nominations to be in order.

The secretary will now proceed to call the roll of states for nominations for the officers of the president of the United States," shouted Chairman Clayton.

"Alabama," called the clerk. The chairman of that delegation arose and was recognized.

"Knowing that Nebraska will make no mistake in nominating the right man," he said, "Alabama yields to Nebraska."

I. J. Dunn, Omaha, will speak for the Nebraska delegation," announced the chairman of that state, while the cheering which followed the first statement from Alabama continued unabated.

DUNN NOMINATES BRYAN. Mr. Dunn is of middle age, with a determined looking, clean shaven face. He spoke clearly and with a pleasing manner of delivery.

As Mr. Dunn proceeded, almost every allusion he made to the character of Mr. Bryan was applauded, although he had not mentioned the name of the Nebraska candidate.

When he declared that his candidate was the choice of the militant democracy of the country, the convention broke into wild cheers. The ever-flowing tears were tossed aloft and a roar of applause followed from the galleries, and it flew across the convention hall, while the delegates hailed it with great enthusiasm and cheered as long as it was in sight.

WILD CHEERING. Mr. Dunn brought out the name of "William Jennings Bryan" with much dramatic force, and the response to the great throng was electric. The delegates sprang up, the galleries followed suit, and the demonstration was under way in a manner that for the time being, at least, promised to rival the enthusiasm of the day.

A few minutes after the cheering began, an immense net painting of Mr. Bryan was lowered from behind a monster American shield which had reposed over the chairman's desk ever since the convention began. The appearance of the picture raised the outburst.

The demonstrations set a dozen photographers to work and their flash-light exposures at times fairly shook the great building, such an immense amount of powder was used. The explosions filled the upper portion of the hall with choking white smoke, adding vastly to the discomfort of those already forced to breathe the heavy atmosphere of the upper strata.

The band in the gallery added to the celebration of the Bryan followers and the blast of horns, the roar of drums and the crash of cymbals could be heard above the din of the shouting hundreds on the floor and in the galleries.

One of the banners that aroused much enthusiasm was labeled "Missouri—Nominates Bryan and W. J. Will Show You." The members of the Missouri delegation bore up to the platform with banners bearing the words "Missouri will give Bryan fifty thousand majority."

DEMONSTRATION CONTINUES. In a few seconds the red, white and blue stars of Nebraska bearing the portrait of Mr. Bryan, beside it, and came the various state standards which were grouped on the rostrum and they were yesterday. The crowd of demonstrators, apparently frenzied, stormed the press seats along the aisle leading to the speaker's stand. They broke down chairs and tables by sheer physical weight. A number of newspaper men and telegraph operators were compelled to hastily leave their seats to avoid serious injury, so furious was the rush of the shouters.

Only six banners were missing from the list of states in the parade through the aisles after the grouping at the stage had broken into a procession. They were those of Maryland, Minnesota, New York, Georgia, New Jersey and Delaware.

The crowd in the parade was not nearly so numerous as that of Wednesday and many delegates mindful of torn clothing, remained upon their chairs watching the demonstration. It was not that their loyalty was less than the day before, but they had been through the battle once and were not anxious for a repetition of their experiences of the day before.

BIRDS RELEASED. Flocks of birds were released and they flew over the hall wild with terror, seeking some escape from the maddening tumult and uproar that raged on the floor.

The standards of New York and Georgia were quickly made the objects of attack and the crowd endeavored to drag them up and carry them in the parade. Strong hands, however, held the poles, and the demonstrators were gathered close about them. It was evident that they could only be severed after a fight and the parading enthusiasts quickly passed along. The men from Georgia and New York, however, held their ground throughout the demonstration and the standards never moved. Other states that kept their markers in place, although they were not made the objects of attack were Delaware, New Jersey and Minnesota. At 9.30, when the tumult had lasted 22 minutes, the parade halted in front of the speaker's stand, with the state standards clustered in a thicket, the marchers stood and yelled like men whose political enthusiasm had for the time being been bereft of all sense.

After 30 minutes of the demonstration, the pounding of Chairman Clayton's big gavel could be heard above the roar of the crowd. At first, however, it seemed only to serve as an incentive to louder Bryan cheers.

WOMEN IN DANGER. At this time, many women who had been brought to the floor by their husbands, among the delegates, were in danger of being crushed by the frantic shouters and marchers, and sought refuge in the sections separate for the newspaper men which had been kept reasonably clear of the invaders after the first general onslaught.

A feature of the demonstration was that the greater part of the cheering and uproar was distinctly heard by the candidate at his home 50 miles away, a telephone wire having been placed in the hall and Mr. Bryan at the other end of the wire, at Fairview, was able to hear the cheering in his honor.

Five minutes after the name of Bryan had been mentioned, Chairman Clayton again tried to stay the tumult, but in vain. Another five minutes elapsed and he tried once more, but did not succeed even in driving the flag wavers from his own desk.

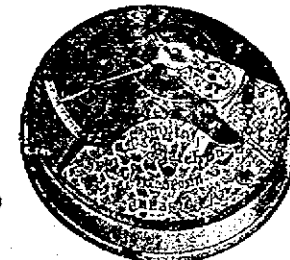

Mr. Clayton stood the invasion a few minutes longer and then bodily dragged the men from his desk. With uplifted hands he stood trying to restore order, and there were increasing signs now that the outburst had about run its course.

Some of the enthusiastic shouters on the speaker's rostrum lassoed the stuffed eagles which were suspended overhead and soon they were swinging forward and backward.

One measure calculated to cause a cessation of the shouting was the turning out of many of the lights in the clusters on the ceiling. This had a marked effect and a storm of hisses that was directed at the shouters from all parts of the hall helped the work amazingly.

At 10.20 p. m., when the demonstrations last night had died away, Chairman Clayton directed the secretary to continue calling the roll of states. Arkansas passed and California yielded to Oregon. Ex-Sen. Gearin of that state then was introduced to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Sen. Gearin mentioned the name of Bryan in his first sentence but it received but a ripple of applause, the enthusiasm having completely spent itself. The speaker spoke but a few minutes and left the stand with liberal applause.

Arkansas, which had passed early in the roll, gave way to North Carolina, and Governor Glenn of that state took the stand to second the nomination of Bryan.

The crowd grew very impatient as the speaker continued his address and his peroration and the name of Mr. Bryan were lost in the chorus of cries. J. C. Kern of Illinois made a motion after Governor Glenn had concluded, that all seconding speeches be limited to 5 minutes. The motion was carried with a wild yell of approval.

The next speaker who rose to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan was Governor Swanson of Virginia.

THE JOHNSON MEN. The opportunity of the Johnson supporters came when the roll call reached Connecticut and that state gave way to Minnesota. Winfield S. Hammond of the latter state took the stand and amid a considerable volume of applause to place in nomination Governor Johnson of Minnesota.

Mr. Hammond, although he was speaking to a mass of delegates who had conclusively shown their preference for another candidate, made a most favorable impression on the convention for himself and his candidate. The speaker, who is a powerful, portly man, easily sent his voice to the farthest corners of the hall and his speech was heard with marked attention.

When Mr. Hammond concluded, the loyal sons of the North Star state responded with a cheer, and a number of delegates in Massachusetts and Oklahoma's seats joined. Considerable applause came from the galleries, but the noise was but a whisper compared with the terrific roar of the Bryan demonstration. Some of the Georgia delegates mounted their seats after a few minutes and added their voices to those of Minnesota men.

Chairman Clayton was somewhat less tolerant in dealing with the Johnson shouters than he was with the Bryan followers, and the band failed to respond to Johnson's name. The demonstration here largely subsided within 25 minutes after it began.

The heat in the hall and the dust stirred up during the Bryan demonstration, and the dense clouds of powder from the flashlights caused intense thirst, and water was in great demand. At 11 o'clock it was selling two small glasses for 25 cents.

By the time that Governor Johnson had been placed in nomination the gallery crowds had materially dwindled.

GRAY NOMINATED. While the cheers for Johnson were slowly dying out and the chairman was struggling with the obstreperous galleries, L. Irving Handy of Delaware was waiting on the rostrum to nominate George W. Gray of his state.

Some cheering was heard when Mr. Handy had concluded, but there was no attempt at a Gray demonstration. "Gentlemen of the convention," said the chairman, "I now have the pleasure of presenting to you the chairman of the committee on resolutions, Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma."

The governor called forth loud cheers from the convention when he announced that there was division among the members of the committee and that he represented them all in presenting the report. He then read the platform.

When the call of the roll of states for presidential nominations was resumed, Florida yielded to Augustus Thomas of Missouri, who made a seconding speech in behalf of Mr. Bryan.

General cheering followed the speech of Augustus Thomas. Senator Looney of Texas seconded the nomination of Bryan.

GEORGIA MAN CHEERED. "The state of Georgia," called the clerk.

One of the delegates of that state jumped up on his chair and shouted "Saying for the minority of the Georgia delegation, I pledged its 13 votes to Bryan in November."

A roar from the convention and the Georgia man was cheered frantically by the Bryan men.

"Idaho," called the clerk, continuing the roll call.

"Idaho yields to Texas," was the response, and Sen. Looney of the latter delegation, took the platform to add another second to the nomination of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Looney spoke briefly, but in glowing terms of the Nebraska man.

"Illinois," called the clerk, and W. Elza Williams of that state took the stand to deliver a seconding speech for Bryan.

"The state of Indiana," called the clerk.

John Kern arose and yielded the state's place to Kentucky. Representative Ollie James being sent by that state to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Mr. James brought the convention once more to its feet in tumultuous cheering, when he declared Mr. Bryan belonged to no party, to no nation, but to all humanity. When Mr. James was about to finish, a chorus of

"Noes" came from delegates all over the floor. Several motions to extend the speakers' time were offered, but he would not consent, saying he would not delay the nomination of William J. Bryan, which would be made in a few minutes. He concluded amid much applause.

When Iowa was reached, J. B. Sullivan of that state arose to add one more to the long and rapidly growing list of seconding speeches.

"Kansas," called the clerk, when Mr. Sullivan had concluded, and the chairman mounted on a chair, formally seconding the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Louisiana offered Samuel P. Glimora to second Bryan in its behalf, and he spoke briefly.

When Maryland was called, L. L. Strauss was recognized and there were cries of "No," "Sit down," and hisses.

Mr. Strauss endeavored to explain that in offering an amendment to the Lincoln motion, he desired to have incorporated therein the name of Robert P. Lee, but the convention declined to hear him. He finally gave up the attempt, and at the announcement that Maryland seconded the nomination of John A. Johnson, he resumed his seat.

Massachusetts yielded to Utah, and Judge O. W. Powers, of that state made a brief speech seconding Mr. Bryan. Judge Powers began by paying a tribute to Massachusetts, but the delegates, in disorder, demanded that he speak to the point. Judge Powers finished his speech regardless of the confusion that prevailed.

When Michigan was called, Edward Ryan, of that state, took the rostrum to second the nomination of Bryan. The convention refused for a time to hear him, but finally gave up the attempt, and at the announcement that a delegate from Mississippi attempted to make a speech, but for several minutes he was unable to make himself heard. When quiet was finally restored, he declared that Mississippi desired to second the nomination of Bryan.

The new trustees are Messrs. Thomas Nesmith, Alexander G. Cantrick, Austin K. Chadwick, Fred A. Thirback and George H. Chandler.

The Nesmith fund, which amounts to $25,000, was left in trust to the city of Lowell, to be expended upon the poor, by the late Thomas Nesmith many years ago. The city accepted the trust, and agreed to pay 6 per cent, upon it, amounting to $1500 annually, which has been expended for many years through the Ministry-at-Large.

The will of Mr. Nesmith provided that there should be five trustees, but that they had gradually passed away by death until only Hon. George F. Richardson remained, and he resigned recently because of poor health and a consequent inability to keep up his outside interests.

A petition was then brought into the probate court asking for the appointment of five new men as trustees, and this was done by the judge. The board has organized with Mr. Nesmith, a son of the benefactor, as chairman and George R. Chandler as secretary and treasurer.

The action of the new trustees relative to the Ministry-at-Large is interesting at this time, in view of the litigation now pending involving the af-

GIRL WAS KILLED

By Being Thrown From
Horse

LINCOLN, July 10.—Miss Elise Snow, 19 years old, of Newton and Lincoln, was killed yesterday forenoon by being thrown from a fractious horse she was riding.

Miss Snow was the niece of George A. Graves of Newton, and, like her uncle, was passionately fond of horses. Mr. Graves and his family are living this summer on Reservoir hill. Several days ago Miss Snow was anxious to try the animal. Yesterday morning she started out to ride the horse for the first time and was alone. When opposite the country home of James J. Storrow the horse became unmanageable and threw the young woman to the ground.

There were no witnesses to the accident, and just how Miss Snow, who was an expert horsewoman, lost control of her mount is unexplained. John Monahan, driver for an express company, passed a horse running away, and when he reached a point near the Storrow place he saw Miss Snow lying by the side of the road. Mr. Monahan carried the young woman to a cottage on the Storrow estate, but she was instantly killed, as Monahan was on the scene a few minutes after she was thrown.

A Chain and Its Links

In telephoning there are three links in the chain that constitutes "good service": 1. The person calling. 2. The operator. 3. The person called.

No matter how much any one or any two of these links do to develop good service, the result is determined by the measure of co-operation of the third. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

If the person calling fails to consult the catalogue and gives a wrong number, the operator inevitably repeats the error. If the person called fails to answer promptly and the caller leaves the telephone, naturally "there is no one on the line."

Being human, the operator—the third link—is liable to err occasionally, but careful analysis demonstrates that she is not fairly chargeable with many of the difficulties frequently ascribed to her.

If Link No. 1 Gives the Right Number and Calls Distinctly, and Link No. 3 Answers Promptly, the Telephone Company will be responsible for its part of the chain. If no higher motive actuated it, the motive of economy, or self-interest, would suffice.

From any Pay Station you can speak to any one of 300,000 telephones in the territory of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Even if he is not a subscriber, you can arrange to have the person desired called to a Pay Station to talk to you.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

Denies Statement Made
by Hobson

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 10.—Sec. Loeb was asked early yesterday if the president would have any comment to make on the speech of Congressman Hobson in the democratic national convention at Denver last night, in which reference was made to a reported utterance of President Roosevelt regarding a war with Japan. Because of the president's absence during the day with Mrs. Roosevelt on a pleasure excursion in the Long Island woods Mr. Loeb did not see the president until late today, on the latter's return from his outing.

The secretary was with the president for three hours this evening, and during his visit called the president's attention to Congressman Hobson's speech at Denver, in which Mr. Hobson said:

"I want to say to you that not so very long ago the president of the United States said in my presence, 'there exists the greatest probability of a war with Japan.'"

When Sec. Loeb returned to the executive offices tonight the following official statement was issued:

"In reference to the speech of Congressman Hobson, Sec. Loeb stated that the congressional must, of course, have been misquoted. The president not only never made such a remark, but never made any remark even remotely resembling it. All that the president has ever said is that if there was a sufficient navy there never would be any possibility of this country getting into a foreign war."

Sec. Loeb also said that the Scribner publishing firm had been given all the rights for the serial and book-form publications of whatever the president may write about his experiences on his proposed hunting trip in Africa.

Questioned as to the price to be paid by the firm for the president's written account of his trip, the secretary said he had no information to give out on that point.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt returned from their picnic expedition in excellent spirits, having been favored with ideal weather, which made the day in the open air an unusually pleasant one.

TURNED COURSE JUMPED TRACK

Street Committee Given An Auto Ride

Charlie Morse, City Engineer Bowers and the committee on streets were treated to an automobile ride yesterday afternoon. They turned the proposed race course as mapped out by the Lowell Automobile Association. They were the guests of the club president, Mr. Heinze, and Charlie Morse says the way they went up that boulevard and down the back road was a caution. Mr. Heinze was on hand to offer suggestions as to what ought to be done for the course. It is proposed to smooth the boulevard and re-gravel it for a distance of two miles, in preparation for the automobile race on Labor day. The automobile club will of the course for its entire length. The gravel for the work will be taken from Carney's gravel bank.

From the boulevard the committee went to Middlesex street. If Charlie Morse can get the money he will pave Middlesex street from Tower's corner to Gaget street with the same paving as has been laid in Central street. Belgian black paving. City Engineer Bowers estimates the expense of the job at $25,000.

Ayer Electric Went Wrong on Switch

The Ayer electric car leaving Merrimack square at 3:33 yesterday afternoon met with an accident in the switch just above North Chelmsford. The front wheels of the car took the Ayer tracks while the rear trucks took the Westford track. The car left the track and crashed into a little waiting room located in the apex of the switch. Some men who were sitting on the platform of the station were badly frightened and narrowly escaped being struck.

A wrecking car was summoned from Ayer, and worked late into the evening getting the car back to the track, the work being rendered difficult by the character of the accident. The car had a narrow escape from being completely overturned. The Westford line was cut off, but the Ayer tracks were clear, and traffic continued. An extra car was run from Brookside to keep the Westford line schedule going to partial extent.

IN WRONG HOLE

MISPLACED STOVE PIPE RESPONSIBLE FOR FIRE ALARM.

Sticking a stove pipe into a hole in the wall and then building a big fire in the stove to which the pipe was connected, is the latest joke in Marshall street. It was sprung on the firemen last evening and they bit. The department answered to a call from box 42 about 5:15 o'clock. A family had moved into a house in that street yesterday forenoon and, as the good wife explained it, "the old man set the stove up and pushed the pipe in a hole in the wall instead of into the hole in the chimney. Then he started a fire and the house filled with smoke. We didn't stop the alarm but somebody on the outside did, and I don't blame them. The smoke was pouring out of every hole and corner in the house." The trouble was ironed out by the pipe being inserted in the hole that the mason made for it in the chimney.

The alarm from box 5 at about 8:45 last night was for a small fire in a house in Suffolk street. A box of paper caught fire, but was extinguished before any serious harm was done.

CLERKS' OUTING

GEORGE H. WOOD FOLLOWS A SATISFACTORY PLAN FOR HIS CLERKS.

George H. Wood, the well known Central street jeweler, has solved to his own and his clerks' satisfaction the summer holiday question. For the past three years he has given one-half his force of clerks a full Thursday holiday every other week. In other words, only one-half the full force of clerks work each Thursday during the half-holiday closing season. This makes it possible for each clerk in his employ to take a trip of a whole day to beach, country or mountains every two weeks, something that would not be possible were only a half holiday allowed. There is so little business Thursday mornings during the summer months that it is possible to get along with half the force without neglecting patrons. Mr. Wood would suggest his scheme to solving the holiday closing question to the Merchants' association who were planning to give the clerks an outing some one day in August, which because of a hitch in the arrangements fell through. Inquiry among Mr. Wood's clerks yesterday demonstrated that the plan was entirely satisfactory to the small force on hand. One-half the number were out enjoying themselves, and it is quite needless to say that the arrangement was pleasing to them.

PLEASANT PARTY.

A very pleasant party was held at the home of Miss Katherine McManmon in Second avenue, Wednesday night. The party was made up of members of the Mt. Tom club. Miss McManmon has just returned from Europe and she entertained with an interesting story of her trip. Luncheon was served and Mrs. P. J. McManmon of New York, who is visiting with Miss Katherine McManmon, was elected an honorary member of the club.

THE PLATFORM

"Shall the People Rule?" the Greatest of Issues

CONVENTION HALL, Denver, July 10.—The following resolutions, constituting substantially the entire platform of the democratic national convention, have been adopted by the committee on platform and was presented to the convention last night.

"SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?" We, the representatives of the democratic party of the United States in national convention assembled, reaffirm our belief in and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the party.

We rejoice at the increasing signs of an awakening throughout the country. The various investigations have traced graft and political corruption to the representatives of predatory wealth, and laid bare the unscrupulous methods by which they have debauched elections and preyed upon a defenceless public through the subservient officials whom they have raised to place and power.

The conscience of the nation is now aroused to free the government from the grip of those who have made it a business asset of the favor-seeking corporations; it must come again a people's government, and be administered in all its departments according to the Jeffersonian maxim of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

"Shall the people rule?" is the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion.

INCREASE OF OFFICE HOLDERS.

Coincident with the enormous increase in expenditures is a like addition to the number of office holders. During the past year 23,151 were added, costing $18,156,000, and in the past six years of the republican administration the total number of new offices created, aside from many commissions, has been 99,319, entailing an additional expenditure of nearly $70,000,000, as against only 10,279 new offices created under the Cleveland and McKinley administrations, which involved an expenditure of only $6,000,000.

We denounce this great and growing increase in the number of office holders as not only unnecessary and wasteful, but also as clearly indicating a deliberate purpose on the part of the administration to keep the republican party in power at public expense by thus increasing the number of its retainers and dependents. Such procedure we declare to be no less dangerous and corrupt than the purchase of votes at the polls.

THE RIGHTS OF STATES.

Believing with Jefferson in the support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent administration for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies and in "the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and the safety abroad," we are opposed to the centralization implied in these suggestions, now frequently made, that the powers of the general government should be extended by judicial construction.

There is no twilight zone between the nation and the state in which exploiting interests can take refuge from both, and it is as necessary that the federal government shall exercise the powers delegated to it as it is that the state government shall use the authority reserved, but we insist that federal remedies for the regulation of interstate commerce and for the prevention of private monopoly shall be added to, not substituted for, state remedies.

BANKING.

The panic of 1907, coming without any legitimate excuse, when the republican party had for a decade been in complete control of the federal government, furnishes additional proof that it is either unwilling or incompetent to protect the interests of the general public. It has so linked the country to Wall street that the sins of the speculators are visited upon the whole people.

While refusing to rescue wealth producers from spoliation at the hands of the stock gamblers and speculators in farm products, it has disposed treasary funds, without interest and without competition, in favorite banks. It has used an emergency for which it is largely responsible to force through congress a bill changing the basis of bank currency and inviting market manipulation and has failed to give to the 15,000,000 depositors of the country protection in their savings.

We believe that in so far as the needs of commerce require an emergency currency, such currency should be issued, controlled by the federal government and loaned on adequate security to national and state banks. We pledge ourselves to legislation under which the national banks shall be required to establish a guarantee fund for the prompt payment of the depositors of any insolvent national bank under an equitable system which shall be available to all state banking institutions wishing to use it.

We favor a postal savings bank if the guaranteed bank cannot be secured and that it be constituted so as to keep the deposited money in the communities where it is established. But we condemn the policy of the republican party in providing a postal savings bank under a plan of conduct by which those will aggregate the deposits of rival communities and re-deposit the same while under government charge in the banks of Wall street, thus pledging the circulating medium from the producing regions and unjustly favoring the speculative markets.

ECONOMY IN ADMINISTRATION.

The republican congress in session just ended had made appropriations amounting to $1,000,000,000, exceeding the total expenditures of the past fiscal year by $200,000,000 and having a deficit of more than $2,000,000,000 for the fiscal year. We denounce the needless waste of the people's money, which has resulted in this appalling increase, as a shameful violation of all prudent conditions of government, as no less than a crime against the millions of workmen and women from whose earnings the great proportion of these colossal sums must be extorted through excessive tariff exactions and other indirect methods. We insist upon the strictest economy in every department compatible with frugal and efficient administration.

LABOR AND INJUNCTIONS.

The courts of justice are the bulwarks of our liberties, and we yield to none in our purpose to maintain their dignity. It is the function of the courts to interpret the laws which the people create and if the laws appear to work economic, social or political injustice, it is our duty to change them.

Experience has proven the necessity of a modification of the present law relating to injunctions, and we reiterate the pledge in favor of rational platforms of 1904 and 1908 in favor of the measure which passed the United States senate in 1905, but which a republican congress has ever since refused to enact, relating to injunctions in federal courts and providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt.

Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with industrial disputes. We deem that the power to all judicial proceedings should be treated with the same impartiality and that injunctions should not be issued in any cases in which economic, social or political justice is involved, nor in cases of industrial disputes, where the interests of labor and capital are in conflict.

The expanding organization of industry makes it essential that there should not be interference of the right of wage earners and producers to organize for the protection of wages and the improvement of their conditions. The end result of such labor organizations and their members should not be regarded as a threat to business in restraint of trade.

We favor the eight hour day in all government work. We believe the democratic party is the champion of a law which a department represented separately in the presidential cabinet, which department shall include the subject of mines and mining.

RAILROAD REGULATION.

We assert the right of congress to exercise complete control over interstate commerce and the right of each state to exercise like control over commerce within its borders.

"We demand such enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission as may be necessary to compel railroads to perform their duties as common carriers, and prevent discrimination and extortion."

"We favor the efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, to this end we recommend the valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission, such valuation to take into consideration physical value of property, the original cost of reproduction and all elements of value that will render the valuation made fair and just."

"We favor such legislation as will prohibit the railroads from engaging in business which brings them into competition with their shippers, also legislation which will assure such reduction in transportation rates as conditions will permit, care being taken to avoid reductions that would compel a reduction of wages, prevent adequate service or do injustice to legitimate investments. We heartily approve the rebate, and we favor any further necessary legislation to restrain, control and prevent such abuses."

"We favor such legislation as will increase the power of the interstate commerce commission, giving it the initiative with reference to rates and transportation charges put into effect by the railroad companies, and permitting the interstate commerce commission on its own initiative to declare a rate illegal and as being more than should be charged for such service."

"We further declare that all agreements of traffic or other associations of railway agents affecting interstate rate service or classification, shall be unlawful unless filed with and approved by the interstate commerce commission."

"We favor the enactment of a law giving to the interstate commerce commission the power to inspect proposed railroad tariff rates or schedules before they shall take effect, and if they be found to be unreasonable, to initiate an adjustment thereof."

PHILIPPINES.

"We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder, which has involved us in an enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength, and laid our nation open to the charge of abandoning a fundamental doctrine of self-government. We favor an immediate declaration of the nation's purpose to recognize the independence of the Philippine Islands as soon as a stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers. In recognizing the importance of the Philippines, the government retains such as may be necessary for coaling stations and naval bases."

WATERWAYS.

"We earnestly favor the immediate adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for improving every water course in the Union, which is justified by the needs of commerce, and to secure that end, we favor, when practicable, the connection of the great lakes with the navigable rivers and the rivers, bays and sounds of our coasts with each other by artificial canals."

"We favor the co-ordination of the various services of the government connected with waterways. In one service, and we favor the creation of a fund ample for contiguous work, which shall be conducted under the

BRYAN NOMINATED

FOR BETTER OR WORSE IT IS BRYAN. THE CONVENTION IN DENVER WORKED ITSELF INTO A GREAT PITCH OF EXCITEMENT. IT CHEERED AND CHEERED UNTIL FINALLY IT GOT ITSELF WORKED UP TO THE POINT AT WHICH IT SAW NOBODY BUT BRYAN, AND HE WAS NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION.

BRYAN IS A GOOD MAN, AN ABLE MAN, AN HONEST MAN, BUT IT CANNOT BE GAINSAYED THAT HIS RECORD OF TWO DEFEATS WILL OPERATE AGAINST HIM AT THE POLLS.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED IS A GOOD ONE. IT IS STRONG WHERE THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM IS WEAK. UPON THE TARIFF IT IS SOUND AND STATESMAN LIKE.

UPON THE CURRENCY THE REPUBLICAN BLUNDERS THAT CULMINATED IN THE PRESENT PANIC ARE EXPOSED, AND A WISE SCHEME IS LAID DOWN FOR PROTECTING THE DEPOSITORS OF THE COUNTRY AGAINST SUCH PANICS IN THE FUTURE. THE PLATFORM PLEDGES LEGISLATION UNDER WHICH THE NATIONAL BANKS WILL BE REQUIRED TO ESTABLISH A GUARANTEE FUND FOR THE PROMPT PAYMENT OF DEPOSITORS OF ANY INSOLVENT NATIONAL BANK UNDER AN EQUITABLE SYSTEM WHICH SHALL BE AVAILABLE TO ALL STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS WISHING TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT.

ON THE INJUNCTION QUESTION THE PLANK ADOPTED IS MORE CONSERVATIVE THAN WAS EXPECTED. IT SIMPLY PLEADS FOR A MODIFICATION OF JUDICIAL PRACTICE THAT WILL NOT ABRIDGE THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF THOSE INVOLVED IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

UPON THE ARBITRARY POWER EXERCISED BY THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES THE PLATFORM IS PLAIN AND EMPHATIC, DEMANDING, AS IT DOES, THAT THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES SHALL AGAIN BECOME A DELIBERATIVE BODY CONTROLLED BY A MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE'S REPRESENTATIVES AND NOT BY THE SPEAKER, WHO, UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS, ASSUMES A POWER THAT PREVENTS THE CONSIDERATION OF ANY QUESTION THAT DOES NOT MEET THE APPROVAL OF HIMSELF OR HIS PARTY.

POETIC PHILOSOPHY

IN THE SIX LITTLE POEMS PRINTED ON THE FOLDER GIVEN THE BOYS WHO WERE TENDERED FREE ADMISSION TO THE BUFFALO BILL SHOW ON WEDNESDAY THERE IS A WEALTH OF INSPIRING SENTIMENT. AFTER READING THESE POEMS, "THE BAREFOOT BOY," "OPPORTUNITY LOST," "WATCH YOURSELF GO BY," "SMILE," "SOLITUDE," AND "HOW TO GET ON" WE CAN READILY SEE THAT WITH THE MYSTERIOUS GENTLEMAN WHO THUS SHOWED HIS KINDNESS TO THE BOYS, THE SHOW WAS BUT A SECONDARY CONSIDERATION. TO GET THE EDUCATIVE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE EMBRACED IN THOSE FEW ADMIRABLE LITTLE POEMS INSTILLED INTO THE MINDS OF THE BOYS WAS EVIDENTLY THE MAIN OBJECT. BOYS MIGHT READ BOOKS OF THEIR OWN SELECTION FOR TWENTY YEARS AND YET NOT GATHER HALF THE INSPIRATION OR HALF THE GUIDING PRINCIPLES CONTAINED IN THESE LITTLE POEMS. WE ADVISE OLD AND YOUNG TO READ THEM; WE ADVISE THE YOUNG TO COMMIT THEM TO MEMORY AND APPLY THEM IN THEIR LIVES.

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF "THE BAREFOOT BOY" AND "SOLITUDE," WHICH WE HAVE ALREADY PRINTED, THE POEMS APPEAR IN ANOTHER COLUMN.

BIG AUTO RACE

THE PEOPLE WHO WANT TO KNOW BEFORE HAND OF WHAT BENEFIT WILL THE AUTO RACE BE TO LOWELL, ARE ALSO GETTING TOO CAUTIOUS.

THE AUTO RACE WILL GIVE LOWELL AN ADVERTISEMENT THAT WILL BE WORTH A GREAT DEAL AND IT WOULD BE DISCOUNTING THE MATTER IN ADVANCE TO TALK NOW OF EXPLOITING THE BIG RACE FOR THE SPECIAL BENEFIT OF LOWELL. LET IT BE UNDERSTOOD THAT THE INTERESTS OF LOWELL IN THE PREMISES WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN BY THE COMMITTEE. IT WAS OUT OF REGARD FOR THE INTERESTS OF OUR CITY THAT THE RACE WAS FIRST PROPOSED.

INSPIRING POEMS

WHICH IT WILL PAY BOYS TO LEARN.

The poems printed on the folder given the boys who got free tickets to the Buffalo Bill show the other day are well worth remembering. With the exception of the "Barefoot Boy" from Whittier and "Laugh and the World Laughs With You" from Wilcox which have already been printed here they were as follows:

OPPORTUNITY LOST.

They do me wrong who say I come no more,
When once I knock and fail to find you in,
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.

Wait not for the precious chances
Passed away
Weep not for golden ages on the wane,
Each night I burn the records of the day.
At sunrise every soul is born again.

Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanquished joys be blind and deaf and dumb,
My judgment seals the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.

Though deep in mire, wring not thy hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say "I can,"
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep,
But yet might rise and be again a man.

Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast,
Dost reel from righteous retribution's blow,
Then turn from blotted archives of the past,
To find thy future pages white as snow.
Art thou a mourner, rouse thee from thy spell,
Art thou a sinner, sins may be forgiven,
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven.

WATCH YOURSELF GO BY.

Just stand aside and watch yourself go by:
Think of yourself as "he" instead of "I."
Note closely, as in other men you note,
The bag-kneed trousers and the seedy coat.
Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,
And strive to make your estimate ring true.
Confront yourself and look you in the eye,
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

Interpret all your motives just as though
You looked on one whose aims you did not know.
Let undisguised contempt surge through you when You see you shrink, O commonest of men!
Despise your cowardice; condemn whatever
You note of falseness in you anywhere.
Defend not one defect that shames your eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.

And, then, with eyes unveiled to what you loathe—
To sins that with sweet charity you'd clothe—
Back to your self-walled tenement you'll go,
With tolerance for all who dwell below.
The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink;
Love's chain grew stronger by one mighty link—
When you, with "he," as substitute for "I,"
Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

SMILE.

It is easy enough to be pleasant,
When life goes on with a song,
But the man worth while is the man who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.
For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with years,
But the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that comes through tears.

HOW TO GET ON.

Drive the nail right, boys,
Hit it on the head;
Strike with all your might, boys,
When the iron's red.

When you've work to do, boys,
Do it with a will;
They who lead on the top, boys,
First must climb the hill.

Standing at the foot, boys,
Gazing at the sky;
How can you get up, boys,
If you never try?

Though you stumble oft, boys,
Never be downcast;
Try and try again, boys,
You'll get on at last.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

MORE AIRSHIPS COMING.

Minneapolis Journal: The sudden springing up of flying machines everywhere shows that the United States government did not begin its tests, not for later in the summer, a moment too soon. No matter what else happens in the next year, the flying machine is bound to play an enormous part. What Admiral Soley said of warships will be true of them, viz. that it is better to have four war vessels, and need only two, than to have two and need four.

GLAD THE PLATFORM SUITS.

Providence Tribune: With another candidate than the Nebraska on such a platform as Mr. Bell has outlined the democrats could undoubtedly make a very effective appeal for popular support in the present temper of the American people. It is a platform which, for better or for worse, certainly does point forward. There is in it no harking back to dead or outgrown issues; it meets questions in which the thinking masses, and not merely the discontented, are keenly interested, and it makes promises that in form as well as in purpose have an acceptability in these days such as they could have had at no other period in the country's history.

history. The people of the United States, to a considerable extent, regardless of past political affiliations, are now ready for a good deal of radicalism. But they are not ready for Bryan.

AUTOMOBILISTS' INSOLENCE.

Providence Tribune: The other day a young man of this city whose mental condition, so far as known, does not give him the poor excuse of irresponsibility, having been arrested in a nearby city for driving his motor car at a dangerous rate, in impudent bravado, drove to the police station at a speed in excess of the legal limit; and, on being released by payment of fine, was in a short time again arrested for repetition of the offense in the next town. Such insolent defiance of law and public sentiment is, it may be hoped, somewhat exceptional. But it is not uncharacteristic of a disposition and temper among a considerable number of local automobilists which, if not changed, must result in even more stringent laws and still more rigorous enforcement.

COST OF THE FOURTH.

Common Patriot: The returns of casualties on the Fourth of July show that the celebration of the National birthday was conducted on a somewhat safer and safer basis, this year, but yet the deaths and injuries show there is still room for improvement. Reports up to Monday night show that some 12 persons lost their lives and 274 were injured, as against 161 deaths and 429 injuries in 1907. The highest mark was reached in 1904 when the total of killed and injured reached the appalling large figures of 264, but the largest number of deaths was in 1903, 406, of which 364 were from lockjaw, following injury.

The fire loss was above the average for the past ten years, figuring on recent reports, $25,433, and it is probable that this, as well as the number of deaths and casualties will be largely increased by later returns.

It is an enormous bill in fire loss, death and suffering that the American people are called upon to pay after each national celebration, and for what? Just to satisfy the desire to make a noise.

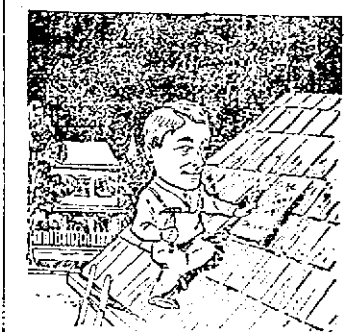

PEOPLE OF NOTE

"The Alaskan fur seal herd is being rapidly exterminated by pelagic sealing vessels, mainly Canadians," said Professor David Starr Jordan. "These sailing vessels follow the seal herd as it moves along our Pacific coast in the spring, and enters Bering Sea at the end of the close season in August when they are free under the ineffective regulations adopted by the Paris Convention to use the spear-throwing, outside of the sixty-mile zone, the seals that frequent these waters in pursuit of food. As these seals are mainly females that have brought forth their young on the Pribilof Islands, the killing of the mother seals results in the starvation of the young upon the land, and the inevitable rapid extinction of the fur seal herd. Unless something is done for the protection of the seal herds within five years not only the Alaskan but also the Russian seal herds will be completely exterminated and derive this country of a valuable source of revenue and the world of a great boon."

Did you ever have a girl graduate from the high school out of your family? If so you know what it is, but if you have not you have missed about all that is worth anything in life. There is nothing like it. The happiness, the satisfaction, the success that comes is worth many times the money and effort put forth. What is the finest product of America? Secretary Lind insists it is rabbits; Carnegie stands for libraries; Mrs. Hettie Brown considers it ready money; while Secretary of Agriculture Wilson crowns over the American hen. They are all wrong. It's the girl graduate. As Daniel Webster remarked of Massachusetts: "Gentlemen, she needs no apparel; there she stands!" For years after he has poured out his money in buying her frocks and laces and hats, in paying for her chemistry and music, and chewing gum. Mother has spent years of her life in teaching her morality, truth, the catechism and the proper way to do up her hair. And they feel that she's worth all the trouble and care and money she has cost.

A descendant of Tama's band of Montanians is now the engineer of a fast passenger train on the Burlington road. He is here on the same ground where his ancestors lived for many generations. He crosses the same rivers, surveys the same landscapes, observes the same phenomena of wind, temperature, storms, etc., that were familiar to his ancestors of centuries ago. He wears more clothes than they wore, and he speaks a different language, and he is serving civilization instead of barbarism. Few if any of the passengers who ride behind him know that a Tama Indian sits in the cab of the engine as it speeds over the prairies.

REFUSES TO EAT

Newburyport Man is Nearly Dead

NEWBURYPORT, July 10.—Nearly dead from hunger and refusing to eat, Joseph L. Meico, 40, who continually shouts that he is an anarchist, is perplexing the local police. If he lives he will be committed to an asylum.

Fighting and screaming in his cell, he had up to a late hour last night succeeded in foiling all attempts to give him nourishment.

He has not eaten for four days, and continually exclaims to the officers that he will not eat or drink unless served by an anarchist with the shibboleth. He groans incessantly, and refuses to utter anything except in denunciation of the government.

Meico asked Frank Joyce, a foreman in one of the shoe shops here, for a position, and upon being refused threatened to kill him, declaring that he was an anarchist.

Meico, Joyce located a policeman and had the repudiated workman placed under arrest.

He said that he had come from Lynn and had not eaten for the last four days in order to have carriage to come to this city. His furnished condition and persistent groans indicated to the marshal the truth of his statement.

BATHERS BITTEN

BY STRANGE FISH ARE SERIOUSLY ILL.

SALISBURY BEACH, N. H., July 10.—A new terror has come over the bathers at Salisbury Beach, and as a result there were scarcely a half-dozen people in the water here this morning.

Within the past few days several bathers, who have been in bathing here, have complained on coming out of the water that they have been bitten by some kind of a fish; just what kind they did not know.

They thought little of it at the time, other than the discomfort of the bite, but in some of the cases after a few hours the bites have become very painful, the flesh swelling badly and turning black.

Yesterday there were several victims of this strange fish; three of them, all women, report suffering considerably as a result. One of them, Gladys Butler of Brookline, Mass., a guest of the Seaside House, was obliged to consult a physician, Dr. Spaulding being called.

Another, Miss Alice Hamilton of South Groveland, was suffering considerably yesterday, the flesh around the bite being swollen and inflamed and blood poisoning is feared.

Until it is determined just what is causing the trouble bathers promise to be quite shy about entering the water at the beach.

THE B. & M. ROAD

No Longer Controlled by New Haven

BOSTON, July 10.—The Boston and Maine railroad, it was learned yesterday, is no longer controlled by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company. Shares of the Boston and Maine to the number of about 119,000 owned by corporations controlled by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, have been sold to John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn. The sale took place on June 28, and the transfers were effected on July 1.

THE LUSITANIA

Breaks All Records Across the Atlantic

NEW YORK, July 10.—Breaking all previous records over the long distance course across the Atlantic of 2891 miles, the Lusitania arrived at Sandy Hook lightship today at 2:11 p. m., the time of passage being 4 days, 19 hours and 36 minutes. The Lusitania left Daunt's Rock July 5 at 11:35 a. m., her average speed throughout the trip being 25.01 knots per hour which eclipses her previous average of 24.58. "The days" runs were 21, 643, 625, 622, 611, 329 to Sandy Hook lightship.

The Lusitania's record over the long course was 4 days, 20 hours and 15 minutes. The Lusitania left Liverpool July 4 and Queenstown the 5th after a period of overhauling in the docks. The new propellers of four blades each were shipped with the expectancy of improving the speed. These propellers proved their value, the Lusitania beating her own previous best record by 32 minutes.

The best day's run, on July 5, was 643 knots, beating the previous record two knots.

The speed average of 25.01 was 13 of a knot better than the record and the Lusitania becomes the only 23 knot steamer afloat.

Moderate weather prevailed during the trip with a slight mist and light winds.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Will Not Run for Second Term

"FAIRVIEW," Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by W. J. Bryan when he received the announcement of his nomination:

"The honor is the highest official possession in the world and no one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing his responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen he should enter upon the discharge of his duties when he is not planning for a second term. I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that I elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election."

This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be and if elected my obligation will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor the more because it came not from one person or a few persons, but from the rank and file, acting freely and without compulsion."

So far had the dawn advanced that lights were scarcely needed when the bulletin of the news of the convention's action arrived. It galvanized into life the somnolent spirits and dropping lids of the party which had set the night through in the Bryan sun parlor. Mr. Bryan sat beside his daughter Grace on a settee when for the third time in his life he heard himself called to lead his party in a battle of ballots for the control of the administration of the United States. A. R. Talbot, Mr. Bryan's former law partner, was the first to grasp his hand, and for a moment he was busy with both hands acknowledging the congratulations of the fifteen persons in the room. A loving cup filled with unfermented grape juice was brought out, each one present taking a sip. Aside from his immediate family, his former law partner, his secretary and his sister, Mrs. Allen, Mr. Bryan's companions during the night were newspaper correspondents. Accepting them as guests, he whittled away the hours with story after story illustrating his experiences in public life or some point which he desired to make.

A FIERCE RIOT

Colored People in a Bad Mixup

BOSTON, July 10.—Struggling and shouting and fighting, a frenzied mob of 500 colored people last night, about 10:30 o'clock, swayed and swarmed about Roxbury crossing.

A colored picnic was held yesterday afternoon and evening at Armory Grove on Columbus avenue, and when the crowded cars filled with a mixed load of whites and blacks left the grove to come to the city, the disturbance started.

Charles Morris and wife, colored people, living on Buckingham street, South End, tendered the conductor a Canadian dime for fare. The conductor objected to the foreign coin, and claims to have been abused by the couple.

Officer F. V. Sullivan of Station 19 rushed to the car just as fists began to fly. Seizing Charles Morris, the officer attempted to arrest him and a wild struggle resulted, all the colored people trying to drag the prisoner away from the policeman.

Mrs. Morris shrieked and leaped at the officer, but was herself grabbed by two more policemen who were sent out of the nearby police station to quell the rising disturbance.

In the meantime several more cars swung into the crossing, all carrying colored people.

Everyone piled off the cars and all over the street was shouting and fighting.

Sergeant O'Sullivan and a band of 15 officers plugged into the thick of the fray, and as the third car of colored folks reached the mixup the conductor yelled wildly to the officers to help him.

As the police seized Ben Colbert, Ben sprang off the car and shouted that he would never be taken alive. A wild fight resulted.

The colored people, alarmed at the determination of the police, sped in all directions as Colbert was carried bodily, screaming and kicking into the station.

RUMA DETAINED

BOSTON, July 10.—The death of Mrs. Samuel McNeil early today brought the number of known deaths as a result of the Cambridge street fire yesterday to three.

Peter Ruma, one of the proprietors of the fruit store in which the fire started, is detained by the police in connection with the fire.

A QUICK GAME

Lowell Won By Snappy Ball Playing

Umpire Lanigan Makes a Big Hit and Runs Game Fast—Scrappy Jim Connors Gets Another Fine

The Lynn team with several new faces in the lineup, though faces which have been seen in other teams of the New England league was the attraction at Washington park yesterday afternoon. Nate Pulsifer, an academy professor who played first base on Hamilton's Haverhill aggregation was playing in left garden for Lynn, while Jim Connors, the ex-Fall River captain who raised such ructions in this city a week ago last Saturday was very meek at second base. Connors was given his walking papers by the Fall River management.

Lanigan of Providence made his first appearance here as an umpire. This gentleman demonstrated the truth of the old adage "good goods come in small packages." He is about the size of Andy Doolittle of Gorham street, but has a voice that could penetrate any part of a ten acre lot.

The game was called at 3:15 o'clock the batting order being as follows:

FIRST INNING.

Neither side scored in the first inning. Barton opened with a single and went to second on Clemens' sacrifice. Ort hit to Wolfe, the latter fumbled and the runner was safe at first. Barton going to third on the play. Ort and O'Brien tried a double steal and Barton was nailed at the plate. Bigbie fled out to Connors.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift opened with a hit. Zinsner followed with a foul fly to Lovell. Magee hit one too far for Bigbie to hand and got on first. Bigbie threw bad to first and Vandergrift went to third, but the latter died there for Howard fled out to Connors and the latter threw to first for a double play.

SECOND INNING.

The home team scored one run in the second inning, while the visitors were unable to make a tally. Foster and Pulsifer sent grounders to Wolfe and were nailed at first. Connors hit to Vandergrift and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Connors hit a grounder to Connors and was out at first. Duff followed with a fly to Ort. Wolfe singled by shortstop and then Lemieux flanked the ball out to the center field fence for two bases scoring Wolfe. Warner fled out to Connors.

THIRD INNING.

Nothing doing in the third. Lovell fled out to Magee and Moore got a base on balls. Barton followed with a single. Clemens hit to Warner, who threw to Ort. Ort fanned the breeze.

Vandergrift hit to Connors, who made a one-hand stop and threw the runner out at first. Zinsner hit to Barton and was out at first. Magee singled to left field, but in attempting to steal second was nailed.

FOURTH INNING.

The Tigers scored another run in the fourth inning. Bigbie hit to Wolfe and was out at first. Foster got on first owing to Wolfe's fumble, but Pulsifer and Connors were out on strikes.

It was at the conclusion of the first half of the inning that Umpire Lanigan made a hit with the fans. Connors objected to the umpire's decision and started to walk towards Mr. Lanigan, but the latter was equal to the occasion and decided not to give Connors a

CRICKET NEWS

BUNTINGS POSTPONE OPENING OF NEW CLUBHOUSE.

The United States Bunting, Cricket and Athletic association met last night and decided that in order not to clash with the Mohairs, who are to have their field day on the 18th of July, the formal opening of the new clubhouse which was to have taken place on the 18th, be postponed until August 1. The board of management also decided to close the clubhouse on Sundays to everybody except members and out-of-town guests.

A large crowd of cricket followers from this city will go to Lawrence Saturday afternoon to witness the cricket match between the Merrimacks and Buntings of this city. The entire gate receipts go to the benefit of two deserving members who are in ill health, Messrs. Crowl and Kenyon. Both of these gentlemen are well known, and have many friends in Lowell.

The Buntings will be made up as follows: Radden, captain; Patrick, vice captain; Rowley, West, Gath, Bailey, McCormick, Thornton, Stockton, Burl and Walton; reserve, Smart; scorer, Moss; umpire, Senior.

There will be a meeting of the Merrimack Valley Cricket league at the "Merrimack" club house, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

An effort will be made at this meeting to postpone the Andover-Bunting game, which is scheduled to be played at Andover on July 25th. Several of the Bunting players are anxious to play with the Old Fellows or Sons of St. George that day, and others would like to give the sports.

Messrs. Embley and Crawford will represent the Buntings at the football league meeting Sunday night. It is reported that Mr. Alfred Watson, former secretary of the Buntings, will enter a team in the league for the coming season to be known as the Nationals. Grounds are not yet secured.

Members of the Manchester Unity Odd Fellows and Sons of St. George of this city are looking forward and hoping for fine weather on July 23, when they will hold their gala day and carnival of sports at Bunting park for the benefit of the burial lot and monument fund of both organizations. The make-up of the Odd Fellows team will be as follows: Herbert, Rowley, Clarke, Charles, Bailey, Thornton, James West, Fred Chapman, William Gath, William Bingley, Ernest Nelson, Earl Ellis, George Clayton and Fred G. Humphris. Reserves, Wainwright and Harry Clayton.

The first eleven of the Mohairs will play the Lawrence Cricket club at Lawrence, Saturday next. The team will take the 4.10 car from the square and will be composed of the following: Captain, D. Bird; J. Harbison, J. Bennett, J. Barber, J. Priestley, J. Flaw, J. J. Whitaker, G. Hunt, J. Harbison, J. Wainwright and H. Foxon; reserve, A. E. Williams.

The new grounds of the club which are situated just this side of Glen Forest will be used.

The second eleven will play the Lawrence reserves at Mohair park, commencing at 2.30. The team: Captain, B. Ingham; E. Nelson, R. Carl, J. W. Mitchell, J. Harbison, G. Flaw, J. Greenhalgh, T. Marks, L. Russell, A. Watson and F. Wood; umpire, S. Worth; scorer, S. Marshall.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The members of the Automobile Club of Lowell have formally voted in favor of a plan by which it is hoped to stop reckless driving of cars in and around St. Paul. The idea is to have each member of the club act as a special volunteer officer to report to the authorities all violations of the speed laws. The club will also try to suppress the drivers who chase away after having been mixed up in an accident and will offer a reward of $50 for information leading to the identification of offenders of this kind. The club will also pay a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of any one who steals a car belonging to a member of the club.

The Mid-German Automobile Club is arranging an international touring contest to be held in Thuringia on September 3, 4, and 5.

Charles H. Hartshorne, a member of the town council of Montclair, N. J., has been asked by residents of his district to try to have the council adopt an ordinance prohibiting automobilists from tooting horns when they are driving through the town at night. He says that the noise made by the horns is unnecessary and has expressed the opinion that if drivers of automobiles were made to pay fines for tooting their horns when there is no reason for it there would be less noise to disturb the rest of the Montclair citizens.

Mr. Hartshorne is the author of the ordinance which prohibits Montclair drivers from tooting horns. He says that he is very often annoyed in driving them out from the parts in which they are located. If they do not start readily one is often tempted to use a hammer upon them, with the result that the ends of the threads are frequently buried over. A stick of hard wood or vulcanized fibre used between the hammer and the bolt end will prevent damage of this kind. When neither is available the nut may in some cases be run out flush with the end of the bolt or even a little beyond it and a blow carefully placed upon it so has not to hurt the threads will probably start the bolt.

The city fathers of Buffalo appear to have a most unreasonable desire to do everything possible to make life unpleasant for automobilists, even though there are a couple of very automobile factories in that city. The most move of the aldermen takes the form of a proposed ordinance to punish motorists for permitting smoke to issue from the exhaust pipes of their cars longer than a specified time. The measure provides that no owner or occupant of a motor car using gasoline or any combination of gasoline shall permit gas or smoke to escape from the air for a longer period than 10 seconds. Violation of the measure would be punished by the fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100, or imprisonment of one day for each dollar of the fine imposed.

Whatever advantages are to be derived from the use of the manometer, or gauge for determining the rate of water circulation in the cooling system, is set at naught if the gauge fails to register accurately. This may occur when the tubing by which it is connected to the water piping leaks or is badly kinked at some point, when the tubing is clogged or when there is some internal flaw in the device itself. A simple test which may be employed when the correct indications for any given speeds are known is to apply a revolution gauge to the end of the cam shafts, running the motor at various speeds, and simultaneously observing the indications of the gauge. If the latter correspond to double the speed of the cam shafts they are sensibly correct. If not the device should be adjusted properly, where adjustment is possible, or else a new dial made, providing it is not possible to effect the desired result by the easier method of shifting the old one.

SICK HORSES

THEIR CONDITION DISCUSSED BY BOARD OF HEALTH.

William C. Doherty presided at the regular meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon. A discussion relative to diseased horses belonging to the department was about all there was to the meeting. The board had seen the horses. One of them is suffering from a skin disease and the other from what is believed to be cancer. The board did not take any further action as to the disposition of the horses.

VISITED GRAVE

WILD WEST BOYS VIEW RESTING PLACE OF "PETE" BROGAN.

To the grave where their old comrade and friend, Peter Brogan, lay buried went the employees of Buffalo this afternoon, Wednesday afternoon, and they paid to the memory of their former fellow employee. Peter Brogan's grave is in St. Patrick's cemetery and the scene there on Wednesday afternoon when those rough-and-ready fellows stood about the last resting place of an old comrade, trying in vain to suppress the unbidden tears, was as unusual as it was impressive.

BATTLES' BEQUEST

WENT TO THE BATTLES HOME. NOT BAPTIST HOME.

In the item that appeared in yesterday's paper relative to the will of Emily C. Battles, reference was made to the "Battles home" for old men. It should be read "Battles home." The same mistake was made in reference to the Battles' home for old ladies.

GOOD BOY, JOHN!

LAWRENCE PHILANTHROPIST TOOK 200 CHILDREN TO SHOW.

LAWRENCE, July 10.—Through the generosity of Hon. John Breen, the well-known undertaker, the orphans of the local asylum numbering close on to 200, saw Buffalo Bill's circus performance yesterday afternoon. Not only did Mr. Breen bring the children, but he furnished them two special cars from the protectory to the show grounds.

DROPPED DEAD

SOMERVILLE TRADER LOST HORSE HE BOUGHT.

A horse belonging to a horse trader named Daley of Somerville dropped dead yesterday afternoon while passing through North Billerica. It is alleged that the animal was purchased in the city yesterday. The carcass was cared for by the employees of the Lowell Rendering Co.

$10,000 DAMAGE

Caused by a Fire in Cambridge

BOSTON, July 10.—Alarms from three boxes in succession startled the Cambridge firemen early this morning, and sent the whole department in a hurry to the vicinity of 1st and Bent streets. The first alarm came from box 437 at 1.45, and was followed by another from box 3 within a few minutes, and this by one from box 412.

The firemen found a brick blaze in the carriage factory of the Van Buren & Osborn company, 141 1st street. The building is a long structure 75 feet front on 1st street and running back 100 feet. It is two stories high, with 14 one story high. The firemen got to work quickly on the blazing building and on the surrounding buildings to prevent the fire from spreading.

There was a large stock of carriages finished and in course of building in the place, and the damage to them and the structure itself will amount to $10,000.

The fire was seen by watchmen in three of the large manufacturing establishments in the neighborhood, each of whom rang in an alarm from the nearest box, thus calling out the entire department.

THE PLATFORM

RIGHTS OF STATES.

"Believing with Jefferson, in the support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies and in the preservation of the government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and the safety abroad, we are opposed to the centralization implied in these suggestions, now frequently made, that the powers of the general government should be extended by judicial construction. We insist that federal remedies for the regulation of interstate commerce and for the prevention of private monopoly shall be added to, not substituted for state remedies.

ARBITRARY POWER OF SPEAKER.

The house of representatives was designated by the fathers of the constitution to be the popular branch of our government responsive to the public will.

The house of representatives as controlled in recent years by the republican party has ceased to be a deliberative and executive body, responsive to the will of a majority of its members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations and powers of legislation.

We demand that the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives and not by the speaker, and we pledge ourselves to adopt such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation.

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE.

We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law to regulate the rates and services of telegraph and telephone companies engaged in the transmission of message between the states, under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

THE MISUSE OF PATRONAGE.

We condemn as violation of spirit of our institutions the action of the present chief executive in using the patronage of his high office to secure the nomination of one of his cabinet officers.

cers. The right of the people to freely select their officials is inalienable and cannot be delegated.

INCOME TAX.

We favor an income tax as part of our revenue system, and we urge the submission of a constitutional amendment specifically authorizing congress to levy and collect a tax upon individual and corporate incomes to the end that wealth may bear its proportionate share of the burdens of the federal government.

ASIATIC IMMIGRATION.

We favor full protection, by both national and state governments within their respective spheres, of all foreigners residing in the United States under treaty, but we are opposed to the admission of Asiatic immigrants who cannot be assimilated with our population, or whose presence among us would cause a race issue and involve us in diplomatic controversies with Oriental powers.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The laws pertaining to the civil service have been honestly and rigidly enforced to the end that merit and ability shall be the standard of appointment and promotion rather than services rendered to a political party.

THE NAVY.

The constitutional provision that a navy shall be provided and maintained means an adequate navy, and we believe that the interests of this country would be best served by having a navy sufficient to defend the coasts of this country, and protect American citizens wherever their rights may be in jeopardy.

PUBLICITY OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

We demand federal legislation forever terminating the partnership which has existed between corporations of the country and the republican party under the expressed or implied agreement that in return for the contribution of great sums of money to the party, the party should be allowed to continue substantially uncontrolled in their efforts to encroach upon the rights of the people.

In order that this practice shall be stopped for all time, we demand the passage of a statute punishing with imprisonment any officer of a corporation who shall either contribute on behalf of or consent to the contribution by a corporation, of any money or thing of value to be used in furthering the election of a president or vice president of the United States, or of any member of congress thereof.

We denounce the action of the republican party having complete control of the federal government, for its failure to pass the bill introduced in the last congress, to compel the publication of the names of contributors and the amounts contributed toward congressional funds, and point to the evidence of their insincerity, when they sought by an absolutely irrelevant and impossible amendment to defeat the passage of the bill.

We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law preventing any corporation contributing to a campaign fund and any individual from contributing an amount above a reasonable minimum, and providing for the publication before election of all such contributions. Attention is called to the refusal of the republicans to declare against such practices.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. We regard this reform as the gateway to other national reforms.

PAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

The democratic party recognizes the importance and advantages of developing closer ties of Pan-American friendship and commerce between the United States and other nations of Latin-America and favors the taking of such steps.

GRAZING LANDS.

The establishment of rules and regulations, in relation to grazing upon the public lands outside of forest or other reservations, until the same shall eventually be disposed of, should be left to the people of the states respectively in which such lands may be situated.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

The national democratic party has for the last sixteen years labored for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states of the federal union and recognizing that each possesses every qualification to successfully maintain separate state government, we favor the immediate admission of these territories as separate states.

OKLAHOMA.

We welcome Oklahoma to the sisterhood of states and heartily congratulate late her on the auspicious beginning of a great career.

ALASKA AND PORTO RICO.

We demand for the people of Alaska and Porto Rico the full enjoyment of the rights and privileges of a territorial form of government. The officials appointed to administer the government of all our territories and the District of Columbia should be thoroughly qualified by previous bona fide residence.

HAWAII.

We favor the application of principles of the land laws of the United States to our newly acquired territory, Hawaii, to the end that the public lands of that territory may be held and utilized for the benefit of bona fide homesteaders.

MERCHANT MARINE.

We believe in the upholding of the American merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without benefits from the public treasury.

Desiring the prevention of war wherever possible, we believe that our nation should maintain its determination not to use our navy for the collection of private debts, and be willing to enter into agreements with other nations, providing for the investigation by an impartial international tribunal, before any declaration of war or commencement of hostilities of every dispute which defies diplomatic settlement.

HEALTH BUREAU.

We advocate the organization of all existing national public health agencies into a national bureau of public health, with such powers over sanitary conditions as do not interfere with the power of the states controlling health controlling agencies.

PANAMA CANAL.

We believe the Panama canal will prove of great value to our country and favor its speedy completion.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN CITIZENS.

We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad. We demand that all over the world a duly authorized passport issued by the government of the United States to an American citizen shall be proof of his right to enter him to the treatment due him as such.

NATURAL RESOURCES.

We repeat the demand for international development and for the conservation of our natural resources, contained in previous platforms; the enforcement of which Mr. Roosevelt has vainly sought from a reluctant party, and to that end, we insist upon the preservation, protection and replacement of needed forests, the preservation of the public domain for home seekers, the protection of the natural resources in timber, coal, iron and oil against monopolistic control, the development of our waterways for navigation and every other useful purpose, and, to such end, we urge the exercise of all powers, national, state and municipal, both separately and in co-operation.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL EDUCATION.

The democratic party favors the extension of agricultural, mechanical and industrial education. We therefore favor the establishment of district agricultural experiment stations, the secondary agricultural and mechanical colleges in the several states.

POST ROADS.

We favor federal aid to state and local authorities in the construction and maintenance of post roads.

FOREIGN PATENTS.

We believe that where an American citizen holding a patent in a foreign country is compelled to manufacture under his patent within a certain time, similar restrictions should be applied in this country to the citizens or subjects of such a country.

PENSIONS.

We favor a generous pension policy, both as a matter of justice to the surviving veterans and their dependents and because it tends to relieve the country of the necessity of maintaining a large standing army.

TRUSTS.

A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against guilty trust magnates and officials and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States. Among the additional remedies we specify three:

First—A law preventing a duplication of directors among competing corporations.

Second—A license system which will, without abridging the right of each state to create corporations or its right to regulate as it will foreign corporations doing business within its limits, make it necessary for a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce to take out a federal license before it shall be permitted to control as much as twenty-five per cent. of the product in which it deals, the license to protect the public from watered stock and to prohibit the control by such corporation of more than fifty per cent. of the total amount of any product consumed in the United States.

Third—A law compelling such licensed corporations to sell to all purchasers in all parts of the country on the same terms, after making due allowance for cost and transportation.

CONCLUSION.

The democratic party stands for democracy; the republican has drawn to itself all that is aristocratic and plutocratic.

The democratic party is the champion of civil rights and opportunities to all; the republican party is the party of privilege and private monopoly. The democratic party listens to the voice of the whole people and urges progress by the prosperity and advancement of the masses; the republican party is also-rather to the comparatively few who are the beneficiaries of government favoritism. We invite the cooperation of all, regardless of previous political affiliations or past differences, who desire to preserve a government of the people, by the people and for the people, who favor such an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that every citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society.

NIGHT EDITION

LOWELL'S AERO PARK

Will Be Installed in Short Time

Secretary McKenna, of the board of trade, had a conference yesterday with Treasurer Motley and Supt. Buckminster of the Lowell Gaslight company relative to the proposed aero park in this city.

Supt. Buckminster had previously visited North Adams, where ascensions are being made, in search of information relative to the project, while one of the most noted gas experts in the country recently visited the local plant to see if the quality of gas manufactured here would be suited to the purpose of aerial navigation. The expert assured Messrs. Motley and Buckminster that the local plant can manufacture as good, if not better gas than the North Adams people.

In regard to installing a plant the Gaslight company has three sites to offer, two of which are particularly desirable on account of the small expense that would be necessary in converting either of them into an aero park.

Secretary McKenna was asked to communicate with Mr. Glidden and his committee, the other members of which are Prof. Rotch and H. H. Clayton, of the Blue Hill observatory, and Mr. McKenna wrote to Mr. Glidden today asking them to come to Lowell and look over the sites for the purpose of making a selection. Mr. McKenna expects an early reply and is confident that Lowell will have an aero park in a short time.

BRYAN NOMINATED

HON. WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

The Nebraskan Received 892 1-2
Votes on the First and Only Ballot

DENVER, Colo., July 10.—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska was nominated for the third time for the office of president of the United States by the democratic national convention at 3.40 a. m. this morning amid scenes of frenzied enthusiasm. The result came after an all-night session which was kept in a constant state of turmoil up to the culminating moment when the Nebraska leader was proclaimed the choice of the convention as the democratic standard bearer.

The nomination was made on the first and only ballot, the vote standing: Bryan, 892 1/2; Johnson, 59 1/2; Gray, 59 1/2. The announcement of the vote was the signal for a wild demonstration, equaling in turbulence if not in duration the record-breaking display which on Wednesday afternoon greeted the first mention of Mr. Bryan's name in the convention. The scene within the convention at the moment the nomination was made was one of stirring animation. From pit to dome the vast building was packed with ten thousand people lined up in the rotunda galleries after hours of waiting and intense discomfort of a hot night. It was a spectacle of grand proportions, tier on tier, and gallery on gallery of excited forms, the women in white, the delegates massed below, many of them wearing a myriad of fans fluttering to combat the stifling heat and close atmosphere of the long pent-up exuberant multitude, ever ready to spring into feverish outbreaks of enthusiasm and everywhere the blaze of flags and bunting and patriotic devices and the enveloping folds of Old Glory. Twice before the throng had been moved into a great ecstasy, first by the speech placing the name of Bryan in nomination and again when that of Gov. Johnson of Minnesota was presented, but these manifestations paled before the culminating outburst of emotion.

BEDLAM OF SOUND.

As the announcement of the Nebraska actual nomination was made the whole assembly rose on massive waving flags, handkerchiefs, newspapers, hats and coats, anything and everything which hands could lay upon to wave aloft or hurl into the air while a bedlam of sound poured out from the ten thousand throats in exultant yells, cat calls, commanche war whoops with the added din of shrieking horns, the roar of megaphones and the strains of the band playing an exultant anthem.

When for a moment order could be secured out of this tempestuous chaos of demonstration, state after state which had at first recorded its vote for Johnson or Gray fell into line with the overwhelming column and the nomination was made unanimous and by acclamation.

NEW YORK FOR BRYAN.

The taking of the vote had been followed with breathless interest as state after state swelled the Bryan strength. When New York was reached in the call of states the announcement of Chief Murphy "seventy-eight votes for Bryan" brought out a wild outburst of enthusiasm which for a time compelled the suspension of the roll call. A further delay was caused by a demonstration for a poll of the New York delegates.

On this poll many of the New York delegates including Judge Alton Park, the presidential nominee four years ago, remained silent, but the entire 78 votes of the delegation were cast for Bryan under the "unit rule." Pennsylvania was similarly called after sharp disagreement within the delegation and the vote of Pennsylvania as finally cast was divided. The convention adjourned at 3.50 o'clock this morning until 1 p. m. after having been in session continuously for more than 18 hours. As the delegates and spectators left the hall the echoes of enthusiasm continued to roar through the building while those outside took up the shout and tore it along the silent streets awakening the city just as the first pale rays of dawn were breaking in the east with the resounding chorus of "Bryan, Bryan, Bryan."

It remains now only to nominate the candidate for vice-president and the work of the convention is concluded. This nomination will be made this afternoon.

Along with the intense interest of the night the delegates had little time to devote to the vice-presidential selection and the final names of the available candidates are being forwarded in this morning. Most of the delegates were hurriedly warded after the long, nerve-racking sessions of the night and it was late today before the men of action began again to take up the threads of discussion over the still half-faded scene in the hall when the nomination of Bryan was made, the assemblage had listened for hours to the oratory of nominating speeches which moved them frequently to outbursts of fresh enthusiasm. It had been expected that the platform would be ready for adoption at 4 o'clock in the evening when the night session began. But at that hour the committee on resolutions was still struggling with plans relating to the currency, the tariff, the Mormon question and other important subjects. A

ONE WOMAN KILLED

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 10.—One woman was killed, one seriously injured and other persons had a narrow escape from death this afternoon when a trolley car became stalled on the Bartlett street crossing and a Boston and Maine train of coal cars backed down upon it.

The dead: MRS. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN, 49 years, killed instantly. The injured: Joseph Chamberlain, her husband, probably fatal body injuries. Taken to Cottage hospital.

Roy Walsh, slightly, taken to his home. The trolley was in charge of Conductor H. H. Tucker, and Motorman C. P. Hayes. The trolley pole jumped the wire and left the car standing helpless on the tracks. Before the trolley could be readjusted the train crashed into the car. Most of the passengers realized the danger and jumped to safety. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain and the Walsh boy, however, were not quick enough. Coroner A. J. Lance is conducting an investigation.

MANY CANDIDATES

DENVER, July 10.—The terrific strain of the all night session caused the majority of the delegates to sleep late today and the state headquarters were as a general thing practically deserted during the middle hours of the morning. Several lightly attended conferences regarding the vice-presidency were in session at the various hotels but nothing decisive had developed from them by 11 o'clock. The most important of these gatherings was in the room of Charles Bryan, the brother of the nominee, in the Brown Palace hotel. Mr. Bryan declared that while the vice-presidency was under consideration no agreement had been reached. He added that he was absolutely without advice of any kind of Lincoln regarding the second place on the ticket.

Other Bryan leaders intimated that it was likely that if on the first ballot any one man showed a strong lead they would, provided he was one of several men who would be satisfactory to Mr. Bryan, throw all their strength to him.

The name of Gray of Delaware was frequently mentioned but there seemed to be a fear that he would not accept the place. The friends of John Kern of Indiana were especially active and there seemed to be a strong tide of sentiment getting in for him. The Kentucky delegation declared itself for Kern first, second for Gaynor, and third for John Mitchell, Gov. Folk of Missouri said that he could not say what his state would do but added that he had no intention of permitting his own name to be presented to the convention. Several of the Missouri delegation declared themselves as favoring Kern.

"What's the use?" asked ex-Senator James Smith of New Jersey when inquired of also whether he had heard any suggestions regarding the vice-presidency.

Go to Bryan, the delegates know nothing about it. Mr. Bryan will name his running mate and he should name him. I think about the vice-presidency just as I did about the platform and that is that Mr. Bryan should be consulted and his wishes respected."

Mr. Smith's expression represented the sentiment among democratic leaders but there were many who believed that Mr. Bryan would not undertake to dictate the nomination for the second place. Accordingly there was a shower of candidates early in the morning. Among others mentioned and urged were Charles A. Towne, Martin W. Littleton and Lewis Nixon of New York; ex-Gov. Francis of Missouri; Douglas of Massachusetts and Charles Howell of Georgia.

"Delaware will be for Howell," said Mr. Maxwell, manager of Judge Gray's candidacy, "because in the first place he and the Georgia delegation gave their loyal support to Judge Gray for the presidency and in the next place we consider Howell a strong and available man."

There were those who expressed the opinion that New York would be glad to designate anyone who would be satisfactory to Mr. Bryan. There was, however, a tendency toward Mr. Nixon, a resident of New York. Mr. Towne is the early morning word. Mr. Morgan is not spontaneously named by the New York delegation notwithstanding the fact that there had been considerable press brought to bear in his interest by the friends of Mr. Towne. One of the associates in business with J. P. Morgan, went to the extent of calling Mr. Morgan in Mr. Towne's behalf with the result that Mr. Towne is giving the closest attention to the details of his campaign. There was also an effort in behalf of ex-Governor Francis of Massachusetts on the ground that his nomination would satisfy the labor element more completely than would that of any other man (excluding John Mitchell, who has declined to be a candidate).

Mr. Kern was in decided favor among many delegates not only on the ground that he was in complete sympathy with Mr. Bryan but also because of his record as a doubtful state. For the first time during the convention Gov. Kern's friends were actively in his behalf and one of them, John Foster Walker, now of this state, but formerly of New York, urged Mr. Bryan as follows: "Against the democracy is about to nominate a vice-presidential candidate as vigorous as the nomination of Sherman. Now into a Cleveland democracy and your association puts the power as completely away as it is in the hands of Sherman. Nominate a weakling and the nomination spells defeat. The entire country has confidence in Kern. He is thoroughly tried and has proven himself in every way. His nomination would insure complete victory."

Mr. Walker's speech was weakened by his failure to secure the support of the entire Missouri delegation.

6 O'CLOCK CAPTURED TOWN

The Rebels are Making Inroads in Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, July 10.—News has been received here that the rebels who are fighting against President Davila of Honduras have captured the town of Choluteca and are threatening Santa Barbara. It is reported here that the movement in Honduras is being aided in a guarded manner by the government of Salvador and Guatemala and certain information was received last night which tends strongly to confirm these rumors.

Choluteca is one of the most strongly fortified positions in Honduras. The insurgents already are in possession of the town of Gracias and their position will be much strengthened by the capture of Choluteca.

22 INDICTMENTS

Returned Against Men Accused of Race Track Betting

NEW YORK, July 10.—Indictments which sustained on trial may send twenty men, charged with bookmaking, to jail for one year each, were reported by the Kings county grand jury today under the recently enacted anti-betting laws. Under the law, which makes the offense charged in the indictments a misdemeanor, only a prison sentence may be imposed upon conviction. It is likely that in the event of one or more convictions on the indictments at least one case will be carried to the higher courts for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the law. If this is done the chief contention of counsel for the respondent is expected to be based upon the severity of the penalty provided.

Everyone of the twenty-two men named by the grand jury was present in court when the jury's report was made. Pleas of not guilty were accepted and Judge Pike paroled all the men in the custody of their counsel until later in the day when they will be called upon to furnish bail in the sum of $25 each.

Of the 22 men indicted, three are members of the Metropolitan Turf Association, an organization of bookmakers. They are George Caffarelli, Orlando Jones and Edward J. Callahan. All the men were operating open books at the Metropolitan tracks previous to the passage of the anti-gambling laws.

LIQUOR CASES

Many Disposed of in Police Court

TWO FINES OF $150 EACH

Whiskey Profits Will go to the County

Nearly the entire session of the police court today was devoted to the hearing of cases of illegal keeping and selling of liquor and some heavy fines were imposed.

John Hanna, Michael Assell and James Petros were charged with both keeping and selling, and being found guilty were fined $150 each.

Daniel J. Donahue appeared for Petros and the two other defendants were represented by J. J. Murphy.

Inspector Atkinson of the liquor squad was the first witness called for the government. He said he knew James Petros and that the latter keeps a pool room at 27 Adams street. On the night of July 20, about 11:15 o'clock, inspectors Atkinson and Dwyer and Patrolmen John L. Hanna and O'Sullivan met in Rock street.

O'Sullivan was searched and then went over to Petros' store. He entered the store and later witness, Inspector Dwyer and Patrolman Donovan went in after him. Witness stopped Patrolman O'Sullivan, and searching him found a half pint bottle of whiskey in one of his pockets. O'Sullivan said he had purchased the liquor from Hanna and Hanna acknowledged he had made the sale.

Patrolman Donovan went behind the cigar counter and opening a drawer found a half-pint bottle of whiskey which Petros said belonged to him, he having purchased it for his own use. Inspector Atkinson then went upstairs to a three room tenement and in one of the rooms found 10 half pint bottles of whiskey under a bed. Witness asked Petros who owned the liquor and the latter said he did not know the first thing about it.

Cross-examined by Lawyer Donahue, Inspector Atkinson testified that he passed the store in question on an average of three or four times a week and never before heard of any liquor being sold there, neither had he ever seen any liquor sold nor seen any intoxicated person about the premises. Witness visited the place on June 23, but saw no signs of keeping or sale of liquor on that date.

Inspector Philip Dwyer was called, but he did not testify as counsel for the defense agreed that his testimony would be practically the same as that offered by Inspector Atkinson.

Patrolman O'Sullivan testified that he went to Petros' store on Sunday, June 23, and entering the store asked Petros if he had any whiskey. Petros said, "What man (pointing to Assell) will get it for you."

Witness then followed Assell through a rear door and was given half a pint of whiskey for which he paid 25 cents. Witness also testified that on the night of May 26th, about 2:30 o'clock, he went to Petros' store and purchased a half pint of whiskey from Hanna.

Lawyer Donahue started to cross-examine witness in a very rigid manner as to how he remembered the dates on which he called at Petros' store. When asked what kind of a day May 26th was, witness said it was pleasant day, but later acknowledged that it was a stormy day.

Witness said that on none of the occasions when he called at the store, did Petros sell him any liquor. He acknowledged that on the night of July 30, when he called and asked Petros for whiskey, that the latter made no answer to the question, but simply walked out of the store into the street.

Patrolman John J. Donovan, who patrols the beat in the vicinity of Petros' store, was called. He said that Hanna has been hanging around the premises for five or six weeks and Assell for two or three weeks.

The government rested its case at this point.

Michael Assell, one of the defendants, was called and said he resided at 21 Suffolk street. He never saw either Patrolmen Donovan or O'Sullivan and never sold any liquor to the latter.

James Petros, another of the defendants, testified he never sold any liquor, neither did he ever keep any liquor on his premises. He said the half pint of whiskey the officers found in the drawer in the store was for his own personal use as he expected to work all night.

Hanna, the third defendant, was not placed on the stand to testify.

After summing up the evidence in the case all three defendants were found guilty of illegal sale and fined $2,000. They were also found guilty of illegal keeping and fined $100 each. They appealed and each was held under $500 bonds for the superior court.

MORE RUM TROUBLE.

Joseph Jones was charged with illegally keeping and selling liquor and through his counsel, James P. Owens, entered pleas of not guilty. It was alleged that Jones was selling the "hipper" act, having sold a pint of liquor to Patrolman O'Sullivan, who was in citizen's clothes at the time the sale was made.

Jones was found guilty and sentenced to six months in jail, three months for illegal sale and three for illegal keeping.

Patrolman Thomas B. O'Sullivan testified to meeting Jones on Appleton street on Sunday. On Sunday, June 21, witness met Jones at the corner of Middlesex and Thorne streets and asked him for a pint of whiskey. Jones told the officer to come with him and they started to walk up Thorne street hill. After walking about 30 yards Jones called to a young man on the other side of the street and the latter came over to them. Jones said "Give me the big bottle." O'Sullivan was given a pint of whiskey for which he paid half a dollar.

The officer also saw Jones at Fiske's market in Middlesex street on Sunday, June 14. On another occasion witness said he called at 8 Watson avenue where Jones lives and found two dozen bottles of ale.

THE KITSON SHOP

Cheerful Signs of Improvement There

Business has so improved with the Kitson Machine company that it switched from a four to a five days a week schedule. The change was made this week, the shop having been running but four days a week for the last three months.

Asked if the change would be permanent, one in authority at the shop said: "We hope that it will, but there's nothing certain about it. We are rushed just at this time because there are a number of orders on hand that must be gotten out at once. We are optimistic, however, and hope that we will be able to continue at five days a week until the time comes when we will run the full week schedule."

on the South common on the Sunday referred to, but did not see the whiskey bottle, neither did he see any money change hands.

Inspector Atkinson said he had known Jones for three months. On the morning of the Fourth he went to 6 Watson avenue. Jones was placed under arrest by Inspector Dwyer and asked if he lived at 6 Watson avenue. He said he did not live there. He was searched, however, and a key as found which fitted the lock. The door was opened and upon entering 24 bottles of beer and nine empty whiskey flasks found.

Witness testified to a peculiar transaction in which Jones figured on Sunday, June 7. He also saw Jones on the two succeeding Sundays in Middlesex street.

AN OLD OFFENDER.

Thomas Carroll, an old offender, was charged with being drunk. He entered a plea of not guilty, but after the arresting officer testified the court found him guilty. The officer said Carroll was intoxicated while lying on the grass on the North common. He informed the officer that he had no home and the officer placed him under arrest. It was Carroll's fourth offense and he was also under a suspended sentence of four months in jail. The suspension was revoked and Carroll was committed to jail.

SENT TO REFORMATORY.

Alphonse Lanline was charged with the larceny of $3 in money the property of Frederick Nichols. He was found guilty and sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory.

James Andrew was charged with drunkenness. Patrolman Bigelow said that the prisoner was very disorderly and troublesome when intoxicated. Andrew was fined $10 for being drunk and placed under two bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Michael Burton, a second offender, was fined $5.

There was one drunk and two simple offenders released.

CORONER'S JURY

Reports on Death of Dr. Wilson

PHILADELPHIA, July 10.—The coroner's jury in the Wilson murder case returned a verdict that Dr. Wilson came to his death from cyanide potassium at the hands of an unknown person.

Acting Coroner Sellers conducted the inquest and Assistant Attorney General Gray represented the commonwealth. Mrs. Wilson was the first witness called.

The widow said that her husband had had a quarrel with a man who had come to him and demanded $25. She said the money was paid to the man, but she did not know for what purpose beyond that his wife was sick and that he must have the money. He had threatened her husband if he did not comply with the request. When asked if she knew the man's name she said she did not.

SHERMAN TO RETIRE.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Rep. Sherman, candidate for vice president on the republican ticket, in a short time will retire from the republican congressional committee of which he is chairman. This determination has been reached by Mr. Sherman and other republican leaders within a day or two. The announcement of Mr. Sherman's prospective resignation was made here today by Senator Hemenway of Indiana who accompanied by Rep. McKinley of Illinois arrived in Washington this morning from Hot Springs.

The decision of Mr. Sherman to retire after very careful consideration. He was finally deemed wise for him to relinquish his duties as chairman of the congressional committee largely on account of the duties which will devolve on him as one of the national candidates. It has not been determined yet who his successor will be.

Senator Hemenway and Rep. McKinley left here today to join Speaker Cannon in Chicago and the three will go thence to Mackinac Island in the upper great lakes for a brief rest. It has not been determined yet whether Mr. Hemenway will undertake the direction of the western campaign with headquarters at Chicago. Senator Hemenway has an important campaign in his own state this year and feels that he ought to devote much time to that.

The Economy Fruit Jar demonstration at the Thompson Hardware Co. is attracting the attention of housekeepers generally. It is surely worth any housekeeper's time to see it. This can cure all trouble.

DIVORCE SUIT

Not Dropped Says Mrs. Frank J. Gould

NEW YORK, July 10.—"I have not discontinued my action against my husband for absolute divorce," said Mrs. Frank J. Gould yesterday afternoon at her home, Belle Haven, Conn., "and wherever the rumor arose that this suit has been dropped is beyond my comprehension."

"There will be no reconciliation. My separation from my husband is permanent."

At the moment Mrs. Gould was making this statement to a reporter, Mr. Gould's yacht was lying off Bell Haven and he was being transported in the dingy to his own home a short distance from the summer home of his wife. She has not seen him in weeks.

"I have not seen a reporter regarding my domestic affairs until today," said Mrs. Gould, "and this is my final interview relating to the affairs of my household. The bill of particulars in the case has not been discontinued, nor will it be."

"Has the complaint been filed, Mrs. Gould?" was asked.

"My attorney has not notified me," was the rejoinder. "But that it will be I have no doubt."

"There have been no overtures for reconciliation, and I expect none. My attorney has the evidence necessary in this action, and the case will come to trial or go before a referee."

SAVES OFFICER

Paul Kelly Goes to the Rescue

NEW YORK, July 10.—Eight rapid shots in the heart of Harlem's Little Italy last night were a signal to Patrolman Joseph Way, and started him on a chase that, had it not been for friendly intervention, would probably have had a fatal ending for him.

Way ran to the vacant lot on One Hundred and Thirtieth street, opposite Thomas Jefferson Park, from which the sound came, and saw two men running away. A crowd of 2000 had gathered and were shouting and gestulating.

The officer took after the fugitives and the crowd followed him. The chase led to Second avenue and then south to No. 2154, where the fleeing pair ran into a basement.

Way was close upon them, but at the door of the basement he stopped, realizing that to go in meant to himself a target. The crowd surrounded the policeman, and a few English-speaking voices were heard shouting, "Kill the cop!"

"At this juncture, with the two fugitives at bay inside and the howling crowd angry at the interference, Paul Kelly, who has a saloon at One Hundred and Twelfth street and Second avenue, came up, and after a vehement exhortation to the crowd quieted them."

"Way then advanced into the basement, flashing his lantern, but as the ray swept around the room he discovered the reflecting flash of two revolvers pointed at him."

He jumped back and as he did so two bullets sunk into the woodwork of the doorway in which he had been standing.

Then, reinforced by Paul Kelly, the policeman put out his light, and with as little noise as possible got within reach of the two fugitives and grasped them with him.

After a severe tussle the two runners were subdued and taken to the East One Hundred and Fourth street station, where they were locked up on charges of assault.

They gave the names of Mauro and Leo Duval brothers. Mauro said he lived at No. 421 East One Hundred and Twelfth street, and Leo gave his address as the house into which they ran.

In the meantime another policeman had found an injured man lying in the vacant lot which was the scene of the shooting. At Harlem hospital an examination showed him to have a gunshot wound in the right arm and on the right side of the chest. He gave the name of Ties Clemente of No. 35 East One Hundred and Fourteenth street. He is expected to die.

JUMPED THREE STORIES

Insane Man Does a Remarkable Stunt

Landed on Concrete Walk and Then Ran Quarter of a Mile—Well Known Young Man Sent Away Today

Jean Madraso, aged 34 years, living in Dows' block, Back Central street, did a stunt last night shortly before midnight that would kill a man ordinarily.

Madraso is insane and his hallucination last night was that someone was trying to kill him. To escape from his imagined enemy, the unfortunate fellow jumped out of a three story window, landing on a concrete walk in the rear of the building.

Officer Hersey, who was nearby, heard the noise of his contact with the walk and ran over to the yard expecting to find the man unconscious if not dead. His surprise knew no bounds when upon entering the yard Madraso jumped up and rushed by him and up Central street, running like mad. Officer Hersey is considered one of the fast runners of the police department, but he had reached Hosford square before he captured the insane man. On the way to the police station Madraso, who speaks no English, held his spine and appeared in great distress.

This morning Officer Noye was called and conversed with him in Portuguese and Madraso claimed that his back was injured and that he was going to die. City Physician Smith was summoned and after examining Madraso said that no bones appeared to be broken though his back was probably badly injured and suggested his removal to the City hospital.

But through the workings of some new rule under which the hospital cannot accept a patient unless under a written order from the city physician the unfortunate man was allowed to lie suffering intensely in the detention room all morning.

Madraso spent the morning kneeling at the bed with his face buried in the bed clothing and both hands holding his back.

SENT TO DANVERS.

A particularly sad case of insanity which it is hoped is but temporary took the attention of Drs. Benner, Loughran and Carroll when a well known and popular young man was committed to Danvers by Judge Hadley on application of his wife, who has two small children to provide for. Having recently lost a considerable amount of money in the stock company followed by the loss of his position, as the result of the removal of his firm from this city, the young man worried himself into a state of mental collapse and becoming violent last evening was taken to the police station and kept in the detention room. After the session of police court the young man was taken before the court and formally committed.

committee, appointed by the convention to learn how soon the platform would be ready, reported that it would be ready by the time the document was ready for the consideration of the convention. Thereupon on motion of Congressman James of Kentucky the regular order of procedure was suspended and the convention proceeded to call the roll of states for nominations for the presidency with the understanding that the nominating and seconding speeches would be made without the final vote until the platform had been adopted.

At 8 o'clock the nominating speeches began and delegates and spectators were stirred with eager expectancy as the supreme and long deferred work of nominating the presidential candidate was begun. Alabama, the first state on the roll, preceded to Nebraska, whose spokesman, the youthful Senator Ignatius J. Dunn of Omaha, advanced to the platform. He spoke in good voice, with great earnestness and to a sympathetic audience who greeted each utterance of tribute to the Nebraska leader with demonstrative evidence of approval. His concluding passage was a fervid tribute to the commoner as the intrepid leader who had borne aloft the flag of democracy through the campaigns of 1896 and 1900 with the devotion and faith of the Crusaders of old, "America's great commoner, Nebraska's gifted son, William J. Bryan." This was the signal for a long continued uproar rivaling in intensity and duration the demonstration of yesterday, which lasted one hour and twenty minutes. Again the whole assembly was washed into a fury of excitement. The delegates seized the state standards and gathered them on the president's office platform, while all the galleries broke into clamor. The demonstration lasted upwards of 45 minutes. At times it assumed such proportions of madness as the excited throngs rushed through the aisles toward the platform that there was serious danger of panic. One woman fainted and was carried from the hall. The nomination of Gov. Johnson precipitated another whirlwind of excitement if not as long sustained hardly less enthusiastic than for Bryan.

MINNESOTA MEN.

The delegation from Minnesota, standing on their chairs and waving flags, hats and everything that could be waved, were the storm center of the demonstration while groups of scattered delegates here and there lent their energy to those of Minnesota. The galleries, too, seemed to contain an ample supply of Johnson enthusiasm and on every hand the waves of the Johnson demonstration swept back and forth from end to end through the great building. When it had lasted a considerable time the convention officers sought to restore order. The sergeant-at-arms was ordered to seat the delegates and every effort was made to bring the convention back to a state of submission, but in vain. The demonstration went on with unabated fury until it had spent itself after more than a quarter of an hour of vociferous tumult. The Gray nomination also received its full share of enthusiasm, although the nominating speech of Irving Handy of Delaware was frequently interrupted by the impatient crowd and finally by the arrival of the committee on resolutions bearing the completed platform. It was after midnight when the nominating speeches were temporarily suspended to receive the report of the committee. Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma, chairman of the committee, made the report in a nutshell at the outset that it was presented as the unanimous view of the committee, the entire membership of the committee ranging themselves on the platform flanking Gov. Haskell as evidence of their united attitude. A reading of party principles was received with close attention and with frequent demonstrations of assent. The provision concerning injunctions was punctuated with applause from the delegates and spectators.

The platform adopted by a rousing unanimous vote. The speeches seconding the nomination of candidates were then resumed with a limit of five minutes for each speech. The seconding speeches for Bryan included those of Gov. Glenn, Gov. Swanson, Rep. Hefflin, Augustus Thomas, J. C. Kern of Illinois, W. W. Powers and ex-Senator J. O. W. Powers and John J. Lynch of Ohio. The seconding speech for Gov. Johnson was by Attorney General Straus of Maryland, that for Judge Gray by P. J. O'Boyle of Pennsylvania.

Most of these had been scheduled in advance, but on the day of the convention Bryan sentiment and the desire to record the various states to record their preference for him many impromptu speeches were made and nearly every state voiced its approval of his candidacy. For nearly sixty hours the committee on resolutions as a whole or in sub-committees was practically in continuous session at work upon the platform.

Whole planks were referred back to the sub-committees for redrafting and even what was intended to be the final draft was in the hands of the press associations to be telegraphed to the newspapers from Cape Cod to the Golden Gate, changes of phraseology were made, sentences were turned about for more forceful expression; word by word, and plank by plank the platform was minutely scrutinized in the effort for clearness and perfection of expression. When Chairman Haskell finally took it under his arm and jumped into an automobile for his flying trip to the waiting multitude in the convention hall the document that he bore was the unanimous expression of the committee; there was no smallest suggestion of a minority report.

THE TRUST QUESTION.

The plank on the trust question was the last to be adopted by the committee and it had been the subject of a long debate. Judge Parker of New York, ex-Senator Smith of New Jersey and Senator Newlands of Nevada had been united in opposition to any expression on the subject. Senator Smith provoked a long debate by an amendment to the last plank, suggesting the necessity of recognizing the cost of labor in revising tariff schedules but it was strongly opposed by his colleagues and was finally withdrawn as it was said upon receipt of a request by telegram from Mr. Bryan himself.

Ex-Senator Dubois of Idaho proposed an anti-monopoly plank which was finally defeated by a vote of 20 to 2. In this connection a telegram from Mr. Bryan to his brother here in response to an inquiry on the subject was read as follows:

"I have not taken any part or expressed any opinion on the subject referred to in your telegram. There are several subjects especially interested in that subject and I think they should all be permitted to present their views and that the committee on resolutions should then decide the question according to its judgment. It will not be influenced one way or the other by me."

It always will be a question whether Bryan was nominated officially on Friday. According to the big clock in the convention hall it was still a few minutes before midnight on Thursday, the 9th of July. When the hands of the clock in the auditorium last night pointed close to the hour of twelve a superstitious sergeant-at-arms climbed to the top of the railings opposite the speaker's platform and stopped time in its flight. The cheers which followed indicated that the assembly and visitors did not want to see important business transacted on Friday.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER THERE.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan-Leavitt remained during the entire session. Not until the votes had been cast and her father nominated did she leave her seat in her box at the south end of the auditorium and join the crowd hurrying homeward. When enthusiasm at the mention of the great leader's name broke loose all eyes were turned towards Mrs. Leavitt who was smiling and happy.

Many of the delegates did not go to bed at all after the close of the session but what soon became broad daylight waiting the streets till breakfast time or took early trolley rides through the empty streets to suburbs. Several prospective candidates for the vice presidency were removed from the canvases yesterday in one way or another. Most conspicuous of these withdrawals was that of David Francis of Missouri. It was made more emphatic than ever that Judge Gray's name could not be used even though it was well understood that had he consented to the use of his name he would have been perhaps the most likely of all to receive the nomination. The Massachusetts people made it clear that ex-Gov. Douglas of that state would not be available.

In the early hours of the morning, Rep. Francis B. Harrison of New York announced that he would be a candidate only in the event of his endorsement by the New York delegation. Inasmuch as the New York delegation had taken the position that it would have no candidate for either office this seemingly removes Harrison from the field.

Those remaining are numerous and in the early hours of the day it was hard to say which was in the lead. Many of the delegates took but a small part in the morning's discussions of the matter in the belief that Mr. Bryan's preference should be considered and with some degree of expectation that by the time the afternoon session began a decisive intimation from that quarter would be at hand. Attention focussed rather eagerly upon an early morning rumor in favor of the nomination of Gov. Folk of Missouri.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

CONVENTION HALL, Denver, July 10.—The hall had not cooled out from the afternoon session when the crowds began to gather last night and the heat promised an uncomfortable ending to the protracted sitting. Rumors of delay in receiving the report of the platform committee filled the air and the delegates assembled, and they prepared for another probable session of convention oratory before the important business of the session could be reached.

At 7:15 the galleries were completely filled, and the majority of the delegates were in their seats. The hall was so crowded as to be almost dangerous. At 7:30 o'clock, it was whispered through the hall that the report of resolutions had finished its work and would, in a short time, be prepared to present its report to the convention. It was just 7:50 o'clock when Chairman Clayton began to rap for order, which he secured with the minute. Mr. Clayton recognized the selection of James Kerr as member of the national committee from that state in place of Gov. Guion of Missouri.

At 7:55 o'clock, when Chairman Clayton began to rap for order, which he secured with the minute. Mr. Clayton recognized the selection of James Kerr as member of the national committee from that state in place of Gov. Guion of Missouri.

"In November next," said Chairman Clayton, addressing the convention, "we will witness in New York the Tammany tiger drowning the republican elephant. When he called upon Governor Grady to speak, he was given a most enthusiastic welcome as he appeared on the rostrum. When he declared that the convention could nominate no candidate and adopt no platform that would not receive the united and enthusiastic support of the New York democracy he was given still greater applause, and he returned to his seat amid cries of "Grady, hurrah for Grady."

JUDGE WADE SPEAKS. Following Senator Grady, Chairman Clayton introduced Judge N. J. Wade of Iowa, a representative of the great corn state.

"I am sure the convention will be glad to concur in the request of Missouri to hear from Old Champ Clark of that state, one of the knightliest democrats who ever drew a glittering blade in defense of the party."

In these words Chairman Clayton introduced the next speaker, whose appearance on the platform was a signal for great cheering.

Mr. Clark predicted that the democrats would sweep the country from sea to sea.

"The republican party," Mr. Clark said, "is preparing to the country the effect of a dissolving virus. At Chicago Roosevelt forced on the convention a candidate for president that it did not want, and the convention forced on him a candidate for vice president that he did not want."

"During the Russian-Japanese war, a telegram came from the front saying, 'Kurnosin is a statu quo,' the sense of the village did not know what that meant, so they took the message to the wise man of the town, and he did not know what it meant, but he took a chance and he said:

"Fellers, statu quo means that Kuroptakin is in a hell of a fix. That's what the matter with the republican party."

The convention was convulsed.

Mr. Clark concluded with a tribute to Mr. Bryan as "the greatest living American."

The galleries, with an utter ignorance of the matter in which they should be governed, shouted cries of "Vote, vote."

When quiet was restored, the chair recognized Rep. Ollie James of Kentucky, of the committee sent to ascertain the probability of an early report from the committee on resolutions. Mr. James reported that the committee would not be ready to report before midnight. He then made a motion that the rules be suspended and that the nominating speeches for presidential candidates be made with the understanding, however, that no resolutions should be taken until after the report of the committee had been received. The motion was adopted and the rules were declared by the chair to be suspended and nominations to be in order.

"The secretary will now proceed to call the roll of states for nominations for the officers of president of the United States," shouted Chairman Clayton.

"Alabama," called the clerk. The chairman of that delegation arose and was recognized.

"Knowing that Nebraska will make no mistake in nominating the right man," he said, "Alabama yields to Nebraska."

"I. J. Dunn, Omaha, will speak for the Nebraska delegation," announced the chairman of that state, while the cheering which followed the first statement from Alabama continued unabated.

DUNN NOMINATES BRYAN.

Mr. Dunn is of middle age, with a determined looking, clean shaven face. He spoke clearly and with a pleasing manner.

As Mr. Dunn proceeded, almost every allusion he made to the character of Mr. Bryan was applauded, although he had not mentioned the name of the Nebraska candidate.

When he declared that his candidate was the choice of the militant democracy of the country, the convention broke into wild cheers. The already tense atmosphere was further heightened by the roar of applause swept through the building. While the cheering was at its height a white dove was freed from the gallery, and it flew across the convention hall, while the delegates hailed it with great enthusiasm and cheered as long as it was in sight.

WILD CHEERING.

Mr. Dunn brought out the name of "William Jennings Bryan" with much dramatic force, and the response from the great throng was electric. The delegates sprang up, the galleries followed suit, and the demonstration was under way in a manner that for the time being, the most ardent supporters of the cause, promised to rival its enthusiasm of yesterday.

A few minutes after the cheering began, an immense oil painting of Mr. Bryan was lowered from behind a monster American shield which had reposed over the chairman's desk ever since the convention began. The appearance of the picture raised the outburst.

The demonstrations set a dozen photographers to work and their flash-light explosions at times fairly shook the great building, while an immense amount of powder was used. The explosions filled the upper portion of the hall with choking white smoke, addition, vastly to the discomfort of those already forced to breathe the heavy atmosphere of the upper state.

The band in the gallery added to the celebration of the Bryan followers and the blare of horns, the roar of drums and the crash of cymbals could be heard above the din of the shouting hundreds on the floor and in the galleries.

One of the banners that aroused much enthusiasm was labelled "Missouri—Nominate Bryan and We Will Show You."

The members of the Missouri delegation bore up to the platform a white banner bearing the words "Missouri will give Bryan fifty thousand majority."

DEMONSTRATION CONTINUES.

In a few seconds the red, white and blue standard of Nebraska bearing the portrait of Mr. Bryan, was beside it and then came the various state standards which were grouped on the rostrum as they were yesterday. The crowd of demonstrators, apparently frenzied, stormed the press seats along the side leading to the speaker's stand. They broke down chairs and well light overturned the strong writing tables by sheer physical weight.

A number of newspaper men and telegraph operators were compelled to hastily leave their seats to avoid serious injury, so furious was the rush of the shoulders. Only six banners were missing from the list of states in the parade through the aisles after the grouping at the stage had broken into a procession. They were those of Maryland, Minnesota, New York, Georgia, New Jersey and Delaware.

The crowd in the parade was not nearly so numerous as that of Wednesday and many delegates mindful of torn clothing, refrained upon their chairs watching the demonstration. It was not that their loyalty was less than the day before, but they had been through the battle once and were not anxious for a repetition of their experiences of the day before.

BIRDS RELEASED.

Flocks of birds were released and they flew about the hall wild with terror, seeking some escape from the maddening tumult and uproar that raged on the floor.

The standards of New York and Georgia were quickly made the objects of attack and the crowd endeavored to drag them up and carry them in the parade. Strong hands, however, held the poles, and determined men were gathered close about them. It was evident that they could only be severed after a fight, and the parading enthusiasts quickly passed along. The men from Georgia and New York, however, held their ground throughout the demonstration and the standards never moved. Other states that kept their markers in place, although they were not made the objects of attack were Delaware, New Jersey and Minnesota. At 8:30, when the tumult had lasted 23 minutes, the parade halted in front of the speaker's stand, with the state standards clustered in a thick, the paraders stood and yelled like men whose political enthusiasm had for the time being been turned to a frenzy.

After 20 minutes of the demonstration, the pounding of Chairman Clayton's big gavel could be heard above the roar of the crowd. At first, however, it seemed only to serve as an incentive to louder Bryan cheers.

WOMEN IN DANGER.

At this time, many women who had been brought to the floor by their husbands, among the delegates, were in danger of being crushed by the frantic shouters and marchers, and sought refuge in the sections separate for the newspaper men which had been kept reasonably clear of the invaders after the first general onslaught.

A feature of the demonstration was that the greater part of the cheering and uproar was distinctly heard by the candidate at his home 500 miles away, a telephone wire having been placed in the hall and Mr. Bryan at the other end of the wire, at Fairview, was able to hear the cheering in his honor.

Forty-five minutes after the name of Bryan had been mentioned, Chairman Clayton again tried to stay the tumult, but in vain. Another five minutes elapsed, and he tried once more, but did not succeed even in driving the flag wavers from his own desk.

Mr. Clayton stood the invasion a few minutes longer and then bodily dragged the men from his desk. With uplifted hands he stood trying to restore order, and there were increasing signs now that the outburst had about run its course.

Some of the enthusiastic shouters on the speaker's rostrum lassoed the stuffed eagles which were suspended overhead and soon they were swinging forward and backward.

One measure calculated to cause a cessation of the shouting was the turning out of many of the lights in the clusters on the ceiling. This had a marked effect and a storm of hisses that was directed at the shouters from all parts of the hall helped the work amazingly.

At 10:20 p. m., when the demonstrations last cry had died away, Chairman Clayton directed the secretary to continue calling the roll of states. Arkansas passed and California yielded to Oregon. Ex-Sen. Geary of that state then was introduced to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Sen. Geary mentioned the name of Bryan in his first sentence but it received but a ripple of applause, the enthusiasm having completely spent itself. The senator spoke but a few minutes and left the stand with liberal applause.

Arkansas, which had passed early in the roll, gave way to North Carolina, and Governor Glenn, of that state took the stand to second the nomination of Bryan.

The crowd grew very impatient as the speaker continued his address and the repetition and the name of Mr. Bryan were heard in the chorus of cries. J. C. Kern of Illinois made a motion after Governor Glenn had concluded, that all seconding speeches be limited to 5 minutes. The motion was carried with a wild yell of approval.

The next speaker who rose to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan was Governor Swanson of Virginia.

THE JOHNSON MEN.

The opportunity of the Johnson supporters came when the roll called reached Connecticut, and that state gave way to Minnesota. Winfield S. Hammond of the latter state took the stand and amid a considerable volume of applause placed in nomination Governor Johnson of Minnesota.

Mr. Hammond, although he was speaking to a mass of delegates who had conclusively shown their preference for another candidate, made a most favorable impression on the convention for himself and his candidate. The speaker, who is a powerful, portly man, easily saw his way to the farthest corners of the hall, and his speech was heard with marked attention.

When Mr. Hammond concluded, the loyal sons of the North Star state responded with a cheer, and a number of delegates in Massachusetts and Oklahoma's came from the galleries, and the noise was but a whisper compared with the terrific roar of the Bryan demonstration. Some of the Georgia delegates mounted their seats after a few minutes and added their voices to those of Minnesota men.

Chairman Clayton was somewhat less tolerant in dealing with the Johnson shouters than he was with the Bryan followers, and the band failed to respond to Johnson's name. The demonstration had largely subsided within 25 minutes after it began.

The heat in the hall and the dust stirred up during the Bryan demonstration, and the dense clouds of powder from the flashlights caused intense thirst, and water was in great demand. At 11 o'clock it was selling two small glasses for 25 cents.

By the time that Governor Johnson had been placed in nomination the gallery crowds had materially dwindled.

GRAY NOMINATED.

While the cheers for Johnson were slowly dying out and the chairman was struggling with the obstreperous galleries, L. Irving Handy of Delaware was waiting on the rostrum to nominate George Gray of his state.

Some cheering was heard when Mr. Handy had concluded, but there was no "Gentlemen of the convention," said the chairman, "I now have the pleasure of presenting to you the chairman of the committee on resolutions, Gov. Haskell of Oklahoma."

The governor called forth loud cheers from the convention when he announced that there was division among the members of the committee and that he represented them all in presenting the report. He then read the platform.

When the call of the roll of states for presidential nominations was resumed, Florida yielded to Augustus Thomas of Missouri, who made a seconding speech in behalf of Mr. Bryan. General cheering followed the speech of Augustus Thomas. Senator Looney of Texas seconded the nomination of Bryan.

GEORGIA MAN CHEERED.

"The state of Georgia," called the clerk.

One of the delegates of that state jumped up on his chair and shouted "Spraking for the minority of the Georgia delegation, I pledged its 13 votes to Bryan in November."

A roar from the convention and the Georgia man was cheered frantically by the Bryan men.

"Idaho," called the clerk, continuing the roll call.

"Idaho yields to Texas," was the response, and Sen. Looney of the latter delegation, took the platform to add another second to the nomination of Mr. Bryan. Mr. Looney spoke briefly, but in glowing terms of the Nebraska man.

"Illinois," called the clerk, and W. Elza Williams of that state took the stand to deliver a seconding speech for Bryan.

"The state of Indiana," called the clerk.

John Kern arose and yielded the state's plume to Kentucky. Representative Ollie James being sent by that state to second the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Mr. James brought the convention once more to its feet in tumultuous cheering, when he declared Mr. Bryan belonged to no party, to no nation, to no race, to no humanity. When Mr. James was about to finish, a chorus of "Noes" came from delegates all over the floor. Several motions to extend the speaker's time were offered, but he would not consent, saying he would not delay the nomination of William J. Bryan, which would be made in a few minutes. He concluded amid much applause.

When Iowa was reached, J. B. Sullivan of that state arose to add more to the long and rapidly growing list of seconding speeches.

"Kansas," called the clerk, when Mr. Sullivan had concluded, and the chairman mounted on a chair, formally seconding the nomination of Mr. Bryan.

Louisiana offered Samuel P. Gilmore to second Bryan in its behalf, and he spoke briefly.

When Maryland was called, I. L. Strauss was recognized and there were cries of "No," "Sit down," and hisses.

Mr. Strauss endeavored to explain that in offering an amendment to the Lincoln motion, he desired to have incorporated therein the name of Robert E. Lee, but the convention declined to bear him. He finally gave up the attempt, and at the announcement that Maryland seconded the nomination of John A. Johnson, he resumed his seat.

Massachusetts yielded to Utah, and Judge O. W. Powers, of that state made a brief speech seconding Mr. Bryan. Judge Powers began by paying a tribute to Massachusetts, but the delegates, in disorder, demanded that he speak to the point. Judge Powers finished his speech regardless of the confusion that prevailed.

When Michigan was called, Edward Ryan, of that state, took the rostrum to second the nomination of Bryan.

THEATRE VOYONS

"The Pioneers," the leading picture at the Theatre Voyons today and tomorrow, is an especially timely one now that everyone is talking about Buffalo Bill's great Wild West show.

The Pioneers gives in story form an interesting adventure on the western plains in the days when the only means of transportation was prairie schooners and the danger of attack by Indians was great. A thrilling attack on the small party of travelers by the Indians and the murder and capture of all is one of the best scenes in the picture.

The comedies are exceptionally good and "Grandfather's Pills" introduces a comedian who is a born comedian. All through the picture he is the center of the laughing and the whole picture is a novelty. The songs are catchy and "A Moon, a Maid, a Man, a Bear" is a novelty song written by Charles K. Harris.

The present bill will be given tomorrow for the last time and on Monday morning a brand new program will be given.

SALE OF ROAD

BOSTON, July 10.—With reference to the reported sale of the Boston & Maine stock held by the New Haven road to John Billard of Meriden, Conn. Attorney General Malone said today: "If the report is true then so far as I can see the matter is ended."

When asked how the reported sale would affect the federal suit against the New Haven, U. S. District Attorney French declined to discuss the matter.

fairs of the Ministry-at-Large. Mr. Chandler is a director in the Ministry-at-Large, and still claims to be its treasurer, maintaining that the recent election was illegal. Mr. Cumock is a former director of the charity, having resigned with other members some months ago.

Judge McIntire of the probate court also entered a decree this month in a case affecting the Ministry-at-Large as applying to the Harriet A. Wilder fund, which has been at the disposal of the charity. This bequest, which amounts to $23,000, was left to be invested, the income to be expended for the poor of the city. There was a disagreement recently over the question of whether any part of this income could be devoted to the payment of salaries on the maintenance of the Free chapel in Middlesex street, the present board of management wishing to pay the salary of Rev. Mr. Wright from the fund, and the matter was submitted to the court for decision. The judge held that the money could not be so expended, but must be devoted to relieving the poor.

GIRL WAS KILLED

By Being Thrown From
Horse

LINCOLN, July 10.—Miss Elise Snow, 19 years old, of Newton and Lincoln, was killed yesterday forenoon by being thrown from a fractious horse she was riding.

Miss Snow was the niece of George A. Graves of Newton, and, like her uncle, was passionately fond of horses. Mr. Graves and his family are living this summer on Reservoir hill. Several days ago Miss Snow was anxious to try the animal. Yesterday morning she started out to ride the horse for the first time and was alone. When opposite the country home of James J. Storrow the horse became unmanageable and threw the young woman to the ground.

There were no witnesses to the accident, and just how Miss Snow, who was an expert horsewoman, lost control of her mount is unexplained. John Monahan, driver for an express company, passed a horse running away, and when he reached a point near the Storrow place he saw Miss Snow lying by the side of the road. Mr. Monahan carried the young woman to a cottage on the Storrow estate, but life was extinct. It is believed that she was instantly killed, as Monahan was on the scene a few minutes after she was thrown.

PRES. ROOSEVELT

Denies Statement Made
by Hobson

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 10.—Sec. Loeb was asked early yesterday if the president would have any comment to make on the speech of Congressman Hobson in the democratic national convention at Denver last night, in which reference was made to a recital regarding a war with Japan. Secretary Loeb said that he had no comment to make on the speech of Congressman Hobson in the Long Island woods. Mr. Loeb did not see the president until late today, on the latter's return from his outing.

The secretary was with the president for three hours this evening, and during his visit called the president's attention to Congressman Hobson's speech at Denver, in which Mr. Hobson said:

"I want to say to you that not so very long ago the president of the United States said in my presence, 'there exists the greatest probability of a war with Japan.'"

When Sec. Loeb returned to the executive offices tonight the following official statement was issued:

"In reference to the speech of Congressman Hobson, Sec. Loeb stated that the congressman must, of course, have been misquoted. The president not only never made such a remark, but never made any remark even remotely resembling it. All that the president has ever said is that if there was a sufficient navy there never would be any possibility of this country getting into a foreign war."

Sec. Loeb also said that the Scribner publishing firm had been given all the rights for the serial and book-form publications of whatever the president may write about his experiences on his proposed hunting trip in Africa.

Questioned as to the price to be paid by the firm for the president's written account of his trip, the secretary said he had no information to give out on that point.

The president and Mrs. Roosevelt returned from their picnic expedition in excellent spirits, having been favored with ideal weather, which made the day in the open air an unusually pleasant one.

BARN DESTROYED

FIRE AT THE OLD JOHN FISKE

PLACE.

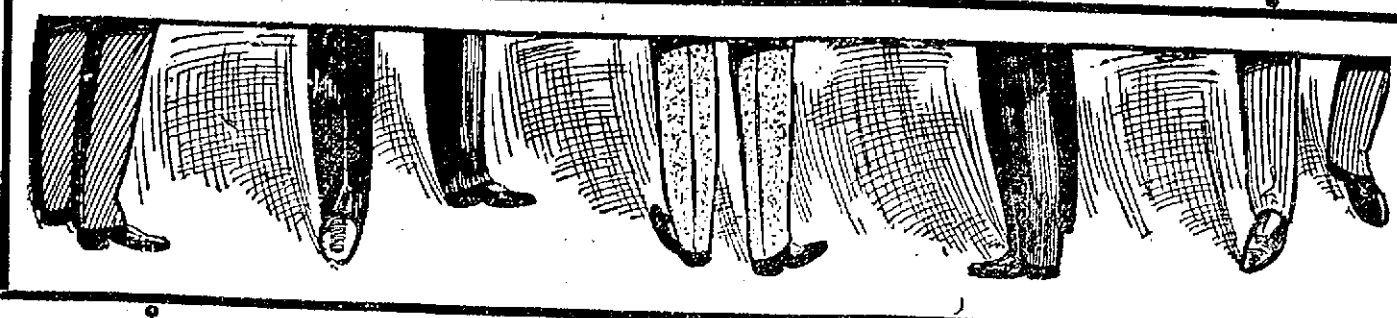

Fire destroyed the barn of Merion L. Fisk at what is known as the old John Fiske place Wednesday at midnight on the old Middlesex turnpike, about a mile and a half from Billerica Centre.

The flames spread to all parts of the building with lightning like rapidity and the building was reduced to ashes in short order. The Billerica fire department was summoned, but was unable to save the barn. The firemen, however, protected the house and surrounding buildings. The origin of the fire is unknown.

With the barn there were four cows, one horse, some tools and 14 tons of hay burned. The total loss is estimated at $2,000 with insurance on the barn and hay.

A Chain and Its Links

In telephoning there are three links in the chain that constitutes "good service": 1. The person calling. 2. The operator. 3. The person called.

No matter how much any one or any two of these links do to develop good service, the result is determined by the measure of co-operation of the third. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link.

If the person calling fails to consult the catalogue and gives a wrong number, the operator inevitably repeats the error. If the person called fails to answer promptly and the caller leaves the telephone, naturally "there is no one on the line."

Being human, the operator—the third link—is liable to err occasionally, but careful analysis demonstrates that she is not fairly chargeable with many of the difficulties frequently ascribed to her.

If Link No. 1 Gives the Right Number and Calls Distinctly, and Link No. 3 Answers Promptly, the Telephone Company will be responsible for its part of the chain. If no higher motive actuated it, the motive of economy, or self-interest, would suffice.

From any Pay Station you can speak to any one of 300,000 telephones in the territory of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Even if he is not a subscriber, you can arrange to have the person desired called to a Pay Station to talk to you.

TURNED COURSE JUMPED TRACK

Street Committee Given Ayer Electric Went
An Auto Ride Wrong on Switch

Charlie Morse, City Engineer Bowers and the committee on streets were treated to an automobile ride yesterday afternoon. They turned the proposed race course as mapped out by the Lowell Automobile Association. They were the guests of the club president, Mr. Helme, and Charlie Morse says the way they went up that boulevard and down the back road was a caution. Mr. Helme was on hand to offer suggestions as to what ought to be done for the course. It is proposed to smooth the boulevard and re-grade it for a distance of two miles, in preparation for the automobile race on Labor day. The automobile club will all of the course for its entire length. The gravel for the work will be taken from Carney's gravel bank.

From the boulevard the committee went to Middlesex street. If Charlie Morse can get the money he will pave Middlesex street from Tower's corner to Garret street with the same paving as has been laid in Central street. Helson block paving. City Engineer Bowers estimates the expense of the job at $25,000.

SUGGEST HIS SCHEME TO SOLVING THE

holiday closing question to the Merchants' association who were planning to give the clerks an outing some one day in August, which because of a hotel in the arrangements fell through. Inquiry among Mr. Wood's clerks yesterday demonstrated that the plan was entirely satisfactory to the small force on hand. One-half the number were out enjoying themselves, and it is quite needless to say that the arrangement was pleasing to them.

PLEASANT PARTY.

A very pleasant party was held at the home of Miss Katherine McManmon in Second avenue, Wednesday night. The party was made up of members of the Mt. Tom club. Miss McManmon has just returned from Europe and she entertained with an interesting story of her trip. Luncheon was served and Mrs. P. J. McManmon of New York, who is visiting with Miss Katherine McManmon, was elected an honorary member of the club.

CLERKS' OUTING

GEORGE H. WOOD EVOLVES A SATISFACTORY PLAN FOR HIS CLERKS.

George H. Wood, the well known Central street jeweler, has solved to his own and his clerks' satisfaction the summer holiday question. For the past three years he has given one-half the force of clerks a full Thursday holiday every other week. In other words, only one-half the full force of clerks work each Thursday during the holiday closing season. This makes it possible for each clerk in his employ to take a trip of a whole day to beach, country or mountains every two weeks, something that would not be possible were only a half holiday allowed. There is so little business Thursday morning during the summer months that it is possible to get along with half the force without neglecting patrons. Mr. Wood would

THE PLATFORM

"Shall the People Rule?" the Greatest of Issues

CONVENTION HALL, Denver, July 10.—The following resolutions, constituting substantially the entire platform of the democratic national convention, have been adopted by the committee on platform and was presented to the convention last night.

"SHALL THE PEOPLE RULE?"
We, the representatives of the democrats of the United States in national convention assembled, reaffirm our belief in and pledge our loyalty to the principles of the party.

We rejoice at the increasing signs of an awakening throughout the country. The various investigations have traced graft and political corruption to the representatives of predatory wealth, and laid bare the unscrupulous methods by which they have debauched elections and preyed upon a defenceless public through the subservient officials whom they have raised to place and power.

The conscience of the nation is now aroused to free the government from the grip of those who have made it a business asset of the favor-seeking corporations; it must become again a people's government, and be administered in all its departments according to the Jeffersonian maxim of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none."

"Shall the people rule?" is the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion.

INCREASE OF OFFICE HOLDERS.

Coincident with the enormous increase in expenditures is a like addition to the number of office holders. During the past year 22,784 were added, costing $16,156,000, and in the past six years of the republican administration the total number of new offices created, aside from many commissions, has been 99,319, entailing an additional expenditure of nearly $70,000,000, as against only 10,279 new offices created under the Cleveland and McKinley administrations, which involved an expenditure of only $5,000,000.

We denounce this great and growing increase in the number of office holders as not only unnecessary and wasteful, but also as clearly indicating a deliberate purpose on the part of the administration to keep the republican party in power at public expense by thus increasing the number of its retainers and dependents. Such procedure we declare to be no less dangerous and corrupt than the purchase of votes at the polls.

THE RIGHTS OF STATES.

Believing with Jefferson in the support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent administration for our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies and in "the preservation of the general government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and the safety abroad," we are opposed to the centralization implied in these suggestions, now frequently made, that the powers of the general government should be extended by judicial construction.

There is no twilight zone between the nation and the state in which exploiting interests can take refuge from both, and it is as necessary that the federal government shall exercise the powers delegated to it as it is that the state government shall use the authority reserved, but we insist that federal remedies for the regulation of interstate commerce and for the prevention of private monopoly shall be added to, not substituted for, state remedies.

BANKING.

The panic of 1907, coming without any legitimate excuse, when the republican party had for a decade been in complete control of the federal government, furnishes additional proof that it is either unwilling or incompetent to protect the interests of the general public. It has so linked the country to Wall street that the sins of the speculators are visited upon the whole people.

While refusing to rescue wealth producers from spoliation at the hands of the stock gamblers and speculators in farm products, it has deposited treasury funds, without interest and without competition, in favor of banks. It has used an emergency for which it is largely responsible to force through congress a bill changing the basis of bank currency and inviting market manipulation and has failed to give to the 15,000,000 depositors of the country protection in their savings.

We believe that in so far as the needs of commerce require an emergency currency, such currency should be issued, controlled by the federal government and loaned on adequate security to national and state banks. We pledge ourselves to legislation under which the national banks shall be required to establish a guarantee fund for the prompt payment of the depositors of any insolvent national bank under an equitable system which shall be available to all state banking institutions wishing to use it.

We favor a postal savings bank if the guaranteed bank cannot be secured and that it be constituted so as to keep the deposited money in the communities where it is established. But we condemn the policy of the republican party in providing postal savings banks under a plan of conduct by which those who aggregate the deposits of rival communities and re-deposit the same while under government charge in the banks of Wall street, thus pledging the circulating medium from the producing regions and unjustly favoring the speculative markets.

ECONOMY IN ADMINISTRATION.

The republican congress in session just ended had made appropriations amounting to $1,038,000,000, exceeding the total expenditures of the past fiscal year by $20,000,000, and leaving a deficit of more than $20,000,000 for the fiscal year. We denounce the needless waste of the people's money, which has resulted in this appalling increase, as a shameful violation of all prudent conditions of government, as no less than a crime against the millions of workingmen and women from whose earnings the great proportion of these colossal sums must be extracted through excessive tariff exactions and other indirect methods. We insist upon the strictest economy in every department compatible with frugal and efficient administration.

LABOR AND INJUNCTIONS.

The courts of justice are the bulwarks of our liberties, and we yield to none in our purpose to maintain their dignity.

It is the function of the courts to interpret the laws which the people create and if the laws appear to work economic, social or political injustice, it is our duty to change them.

"Experience has proven the necessity of a modification of the present law relating to injunctions, and we reiterate the pledge of our national platforms of 1896 and 1904 in favor of the measure which passed the United States senate in 1894, but which a republican congress has ever since refused to enact relating to injunctions in federal courts and providing for trial by jury in cases of indirect contempt."

Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with industrial disputes. We deem that the parties to all judicial proceedings should be treated with equal impartiality, and that injunctions should not be issued in any case in which industrial workers would not be less free than industrial companies would be to combine in restraint of trade.

"We favor the enactment of a law giving to the interstate commerce commission the power to inspect proposed railroad tariff rates or schedules before they shall take effect, and if they be found to be unreasonable, to initiate an adjustment thereof."

"We favor the enactment of a law prohibiting the powers of the interstate commerce commission as may be necessary to compel railroads to perform their duties as common carriers, and prevent discrimination and extortion."

"We favor the efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, to this end we recommend the valuation of railroads by the interstate commerce commission, such valuation to take into consideration physical value of the property, the original cost of reproduction and all elements of value that will render the valuation made fair and just."

"We favor such legislation as will prohibit the railroads from engaging in business which brings them into competition with their shippers, also legislation which will assure such reduction in transportation rates as conditions will permit, care being taken to avoid reductions that would compel a reduction of wages, prevent adequate service or do injustice to legitimate investments. We heartily approve the laws prohibiting the pass and the rebate, and we favor any further necessary legislation to restrain, control and prevent such abuses."

"We favor such legislation as will increase the power of the interstate commerce commission, giving it the initiative with reference to rates and transportation charges put into effect by the railroad companies, and permitting the interstate commerce commission on its own initiative to declare a rate illegal and as being more than should be charged for such service."

"We further declare that all agreements of traffic or other associations of railway agents affecting interstate rate service or classification, shall be unlawful unless filed with and approved by the interstate commerce commission."

"We favor the enactment of a law giving to the interstate commerce commission the power to inspect proposed railroad tariff rates or schedules before they shall take effect, and if they be found to be unreasonable, to initiate an adjustment thereof."

the Philippines, the government retains such as may be necessary for coaling stations and naval bases.

PHILIPPINES.

"We condemn the experiment in imperialism as an inexcusable blunder, which has involved us in an enormous expense, brought us weakness instead of strength, and laid our nation open to the charge of abandoning a fundamental doctrine of self-government. We favor an immediate declaration of independence of the Philippine islands as soon as stable government can be established, such independence to be guaranteed by us as we guarantee the independence of Cuba, until the neutralization of the islands can be secured by treaty with other powers. In recognizing the importance of the Philippines, the government retains such as may be necessary for coaling stations and naval bases.

WATERWAYS.

"We favor the co-ordination of the various services of the government connected with waterways, in one service; and we favor the creation of a fund ample for continuous work, which shall be conducted under the Continued to Page Nine.

BRYAN NOMINATED

FOR BETTER OR WORSE IT IS BRYAN. THE CONVENTION IN DENVER WORKED ITSELF INTO A GREAT PITCH OF EXCITEMENT. IT CHEERED AND CHEERED UNTIL FINALLY IT GOT ITSELF WORKED UP TO THE POINT AT WHICH IT SAW NOBODY BUT BRYAN, AND HE WAS NOMINATED BY ACCLAMATION.

BRYAN IS A GOOD MAN, AN ABLE MAN, AN HONEST MAN, BUT IT CANNOT BE GAINED THAT HIS RECORD OF TWO DEFEATS WILL OPERATE AGAINST HIM AT THE POLLS.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED IS A GOOD ONE. IT IS STRONG WHERE THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM IS WEAK. UPON THE TARIFF IT IS SOUND AND STATESMAN LIKE.

UPON THE CURRENCY THE REPUBLICAN BLUNDERS THAT CULMINATED IN THE PRESENT PANIC ARE EXPOSED, AND A WISE SCHEME IS LAID DOWN FOR PROTECTING THE DEPOSITORS OF THE COUNTRY AGAINST SUCH PANICS IN THE FUTURE. THE PLATFORM PLEDGES LEGISLATION UNDER WHICH THE NATIONAL BANKS WILL BE REQUIRED TO ESTABLISH A GUARANTEE FUND FOR THE PROMPT PAYMENT OF DEPOSITORS OF ANY INSOLVENT NATIONAL BANK UNDER AN EQUITABLE SYSTEM WHICH SHALL BE AVAILABLE TO ALL STATE BANKING INSTITUTIONS WISHING TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT.

ON THE INJUNCTION QUESTION THE PLANK ADOPTED IS MORE CONSERVATIVE THAN WAS EXPECTED. IT SIMPLY PLEADS FOR A MODIFICATION OF JUDICIAL PRACTICE THAT WILL NOT ABRIDGE THE CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS OF THOSE INVOLVED IN INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

UPON THE ARBITRARY POWER EXERCISED BY THE SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES THE PLATFORM IS PLAIN AND EMPHATIC, DEMANDING, AS IT DOES, THAT THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES SHALL AGAIN BECOME A DELIBERATIVE BODY CONTROLLED BY A MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE'S REPRESENTATIVES AND NOT BY THE SPEAKER, WHO, UNDER PRESENT CONDITIONS, ASSUMES A POWER THAT PREVENTS THE CONSIDERATION OF ANY QUESTION THAT DOES NOT MEET THE APPROVAL OF HIMSELF OR HIS PARTY.

POETIC PHILOSOPHY

IN THE SIX LITTLE POEMS PRINTED ON THE FOLDER GIVEN THE BOYS WHO WERE TENDERED FREE ADMISSION TO THE BUFFALO BILL SHOW ON WEDNESDAY THERE IS A WEALTH OF INSPIRING SENTIMENT. AFTER READING THESE POEMS, "THE BAREFOOT BOY," "OPPORTUNITY LOST," "WATCH YOURSELF GO BY," "SMILE," "SOLITUDE," AND "HOW TO GET ON" WE CAN READILY SEE THAT THE MYSTERIOUS GENTLEMAN WHO THUS SHOWED HIS KINDNESS TO THE BOYS, THE SHOW WAS BUT A SECONDARY CONSIDERATION. TO GET THE EDUCATIVE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE EMBRACED IN THOSE FEW ADMIRABLE LITTLE POEMS INSTILLED INTO THE MINDS OF THE BOYS WAS EVIDENTLY THE MAIN OBJECT. BOYS MIGHT READ BOOKS OF THEIR OWN SELECTION FOR TWENTY YEARS AND YET NOT GATHER HALF THE INSPIRATION OR HALF THE GUIDING PRINCIPLES CONTAINED IN THESE LITTLE POEMS. WE ADVISE OLD AND YOUNG TO READ THEM; WE ADVISE THE YOUNG TO COMMIT THEM TO MEMORY AND APPLY THEM IN THEIR LIVES.

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF "THE BAREFOOT BOY" AND "SOLITUDE," WHICH WE HAVE ALREADY PRINTED, THE POEMS APPEAR IN ANOTHER COLUMN.

BIG AUTO RACE

THE PEOPLE WHO WANT TO KNOW BEFORE HAND OF WHAT BENEFIT WILL THE AUTO RACE BE TO LOWELL, ARE ALTOGETHER TOO CAUTIOUS.

THE AUTO RACE WILL GIVE LOWELL AN ADVERTISEMENT THAT WILL BE WORTH A GREAT DEAL AND IT WOULD BE DISCOUNTING THE MATTER IN ADVANCE TO TALK NOW OF EXPLOITING THE BIG RACE FOR THE SPECIAL BENEFIT OF LOWELL. LET IT BE UNDERSTOOD THAT THE INTERESTS OF LOWELL IN THE PREMISES WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN BY THE COMMITTEE. IT WAS OUT OF REGARD FOR THE INTERESTS OF OUR CITY THAT THE RACE WAS FIRST PROPOSED.

INSPIRING POEMS

WHICH IT WILL PAY BOYS TO LEARN.

The poems printed on the folder given the boys who got free tickets to the Buffalo Bill show the other day are well worth remembering. With the exception of the "Barefoot Boy," from Whittier and "Laugh and the World Laughs With You" from Wilcox which have already been printed here they were as follows:

OPPORTUNITY LOST.

They do me wrong who say I come no more.
When once I kneel and fall to find you in,
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake and rise to fight and win.Will not for the precious chances Pass away.
Weep not for golden ages on the wane,
Each night I burn the records of the day.
At sunrise every soul is born again.Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanquished joys be blind and deaf and dumb,
My judgment seals the dead past with its dead,
But never bind a moment yet to come.Though deep in mire, wring not thy hands and weep,
I lend my arm to all who say "I can."
No shamefaced outcast ever sank so deep,
But yet might rise and be again a man.Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghost,
Dost reel from righteous retribu-tion's blow,
Then turn from blotted archives of the past,
To find thy future pages white as snow.Art thou a mourner, rouse thee from thy spell,
Art thou a sinner, sins may be forgiven,
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven.

WATCH YOURSELF GO BY.

Just stand aside and watch yourself
go by;
Think of yourself as "he" instead of "I."
Note closely, as in other men you note,
The bag-kneed trousers and the seedy coat,
Pick flaws; find fault; forget the man is you,
And strive to make your estimate ring true.
Confront yourself and look you in the eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.Interpret all your motives just as though,
You looked on one whose aims you did not know,
Let undisguised contempt surge through you when You see you shirk, O commonest of men!
Despise your cowardice; condemn whatever You note of falseness in you anywhere.
Defend not one defect that shames your eye—
Just stand aside and watch yourself go by.And, then, with eyes unveiled to what you loathe—
To sins that with sweet charity you'd clothe—
Back to your self-walled tenement you'll go,
With tolerance for all who dwell below.
The faults of others then will dwarf and shrink
Love's chain grew stronger by one mighty link—
When you, with "he," as substitute for "I,"
Have stood aside and watched yourself go by.

SMILE.

It is easy enough to be pleasant.
When life goes on with a song.
But the man worth while is the man who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.
For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with years,
But the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that comes through tears.

HOW TO GET ON.

Drive the nail right, boys,
Hill it on the head;
Strike with all your might, boys,
When the iron's red.
When you've work to do, boys,
Do it with a will;
They who reach the top, boys,
First must climb the hill.Standing at the foot, boys, (Gazing at the sky;
How can you get up, boys,
If you never try?Though you stumble off, boys,
Never be downcast;
Try and try again, boys,
You'll get on at last.If your hair is turning gray use

MORE AIRSHIPS COMING.

Minneapolis Journal: The sudden springing up of flying machines everywhere shows that the United States government did not begin its tests, set for later in the summer, a moment too soon. No matter what else happens in the next year, the flying machine is bound to play an enormous part. What Admiral Schley said of warships will be true of them, viz., that it is better to have four war vessels, and need only two, than to have two and need four.

GLAD THE PLATFORM SUITS.

Providence Tribune: With another candidate than the Nebraska one on such a platform as Mr. Bell has outlined the democrats could undoubtedly make a very effective appeal for popular support in the present temper of the American people. It is a platform which, for better or for worse, certainly does point forward. There is in it no harking back to dead or outgrown issues; it meets questions in which the thinking masses, and not merely the discontented, are keenly interested, and it makes promises that in form as well as in purpose have an acceptability in these days such as they could have had at no other period in the country's history.

The people of the United States, to a considerable extent, regardless of past political affiliations, are now ready for a good deal of radicalism. But they are not ready for Bryan.

AUTOMOBILISTS' INSOLENCE.

Providence Tribune: The other day a young man of this city whose mental condition, so far as known, does not give him the poor excuse of irresponsibility, having been arrested in a near-by city, for driving his motor car at a dangerous rate, in impatient heed of the grove to the police station at a speed in excess of the legal limit; and, on being released by payment of fine, was in a short time again arrested for repetition of the offence in the next town. Such insolent defiance of law and public sentiment, it may be hoped, is somewhat exceptional. But it is not uncharacteristic of a disposition and temper among a considerable number of local automobilists which, if not changed, must result in even more stringent laws and still more rigorous enforcement.

COST OF THE FOURTH.

Concord Patriot: The returns of casualties on the Fourth of July show that the celebration of the National holiday was conducted on a somewhat safer and surer basis this year, but yet the deaths and injuries show there is still room for improvement. Reports on the Fourth night show that some 12 persons lost their lives and 275 were injured, as against 184 deaths and 219 injuries in 1907. The highway mark was reached in 1907 when the total of killed and injured reached the appalling figure of 349, but the largest number of deaths was in 1902, 466, of which 396 were from lockjaw, following injury.

The fire loss was above the average for the past ten years, figuring in present reports, $35,435, and it is probable that this, as well as the number of deaths and casualties will be largely increased by later returns. It is an enormous bill in fire loss, death and suffering that the American people are called upon to pay after each national celebration, and for what? Just to satisfy the desire to make a noise.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

The Alaskan fur seal herd is being rapidly exterminated by pelagic sealing vessels, mainly Canadians," said Professor David Starr Jordan. "These sailing vessels follow the seal herd as it moves along our Pacific coast in the spring, and enters Bering Sea at the end of the close season in August when they are free under the ineffective regulations adopted by the Paris Tribunal to use the spear—more deadly than the shotgun—in killing, outside of the sixty-mile zone, the seals that frequent those waters in pursuit of food. As these seals are mainly females that have brought forth their young on the Pribilof Islands, the killing of the mother seals results in the starvation of the young upon the land, and the inevitable rapid extinction of the fur seal herd. Unless something is done for the protection of the seal herd within five years not only the Alaskan but also the Russian seal herds will be completely exterminated and deprive this country of a valuable source of revenue and the world of a great boon."

Did you ever have a girl graduate from the high school out of your family? If so you know what it is, but if you have not you have missed about all that is worth anything in life. There is nothing like it. The happiness, the satisfaction, the success that comes is worth many times the money and effort put forth. What is the best product of America? Secretary Taft insists it is rabbits; Carnegie stands for libraries; Mrs. Betty Green considers it ready money; while the Secretary of Agriculture Wilson crowns the American hen. They are all wrong. It's the girl graduate. As Daniel Webster remarked of Massachusetts: "Gentlemen, she needs no apology; there she stands." For years father has poured out his money in buying her frocks and laces and hats, in paying for her chemistry and music and drawing gum. Mother has spent years of her life in teaching her morality, truth, the catechism and the proper way to do up her hair. And they feel that she's worth all the trouble and care and money she has cost.

A descendant of Tama's band of Musquakie Indians is now the engineer of a fast passenger train on the Burlington road. He is here on the same ground where his ancestors lived for many generations. He crosses the same rivers, surveys the same landscapes, observes the same phenomena of wind, temperature, storms, etc., that were familiar to his ancestors of centuries ago. He wears more clothes than they wore, and he speaks a different language, and he is serving civilization instead of barbarism. Few if any of the passengers who ride behind him know that a Tama Indian sits in the cab of the engine as it speeds over the prairies.

REFUSES TO EAT

Newburyport Man is Nearly Dead

NEWBURYPORT, July 10.—Nearly dead from hunger and refusing to eat, Joseph L. Bisco, 40, who continually shouts that he is an anarchist, is perplexing the local police. If he lives he will be committed to an asylum.

Fighting and screaming in his cell, he had up to a late hour last night succeeded in foiling all attempts to give him nourishment.

He has not eaten for four days, and continually exclaims to the officers that he will not eat or drink unless served by an anarchist with the shibboleth. He groans incessantly, and refuses to utter anything except in denunciation of the government.

Bisco asked Frank Joyce, a foreman in one of the shoe shops here, for a position, and upon being refused threatened to kill him, declaring that he was an anarchist. While a stenographer pretended to sympathize with Bisco, Joyce located a policeman and had the repudiated workman placed under arrest.

He said that he had come from Lynn and had not eaten for the last four days in order to have care for the water come to this city. His famished condition and persistent groans indicated to the marshal the truth of his statement.

BATHERS BITTEN

BY STRANGE FISH ARE SERIOUSLY ILL

SALISBURY BEACH, N. H., July 10.—A new terror has come over the bathers at Salisbury Beach, and as a result there were scarcely a half-dozen people in the water here this morning.

Within the past few days several women, who have been in bathing here, have complained on coming out of the water that they have been bitten by some kind of a fish; just what kind they did not know.

They thought little of it at the time, other than the discomfort of the bite, but in some of the cases after a few hours the bites have become very painful, the flesh swelling badly and turning black.

Yesterday there were several victims of this strange fish; three of them, all women, report suffering considerably as a result. One of them, Gladys Butler of Brookline, Mass., a guest of the Seaside House, was obliged to consult a physician, Dr. Spalding being called.

Another, Miss Alice Hamilton of South Groveland, was suffering considerably yesterday, the flesh around the bite being swollen and inflamed and blood poisoning is feared.

Until it is determined just what is causing the trouble bathers promise to be quite shy about entering the water come to this city. His famished condi-

Shares of the Boston and Maine to the number of about 119,000 owned by corporations controlled by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, have been sold to John L. Billard of Meriden, Conn. The sale took place on June 30, and the transfers were effected on July 1.

THE LUSITANIA

Breaks All Records
Across the Atlantic

NEW YORK, July 10.—Breaking all previous records over the long distance course across the Atlantic of 2931 miles, the Lusitania arrived at Sandy Hook lightship today at 2.11 a. m., the time of passage being 4 days, 19 hours and 34 minutes. The Lusitania left Southampton on July 5 at 11.35 a. m., her average speed throughout the trip being 25.01 knots per hour which eclipses her previous average of 24.58. The days' runs were 21, 642, 625, 622, 611, 359 to Sandy Hook lightship. The Lusitania's record over the long course was 4 days, 20 hours and 15 minutes. The Lusitania left Liverpool July 4 and Queenstown the 5th after a period of overhauling in the docks. The new propellers of four blades each were shipped with the expectancy of improving the speed. These propellers proved their value, the Lusitania beating her own previous best record by 32 minutes.

The best day's run, on July 5, was 642 knots, beating the previous record two knots.

The speed average of 25.01 was .13 of a knot better than the record and the Lusitania becomes the only 25 knot steamer afloat.

Moderate weather prevailed during the trip with a slight mist and light winds.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Will Not Run for Second Term

"FAIRVIEW," Lincoln, Neb., July 10.—The following statement was made by W. J. Bryan when he received the announcement of his nomination:

"The honor is the highest official possession in the world and no one occupying it can afford to have his views upon public questions biased by personal ambition. Recognizing his responsibility to God and his obligation to his countrymen he should enter upon the discharge of his duties when he is not planning for a second term. I announce now, as I have on former occasions, that if elected I shall not be a candidate for re-election."

"This is a nomination as purely from the people as can be, and if elected my obligation will be as purely to the people. I appreciate the honor the more because it came not from one person or a few persons, but from the rank and file, acting freely and without compulsion."

So far had the dawn advanced that lights were scarcely needed when the bulletin flashing the news of the convention's action arrived. It galvanized into life the somnolent spirits and dropping lids of the party which had sat the night through in the Bryan sun parlor. Mr. Bryan sat beside his daughter Grace on a settee when for the third time in his life he heard himself called to lead his party in a battle of ballots for the control of the administration of the United States. A. R. Talbot, Mr. Bryan's former law partner, was the first to grasp his hand, and for a moment he was kept busy with both hands acknowledging the congratulations of the fifteen persons in the room. A loving cup filled with unfermented grape juice was brought out, each one present taking a sip. Aside from his immediate family, his former law partner, his secretary and his sister, Mrs. Allen, Mr. Bryan's companions during the night were newspaper correspondents. Accepting them as guests, he whiled away the hours with story after story illustrating his experiences in public life or some point which he desired to make.

A FIERCE RIOT

Colored People in a Bad
Mixup

BOSTON, July 10.—Struggling and, shouting and fighting, a frenzied mob of 500 colored people last night, about 10.30 o'clock, swayed and swarmed about Roxbury crossing.

A colored picnic was held yesterday afternoon and evening at Armory Square on Columbus avenue, and when the crowded cars filled with a mixed load of whites and blacks left the grove to come to the city, the disturbance started.

Charles Morris and wife, colored people, living on Buckingham street, South End, tendered the conductor a Canadian dime for fare. The conductor objected to the foreign coin, and claims to have been abused by the couple.

Officer F. V. Sullivan of Station 10 rushed to the car just as fists began to fly. Seeing Charles Morris, the officer attempted to arrest him and a wild struggle resulted, all the colored people trying to drag the prisoner away from the policeman.

Mrs. Morris shrieked and leaped at the officer, but was herself grabbed by two more policemen who were sent out of the nearby police station to quell the rising disturbance.

In the meantime several more cars swung into the crossing, all carrying colored people. Everyone piled off the cars and all over the street was shouting and fighting.

Sergeant O'Neil and a band of 15 officers plunged into the thick of the fray, and as the third car of colored folks reached the mixup the conductor yelled wildly to the officers to help him.

As the police seized Ben Colbert, Ben sprang off the car and shouted that he would never be taken alive. A wild fight resulted.

The colored people, alarmed at the determination of the police, sped in all directions as Colbert was carried bodily, screaming and kicking, into the station.

BOSTON, July 10.—The death of Mrs. Samuel McNeil early today brought the number of known deaths as a result of the Cambridge street fire yesterday to three.

A QUICK GAME

Umpire Lanigan Makes a Big Hit and Runs Game Fast—Scrappy Jim Connors Gets Another Fine

The Lynn team with several new faces in the lineup, though faces which have been seen in other teams of the New England league was the attraction at Washington park yesterday afternoon. Nate Pulsifer, an academy professor who played first base on Hamilton's Haverhill aggregation was playing in left field for Lynn, while Jim Connors, the ex-Fall River captain who raised such ructions in this city a week ago last Saturday was very much at second base. Connors was played on his walking papers by the Fall River management.

Lanigan of Providence made his first appearance here as an umpire. This gentleman demonstrated the truth of the old adage "good goods come in small packages." He is about the size of Andy Donohoe of Gorham street, but has a voice that could penetrate any part of a ten acre lot.

The game was called at 3.15 o'clock the batting order being as follows:

FIRST INNING.
Neither side scored in the first inning. Barton opened with a single and went to second on Clemens' sacrifice. Ort hit to Wolfe, the latter fumbled and the runner was safe at first. Barton going to third on the play. Ort and O'Brien tried a double steal and Barton was nailed at the plate. Bigbie fled out to Connors.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift opened with a hit. Zinsner followed with a foul fly to Lovell. Magie hit one too hot for Bigbie to hand and got on first. Bigbie threw back to first and Vandergrift went to third, but the latter died there for Connors and the latter threw to first for a double play.

SECOND INNING.
The home team scored one run in the second inning, while the visitors were unable to make a tally. Foster and Pulsifer sent grounders to Wolfe and were retired at first. Connors hit to Vandergrift and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Connors hit a grounder to Connors and was out at first. Duff followed with a fly to Ort. Wolfe singled by shortstop and then Lemieux planted the ball out to the center field fence for two bases.

THIRD INNING.
Nothing doing in the third. Lovell fled out to Magie and Moore got a base on balls. Barton followed with a single. Clemens hit to Wolfe, who threw to Vandergrift, getting Moore at third. Ort fanned the breezes.

Vandergrift hit to Connors, who made a one-hand stop and threw the runner out at first. Zinsner hit to Barton and was out at first. Magie singled to left field, but in attempting to steal second was nailed.

FOURTH INNING.
The Tigers scored another run in the fourth inning. Bigbie hit to Wolfe and was out at first. Foster got on first owing to Wolfe's fumble, but Pulsifer and Connors were out on strikes.

It was at the conclusion of the first half of the inning that Umpire Lanigan made a hit with the fans. Connors objected to the umpire's decision and started to walk towards Mr. Lanigan, but the latter was equal to the occasion and decided not to give Connors a strike.

FIFTH INNING.
Lynn scored two runs in the fifth inning. Barton opened with a single and went to second on Clemens' sacrifice. Ort hit to Wolfe, the latter fumbled and the runner was safe at first. Barton going to third on the play. Ort and O'Brien tried a double steal and Barton was nailed at the plate. Bigbie fled out to Connors.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift opened with a hit. Zinsner followed with a foul fly to Lovell. Magie hit one too hot for Bigbie to hand and got on first. Bigbie threw back to first and Vandergrift went to third, but the latter died there for Connors and the latter threw to first for a double play.

SIXTH INNING.
The home team scored one run in the sixth inning, while the visitors were unable to make a tally. Foster and Pulsifer sent grounders to Wolfe and were retired at first. Connors hit to Vandergrift and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Connors hit a grounder to Connors and was out at first. Duff followed with a fly to Ort. Wolfe singled by shortstop and then Lemieux planted the ball out to the center field fence for two bases.

SEVENTH INNING.
Nothing doing in the seventh. Lovell fled out to Magie and Moore got a base on balls. Barton followed with a single. Clemens hit to Wolfe, who threw to Vandergrift, getting Moore at third. Ort fanned the breezes.

Vandergrift hit to Connors, who made a one-hand stop and threw the runner out at first. Zinsner hit to Barton and was out at first. Magie singled to left field, but in attempting to steal second was nailed.

EIGHTH INNING.
The home team scored one run in the eighth inning, while the visitors were unable to make a tally. Foster and Pulsifer sent grounders to Wolfe and were retired at first. Connors hit to Vandergrift and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift opened with a hit. Zinsner followed with a foul fly to Lovell. Magie hit one too hot for Bigbie to hand and got on first. Bigbie threw back to first and Vandergrift went to third, but the latter died there for Connors and the latter threw to first for a double play.

NINTH INNING.
Nothing doing in the ninth. Lovell fled out to Magie and Moore got a base on balls. Barton followed with a single. Clemens hit to Wolfe, who threw to Vandergrift, getting Moore at third. Ort fanned the breezes.

Vandergrift hit to Connors, who made a one-hand stop and threw the runner out at first. Zinsner hit to Barton and was out at first. Magie singled to left field, but in attempting to steal second was nailed.

TENTH INNING.
The home team scored one run in the tenth inning, while the visitors were unable to make a tally. Foster and Pulsifer sent grounders to Wolfe and were retired at first. Connors hit to Vandergrift and was out at first.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift opened with a hit. Zinsner followed with a foul fly to Lovell. Magie hit one too hot for Bigbie to hand and got on first. Bigbie threw back to first and Vandergrift went to third, but the latter died there for Connors and the latter threw to first for a double play.

"Shut up!" before he had the first word fairly out. Hooley for Lanigan! He's the ump!

Jim Wallace, the old Haverhill outfielder, was to have reported to Lynn in this city yesterday, but he didn't show up. He probably stayed close to the L street bath yesterday.

CRICKET NEWS

BUNTINGS POSTPONE OPENING OF NEW CLUBHOUSE.

The United States Bunting Cricket and Athletic association met last night and decided that in order not to clash with the Mohairs, who are to have their field day on the 18th of July, the formal opening of the new clubhouse which was to have taken place on the 18th, be postponed until August 1. The board of management also decided to close the clubhouse on Sundays to everybody except members and out-of-town guests.

A large crowd of cricket followers from this city will go to Lawrence Saturday afternoon to witness the cricket match between the Merrimacks and Buntings of this city. The entire gate receipts go to the benefit of two Merrimack members who are in ill health, Messrs. Gill and Kenyon. Both of these gentlemen are well known, and have many friends in Lowell. The Buntings will be made up as follows: Budden, captain; Patrick, vice captain; Rowley, West, Gath, Bailey, McCormick, Thornton, Stockton, Burt, Galt, Walton, reserve, Smart, scorer, Moss, manager.

There will be a meeting of the Merrimack Valley Cricket league at the "Merrimack" club house, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

An effort will be made at this meeting to postpone the Andover-Bunting game, which is scheduled to be played at Andover on July 25th. Several of the Bunting players are anxious to play with the team at Andover, and they paid their respective dues to their former fellow employees. Peter Brogan's grave is in St. Patrick's cemetery and the scene there on Wednesday afternoon when those rough-and-ready fellows stood about the last resting place of an old comrade, trying in vain to suppress the unbidden tears, was as unusual as it was impressive.

BATTLES' BEQUEST
WENT TO THE BATTLES HOME, NOT BAPTIST HOME.

In the item that appeared in yesterday's paper relative to the will of Emily B. Battles, reference was made to the fact that the bequest was to be made to the "Battles home." It should have read "Battles home." The same mistake was made in reference to the Battles' home for old ladies.

GOOD BOY, JOHN!
LAWRENCE PHILANTHROPIST TOOK 200 CHILDREN TO SHOW.

LAWRENCE, July 10.—Through the generosity of Hon. John Green, the well-known undertaker, the orphans of the local asylum, numbering close on to 200, saw Buffalo Bill's circus performance yesterday afternoon. Not only did Mr. Green bring the children, but he furnished them two special cars from the protective to the show grounds.

A number of the sisters of the asylum, and Mrs. and Mrs. Green and Charles F. Green accompanied the merry party.

DROPPED DEAD
SOMERVILLE TRADER LOSTS HORSE HE BOUGHT.

A horse belonging to a horse trader named Daley of Somerville dropped dead yesterday afternoon while passing through North Billerica. It is alleged that the animal was purchased in this city a few days ago. The carcass was cared for by the employees of the Lowell Rendering Co.

The Mid-German Automobile Club is arranging an international touring contest to be held in Thuringia on September 3, 4, and 5.

Charles H. Harshorne, a member of the town council of Montclair, N. J., has been asked by residents of his district to try to have the council adopt an ordinance prohibiting automobilists from tooting horns when they are driving through the town at night. He says that the noise made by the horns is unnecessary and has expressed the opinion that if drivers of automobiles were made to pay fines for tooting their horns when there is no reason for it, there would be less noise to disturb the rest of the community.

Mr. Harshorne is the author of the ordinance which prohibits Montclair dogs from barking after dark.

Bolts are very often spoiled in driving them out from the parts in which they are located. If they do not start readily one is often tempted to use a hammer upon them, with the result that the ends of the threads are frequently buried over. A stick of hard wood or vulcanized fibre used between the hammer and the bolt end will prevent damage of this kind. When neither is available the nut may in some cases be run out flush with the end of the bolt or even a little beyond it and a blow carefully placed upon it so has not to hurt the threads will probably start the bolt.

The city fathers of Buffalo appear to have a most unreasonable desire to do everything possible to make life pleasant for automobilists, even though there are a couple of big automobile factories in that city. The latest move of the aldermen takes the form of a proposed ordinance to punish motorists for permitting smoke to issue from the exhaust pipes of their cars longer than a specified time.

The measure provides that no owner or occupant of a motor car using gasoline or any combination of gasoline shall permit gas or smoke to escape into the air for a longer period than 10 seconds. Violation of the measure would be punished by the fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100, or imprisonment of one day for each dollar of the fine imposed.

Whatever advantages are to be derived from the use of the manometer or gauge for determining the rate of water circulation in the cooling system, are set at naught if the gauge fails to register accurately. This may occur when the tubing by which it is connected to the water piping leaks or is badly kinked at some point, when the tubing is clogged or when there is some internal flaw in the device itself.

A simple test which may be employed when the correct indications for any given speeds are known is to apply a revolution counter to the end of one of the cam shafts, running the motor at various speeds and simultaneously observing the indications of the gauge. If the latter correspond to double the speed of the cam shafts they are sensibly correct. If not the device should be adjusted properly, where adjustment is possible, or else a new one made, providing it is not possible to effect the desired result by the easier method of shifting the old one.

SICK HORSES

THEIR CONDITION DISCUSSED BY BOARD OF HEALTH.

William C. Doherty presided at the regular meeting of the board of health held yesterday afternoon. A discussion relative to diseased horses belonging to the department was about all there was to the meeting. The board had seen the horses. One of them is suffering from a skin disease and the other from what is believed to be cancer. The board did not make any final action as to the disposition of the horses.

WILD WEST BOYS VIEW RESTING PLACE OF "PETE" BROGAN.

To the grave where their old comrade and friend, Peter Brogan, lay buried went yesterday afternoon, and they paid their respective dues to their former fellow employee. $10,000 DAMAGE

Caused by a Fire in Cambridge

BOSTON, July 10.—Alarms from three boxes in succession startled the Cambridge firemen early this morning, and sent the whole department in a hurry to the vicinity of 1st and Bent streets. The first alarm came from box 457 at 1.45, and was followed by another from box 3 within a few minutes, and this by one from box 412.

The firemen found a brisk blaze in the carriage factory of the Van Burskirk & Osborne company, 141 1st street. The building is a long structure back 160 feet on 1st street and running with 1.5 one story high. The firemen got to work quickly on the blazing building and on the surrounding buildings to prevent the fire from spreading.

There was a large stock of carriages finished and in course of building in the place, and the damage to them and the structure itself will amount to $10,000.

The fire was seen by watchmen in three of the large manufacturing establishments in the neighborhood, each of whom rang in an alarm from the nearest box, thus calling out the entire department.

The city fathers of Buffalo appear to have a most unreasonable desire to do everything possible to make life pleasant for automobilists, even though there are a couple of big automobile factories in that city. The latest move of the aldermen takes the form of a proposed ordinance to punish motorists for permitting smoke to issue from the exhaust pipes of their cars longer than a specified time.

RIGHTS OF STATES.

Believing with Jefferson, in the support of the state governments in all their rights as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-republican tendencies and in the preservation of the government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of our peace at home and the safety abroad, we are opposed to the centralization implied in these suggestions, now frequently made, that the powers of the general government should be extended by judicial construction. We insist that federal remedies for the regulation of interstate commerce and for the prevention of private monopoly shall be added to, not substituted for state remedies.

ARBITRARY POWER OF SPEAKER.

The hour of representatives was designated by the fathers of the constitution to be the popular branch of our government responsive to the public will.

The house of representatives as controlled in recent years by the republican party has ceased to be a deliberative and executive body, responsive to the will of a majority of its members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations and powers of legislation.

We demand that the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives and not by the speaker, and we pledge ourselves to adopt such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation.

TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONE.

We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law to regulate the rates and services of telegraph and telephone companies engaged in the transmission of message between the states, under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

THE MISUSE OF PATRONAGE.

We condemn as a violation of spirit of our institutions the action of the present chief executive in using the patronage of his high office to secure the nomination of one of his cabinet officers.

ers. The right of the people to freely select their officials is inalienable and cannot be delegated.

INCOME TAX.

We favor an income tax as part of our revenue system, and we urge the submission of a constitutional amendment specifically authorizing congress to levy and collect a tax upon individual and corporate incomes to the end that wealth may bear its proportionate share of the burdens of the federal government.

ASIATIC IMMIGRATION.

We favor full protection, by both national and state governments within their respective spheres, of all foreigners residing in the United States under treaty, but we are opposed to the admission of Asiatic immigrants who cannot be assimilated with our population, or whose presence among us would raise a race issue and involve us in diplomatic controversies with Oriental powers.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The laws pertaining to the civil service should be honestly and rigidly enforced to the end that merit and ability shall be the standard of appointment and promotion rather than services rendered to a political party.

THE NAVY.

The constitutional provision that a navy shall be provided and maintained means an adequate navy, and we believe that the interests of this country would be best served by having a navy sufficient to defend the coasts of this country, and protect American citizens wherever their rights may be in jeopardy.

PUBLICITY OF CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

We demand federal legislation forever terminating the partnership which has existed between corporations of the country and the republican party under the expressed or implied agreement that in return for the contribution of great sums of money to the purchase of elections, they should be allowed to continue substantially uncontrolled in their efforts to encroach upon the rights of the people.

In order that this practice shall be stopped for all time, we demand the passage of a statute punishing with imprisonment any officer of a corporation who shall either contribute on behalf of, or consent to the contribution by a corporation, of any money or thing of value to be used in furthering the election of a president or vice president of the United States, or of any member of congress thereof.

We denounce the action of the republican party having complete control of the federal government, for its failure to pass the bill, introduced in the last congress, to compel the publication of the names of contributors and the amounts contributed toward congressional funds, and point to the evidence of their insincerity, when they sought by an absolutely irrelevant and impossible amendment to defeat the passage of the bill.

We pledge the democratic party to the enactment of a law preventing any corporation contributing to a campaign fund and any individual from contributing an amount above a reasonable minimum, and providing for the publication before election of all such contributions. Attention is called to the refusal of the republicans to declare against such practices.

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. We regard this reform as the gateway to other national reforms.

PAN-AMERICAN RELATIONS.

The democratic party recognizes the importance and advantages of developing closer ties of Pan-American friendship and commerce between the United States and other nations of Latin-America and favors the taking of such steps.

GRAZING LANDS.

The establishment of rules and regulations, in relation to grazing upon the public lands outside of forest or other reservations, until the same shall eventually be disposed of, should be in the people of the states respectively in which such lands may be situated.

ARIZONA AND NEW MEXICO.

The national democratic party has for the last sixteen years labored for the admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states of the federal union and recognizing that each possesses every qualification to successfully maintain separate state government, we favor the immediate accession of these territories as separate states.

OKLAHOMA.

We welcome Oklahoma to the sisterhood of states and heartily congratulate her on the auspicious beginning of a great career.

late her on the auspicious beginning of a great career.

ALASKA AND PORTO RICO.

We demand for the people of Alaska and Porto Rico the full enjoyment of the rights and privileges of a territorial form of government. The officials appointed to administer the government of all our territories and the District of Columbia should be thoroughly qualified by previous bona fide residence.

HAWAII.

We favor the application of principles of the land laws of the United States to our newly acquired territory, Hawaii, to the end that the public lands of that territory may be held and utilized for the benefit of bona fide homesteaders.

MERCHANT MARINE.

We believe in the upholding of the American merchant marine without new or additional burdens upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Desiring the prevention of war wherever possible, we believe that our nation should announce its determination not to use our navy for the collection of private debts, and its willingness to enter into agreements with other nations, providing for the investigation by an impartial international tribunal, before any declaration of war or commencement of hostilities of every dispute which defies diplomatic settlement.

HEALTH BUREAU.

We advocate the organization of all existing national public health agencies into a national bureau of public health, with such powers over sanitary conditions as do not interfere with the power of the states controlling health controlling agencies.

PANAMA CANAL.

We believe the Panama canal will prove of great value to our country and favor its speedy completion.

PROTECTION OF AMERICAN CITIZENS.

We pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and lawful protection of our citizens at home and abroad. We demand that all over the world a duly authorized passport issued by the government of the United States to an American citizen shall be proof of the fact that he is an American citizen and shall entitle him to the treatment due him as such.

NATURAL RESOURCES.

We repeat the demand for international development and for the conservation of our natural resources, contained in previous platforms; the enforcement of which Mr. Roosevelt has vainly sought from a reluctant party, and to that end, we insist upon the preservation, protection and replacement of needed forests. The preservation of the public domain for home seekers, the protection of the natural resources in timber, coal, iron and oil against monopolistic control, the development of our waterways for navigation and every other useful purpose, and, to such end, we urge the exercise of all powers, national, state and municipal, both separately and in co-operation. We insist upon a policy of administration of our forest reserve which shall relieve it of the abuses which have arisen thereunder, and which shall, as far as practicable, conform to the police regulations of the several states where they are located, and which shall furnish a system of timber sales available as well to the private citizens as to the larger manufacturer and consumer.

AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL EDUCATION.

The democratic party favors the extension of agricultural, mechanical and industrial education. We therefore favor the establishment of district agricultural experiment stations, the secondary agricultural and mechanical colleges in the several states.

POST ROADS.

We favor federal aid to state and local authorities in the construction and maintenance of post roads.

FOREIGN PATENTS.

We believe that where an American citizen holding a patent in a foreign country is compelled to manufacture under his patent within a certain time, similar restrictions should be applied in this country to the citizens or subjects of such a country.

PENSIONS.

We favor a generous pension policy, both as a matter of justice to the surviving veterans and their dependents and because it tends to relieve the country of the necessity of maintaining a large standing army.

TRUSTS.

A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. We therefore favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal law against guilty trust magnates and officials and demand the enactment of such additional legislation as may be necessary to make it impossible for a private monopoly to exist in the United States. Among the additional remedies we specify three:

First—A law preventing a duplication of directors among competing corporations.

Second—A license system which will, without abridging the right of each state to create corporations or its right to regulate as it will foreign corporations doing business within its limits, make it necessary for a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce to take out a federal license before it shall be permitted to control as much as twenty-five per cent. of the product in which it deals, the license to protect the public from watered stock and to prohibit the control by such corporation of more than fifty per cent. of the total amount of any product consumed in the United States.

Third—A law compelling such licensed corporations to sell to all purchasers in all parts of the country on the same terms, after making due allowance for cost and transportation.

CONCLUSION.

The democratic party stands for democracy; the republican has drawn to itself all that is aristocratic and plutocratic.

The democratic party is the champion of civil rights and opportunities to all; the republican party is the party of privilege and private monopoly. The democratic party listens to the voice of the whole people and gauges progress by the prosperity and advancement of the average man; the republican party is subservient to the comparatively few who are the beneficiaries of governmental favoritism. We invite the cooperation of all, regardless of previous political affiliations or past differences, who desire to preserve a government of the people, by the people and for the people, who favor such an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that every citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society.

MARRIED WOMEN

To be Barred From Teaching School

NEW YORK, July 10.—The board of education at its meeting yesterday decided to send a recommendation to the charter revision commission that married women teachers be barred from the public schools.

A part of the recommendation was that no married woman be engaged as teacher unless her husband was physically or mentally crippled; the other part was that if any woman teacher or principal became married she thereby loses her job in the school.

"The reasons for this are obvious," the report declared.

The committee in charge of revising salaries submitted its report, which was adopted. The increased pay means $3,000, 000 more a year. A woman teacher will start on $900 a year instead of $90. She will get an annual increase of $10 instead of $10.

The salary of the new teachers was not increased.

Miss Mary Williams, the head cook of the public school culinary department, is to get $250 a year. One of the members of the board thought that she ought to get $200, which was a discount for "Dows."

was the salary fixed for the directors of music, physical culture and other branches. A vote was taken on it and the cook teacher was left at $250.

Another petition was received from East Side residents asking for the transfer of Miss Julia Richmond, district superintendent, from districts 2 and 3 to some other part of the city.

A special committee on trade schools reported in favor of starting vacation schools or workshops in Manhattan and Brooklyn. It was recommended that public school 15 in Brooklyn be used as a workshop for girls and that public school 114 in Manhattan be converted into a workshop for boys. The report suggested that all boys more than 12 years old be required to make the workshop a part of their study.

One of the members asked if it was intended to compel a boy to take a course in the workshop whether he wanted to or not and without reference to the desires of the parents.

"That's just it," responded Mr. Couderc to the committee. "The course is compulsory, because it is a good thing for a boy whether his father is a semi-milliner or a mechanic. There is a public sentiment in favor of this industrial training and if you don't move with it it will move without you."

The report was adopted.

Henry W. Jameson was elected district superintendent for six years, at $500 a year.

An effort was made to have District Superintendent John L. Hunt succeed himself, but it didn't go. The election was adjourned to October.

Not a nine days' wonder, but a continuing success. Dows' diarrhoea and cholera soup for all internal pains. Ask thought that she ought to get $200, which was a discount for "Dows."

THE AMERICANS

Made Fine Showing in Rifle Contests

BISLEY, England, July 10.—The Americans made a splendid start this morning in the most important match of the Olympic rifle contests, the inter-team competition.

At the 200 yard range the Americans made the high score with 428. Sweden was second with 423, followed by other teams with scores as follows:

England 419, Canada 412, France 374, Norway 376, Greece 354, Denmark 375.

STAR THEATRE

Mr. Smith, eccentric comedian has been pleasing large audiences this week. His comedy is funny, his songs and parodies, pleasing and he gets plenty of applause. Babe Curry has made quite a hit singing "When the Springtime Brings the Roses, Jessie Dear," and will sing this song for the remainder of the week. J. C. Hill is frequently recalled for encores while singing "It's Great to Be a Soldier Man." These two singers are adding to their laurels every day by their excellent singing. The new animated pictures are particularly interesting and the comedy numbers are great laugh getters. The management is very much pleased with the large attendance of ladies at every performance and feels that its efforts to especially please them are being appreciated. On one night this week when the house was crowded the ladies numbered over three-fourths of the entire house. The children of St. Peter's orphanage attended one afternoon this week and it is safe to say there was not a happier lot of children anywhere. It was a rare treat for them.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The regular meeting of Court Gen. Shields, F. of A., was held last night at Foresters hall, Chief Ranger Patrick Carty presiding. The following were appointed auditors for the ensuing term: Dennis F. Halisey, Albert McDougal and Michael Moran.

A committee was appointed to organize a ball team to represent the court at the Foresters gala day, Aug. 15.

Reliance lodge, O. S. B., met in regular session last night, Lady Kate J. Tilton, the acting commander, presiding in the absence of the commander-elect. Considerable routine business was transacted during the evening and one candidate was admitted to membership. The officers for the ensuing term were installed by the legate, Lady Elvira E. Gladwin and suite of grand officers. Meeting closed at 10:20.

The regular meeting of Spindle City circle was held last night and considerable business was transacted. There were visitors present from out-of-town and their remarks proved interesting to the members. A social hour was enjoyed at the conclusion of the business session.

Chairman M. J. Markham has appointed the following members to have charge of the clam bake at the Elks eating, Aug. 8: John W. Billingsley, chairman; W. E. Grady, John F. Kinella, C. E. Collins, James Smith, Thos. J. McDermott, John J. Parker, Andrew J. Donohoe, William H. Donovan, M. W. Conning, Dr. H. B. Plunkett, P. W. Farrell, T. F. Donohoe, James T. Doyle, Jeremiah F. BAND CONCERT

On No. Common Drew Large Crowd

The municipal concert on the North Common by the Lowell Cadet band, John J. Giblin, leader, last evening was a big success, some 300 people enjoying the music and the cool evening. Every number was well received and in some cases encores were demanded. When the assignment of band concerts was made every other band but the Cadet received two concerts while the Cadet got only one. The members declined to accept one if they couldn't have two and made a protest to Councilman George B. McKiddier, who interviewed Mayor Farnham in relation to the matter. The latter was afraid that there would not be money enough for another concert, but Councilman McKiddier suggested that as $5 was saved on the Fourth of July salutes that amount could be transferred to the incidental fund, thus making a sufficient amount in the incidental fund to provide for the concert. This was done and the first program of last evening. Last night's program was started at 8 o'clock and lasted two hours. The next concert will be Sunday, July 12 at Vernon park, on Centralville hill. Last night's program was as follows:

FINDS IN FAVOR OF THE DEFENDANT.

Judge Hadley has found for the defendant in the case of Ann Ray against Delia E. McKinnon, a suit to recover wages claimed to be due for services.

We needed the money and spot cash did the trick. This is to certify that J. E. Burbank of the Bonquet Millinery store, 115 Merrimack street, has purchased from M. Steiner & Sons of New York 160 dozen of new summer, untrimmed hats at about one-fourth the regular wholesale price, and will put them on sale Thursday morning at the ridiculously low prices of 25c, 35c, 45c. This is by far the best bargain ever offered by any millinery store in New England.

MILLS CURTAIL

Fall River Mills Decide to Act

FALL RIVER, July 10.—There will be a large curtailment next week on account of the light call for goods. A number of the large corporations will shut down, and if present conditions continue, the number of mills stopped for the entire week will be large.

There are few orders in brokers' hands, but without exception they are at prices below recent quotations, and agents refuse to even consider them. The sales will be very small and the mills are accumulating stocks, and this will force curtailment from week to week.

Informal conferences have been held recently, when curtailment plans have been discussed, but it will not be possible to get any concerted agreement; each treasurer will follow his own ideas as to running, but it is probable that during the coming six weeks every mill in the city will be stopped for a longer or shorter period.

Deafness is a serious disease for it always is a menace to life. Many a man has lost his life by railroad or other accident because of failure to hear warning signals.

In business life, the man or woman who is deaf labors under a severe handicap. No employer wants a deaf employe for he is fearful of accidents, losses, etc., because of the possible misunderstanding of orders by the deaf man. The deaf man is as truly a cripple as though he lost his right hand.

Mr. Rose's Testimony.

Mr. Jo. Rose, 108 Robinson St., Providence, R. I.

"I have no words strong enough to tell of the great skill shown by the specialists of Boston Clinic in my case, but I feel that it is my duty to let the public know about their skill. Those great doctors cured me of a frightful disease in which my sufferings were intense after all other doctors either gave me up as incurable or tried and did nothing for me."

"I am afraid to tell how many doctors I have seen for people might not believe me. Neither do I care to tell how many hundreds of dollars I have spent uselessly. All I care to say now, is that today I am thoroughly cured and I owe my health and strength to the great specialists of Boston Clinic."

THE INGLORIOUS FIFTH. OR, THE DAY AFTER.

BY ROBERT DONNELLY.
COPYRIGHT 1908 BY C. N. LUTHE.

'Tis past—the Glorious Fourth! The natal day
Of our beloved nation is no more—
That is, until the next one. We observed
The same according to the proper Hoyle
Of patriotism as it is construed
By Tom and Dick and Harry—all of us.

Far back in immemorial ages past,
About two generations gone, our sires,
When young and innocent, with best designs,
Conceived that properly to celebrate
The day and honor memories of those Who flung defiance in the face of George
The Third and bravely followed George the First
To splendid triumph was—to make a Noise!

Of ball and powder, slugs, tenpenny nails
And any ancient thing, just so it made
A din prodigious and also hit

Some one or something, if it didn't first Explode and turn the tables on the one
Who held it. Oh, we proved a genuine genius
For schemes to make the Fourth a day of doom!

Result—we have the Most Inglorious Fifth,
Not mentioned in the list of anniversaries,
Yet with us all the same, inevitable.
A day of woes and weepings, pains and pangs,
Of idle, idle tears, of vain regrets,
Of wishing that we hadn't, of declaring
We'll never do the same again—no, never!

This is the day we gather up our dead,
The day we count the missing and the maimed,
The day the parts of our anatomy
We seek to reassemble, finding here

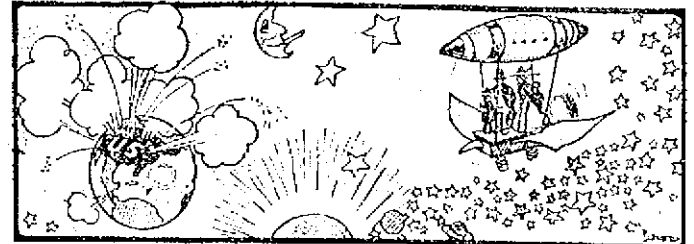

A finger, here a toe and there an ear,
And maybe mixing individuals
Through lack of methods to identify
Our severed segments. Oh, 'tis truly grand,

The Glorious Fourth, but not so grand to find
Next day we're not what we're cracked up to be!

Inglorious Fifth! Throughout the land today
Columbia mourns unnecessary dead
Who might be saved if other means were found
Of celebrating, might be saved to fall
In honorable battle or survive
To wed and rear Rooseveltian broods of six
And thus be useful in their country's need
Of population.

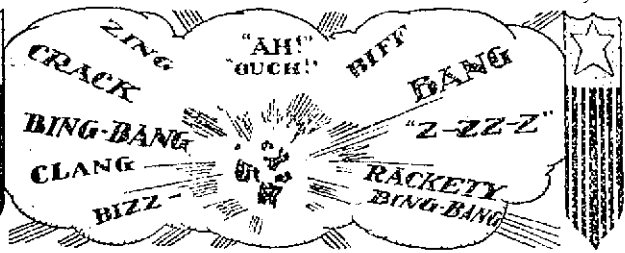

Has it ne'er occurred
To you, O Gentle Reader, that in days

Far down the future, when Americans
Shall have acquired a modicum of sense,
They will look back—our wiser progeny—
And say in pity and in scorn: "Alas,
Our fathers in the year nineteen and eight
And thereabouts were such unthinking chumps
They thought it fun to shoot each other up,
To burst each other's tympani, to maim
And scar and mutilate the innocent
Bystander, men and boys—and women too?
Now we are wiser; we are up to snuff;
We know what's what in celebrating Fourth's.
We simply oil our trusty airships' joints
And hie us to the heights some silences
Betwixt the Milky Way and Morning Star
And stay there till the dawning of the Fifth.
We take our children with us so that they Likewise may have a chance to grow mature."

Alas, it might have been—it might have been—
That we with all our boasted wisdom, we
With all our wealth, could have devised a fitter
And saner way of celebrating thee,
O Glorious Fourth! It might have been—but wasn't.

And so we bent our avid energies
Toward manufacturing on a mammoth scale
The annual Big Noise throughout the land.
We studied for the biggest cannon's boom,
Created powder with the loudest cough
And deepest detonation, searched the world
For crackers calculated to supply
The liveliest crackle, and ourselves made poor
To but enrich the childlike Chinese race,
From which we buy the crackers; and we took
The didn't-know-'twas-loaded gun and pistol

OF SUFFICIENT INTEREST TO PICTURE AND DESCRIBE

MCKINLEY'S COTTAGE AT THE LONDON EXHIBITION.

The picture shows the cottage in which the Irish ancestors of the late President McKinley lived. It has been taken to London and set up in the Irish village at the fair. It will be an interesting feature for Americans.

A CATHEDRAL MADE OF MATCHES.

CHAMPION LADY WRESTLER.
The Princess Danilo of Montenegro, wife of the future ruler of that country, is a wrestler of no mean ability. She is also a brilliant pianist and a successful caricaturist.

FAMOUS AMERICAN PLAYWRIGHT.
Bronson Howard, the dean of American dramatists, was born in Detroit in 1842. His first successful play was

"Saragoza" played first in New York in 1870. Mr. Howard has been very successful in his profession.

A PICTURESQUE ENGLISH VILLAGE.

The picture shows a corner in the village of Cockington, near Torquay, Devonshire, England. This is the beauty spot of the kingdom and attracts crowds of visitors in the summer season. The cottages are built of red cob and are thatched, and the entire village is embowered in greenery.

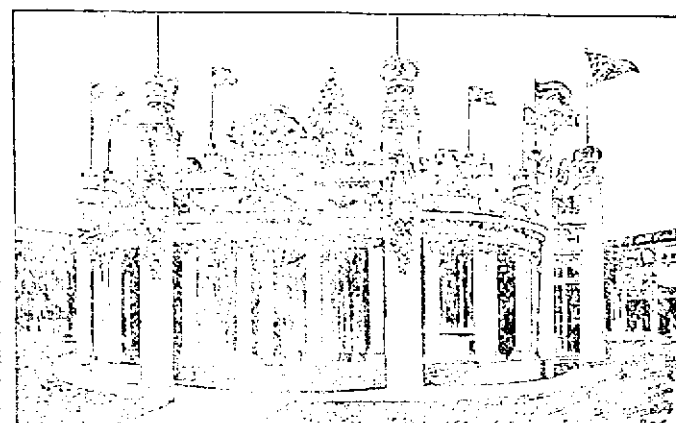

A VALUABLE CARPET.

There has been placed in the sanctuary of the high altar at Westminster a large carpet from Smyrna which on account of its size—thirty-two feet long by twelve feet wide—had to be specially made in Turkey, the work taking six months to complete.

SOLDIERS' HEADGEAR.

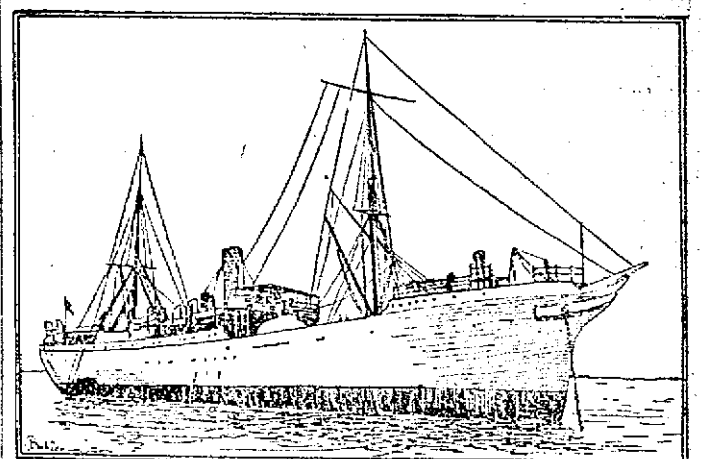

The British soldier carries a helmet which weighs nearly one and one-quarter pounds. The helmet of the Prussian footman weighs only a trifling over fourteen ounces, while the Italian is still lighter off with a kepi which turns the scales at between eleven and twelve ounces.

ROYAL PAVILION AT FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION.

UNITED STATES NAVY SUPPLY SHIP GLACIER.

The vessel shown in the picture has been called "the floating pantry of the Horn," serving as cold storage department for provisions and fuel. The Glacier played a very important part in the recent long voyage dainties.

THE BIRTHPLACE OF WILLIAM H. TAFT.

The old fashioned house shown herewith was the birthplace of Secretary of War Taft. It is in Cincinnati, and it was regarded as a very fine residence when it was built. Even now it is sufficient to indicate that the secretary's childhood was passed in comfort and that he could have known nothing of the early poverty of so many great men.
